

PLATFORM FIGHT HALTS CONVENTION

PRESIDENT OF FRANCE FORCED OUT OF OFFICE

M. Millerand Resigns, Unable to Stem Attack of the Parliamentary Majority

MINISTRY WILL RULE

Versailles Congress Will Elect Successor to Millerand on Friday

Paris, June 11.—President Millerand resigned today. The new parliamentary majority of the left has accomplished its announced object of forcing M. Millerand from the Elysee palace. The resignation was read before both houses of parliament this afternoon. Until the election of a new chief executive by a joint meeting of the chamber and senate Friday, the executive powers will be wielded by the acting ministry under M. Francois-Marsal.

M. Millerand is the sixth of the eleven presidents of the Republic to leave office by resigning, but in no other case has the events bringing this about been so brusque. Edouard Herriot, head of the new majority of the left, emerging from the recent parliamentary election, refused to accept M. Millerand's offer of the premiership. The new majority demanded that the President resign as he was not in sympathy with its aims.

When the Versailles Congress Friday elects M. Millerand's successor, the Francois-Marsal ministry will resign.

TRIAL DATE OF SLAYERS FIXED FOR AUGUST 4

States Attorney Wins First Skirmish for Fixing of an Early Trial Date

Chicago, June 11.—States Attorney Crowe today won his first skirmish for an early trial of Nathan Leopold Jr. and Richard Loeb, millionaires' sons and confessed kidnapers and slayers of Robert Franks, school boy son of another millionaire, when the trial was set for August 4.

Both boys pleaded not guilty when arraigned before Chief Justice Caverly of the criminal court.

Mr. Crowe immediately demanded a speedy trial, and asked that July 15 be fixed as the trial date. Attorneys Clarence Darrow and Benjamin Bacharach of the defense immediately objected and Judge Caverly then fixed July 21 as a date to dispose of preliminary motions and set the trial for August 4.

PLEADS GUILTY IN BOOZE CASE

Sentence Is Deferred Until End of Term

Philip Miller, charged with violating the liquor laws, entered a plea of guilty in district court before Judge Jansons yesterday. Miller asserted in court yesterday that he did not know of the presence of liquor found at his place.

The sentence of Miller, and others, who have entered pleas of guilty, will be made at the last of the term, the court decided.

Recess was taken until 9:30 tomorrow morning after a jury got the case against W. F. Nichols, an aged man, charged with larceny. The case went to the jury about 11 a. m. The jury in the Nichols case returned a verdict of guilty.

KANSAS GIRL ESSAY WINNER

Omaha, Nebraska, June 11.—Miss Lucille Lancaster of Junction City, Kansas, won one of the three National Prizes in the Citizens Military Training Camp Prize Essay Contest, the subject of which was "Why a Young Man I Know Should Attend a Citizens Military Training Camp." Kansas is one of the States of the Seventh Corps Area including the states of Arkansas, Missouri, Minnesota, Nebraska, Iowa, South Dakota and North Dakota.

Miss Lancaster won a free trip to Washington, D. C., accompanied by a chaperon, all her expenses paid, and in addition other valuable prizes, which will be presented by Mrs. Callie Coolidge.

Death Rides With Twilight Express

Over a 20-foot embankment west of the "Twilight Express" at Worcester, Mass., while running from Boston to New York, as a result of a derailment. Three men died and others were hurt.

GERMANS TAKE SAAR PROTEST UP TO LEAGUE

Declare Presence of French Troops Will Affect 15-Year Plebiscite

IS BEFORE THE COUNCIL

Geneva, June 11.—Germany has protested to the League of Nations against the presence of French troops in the Saar valley, the German coal region, in which France was given by the treaty of Versailles the exclusive right of coal mine exploitation for 15 years.

Sir Eric Drummond, general secretary of the League, laid the German note embodying this protest before the council of the League at the opening session of that body today.

Germany complains that the continued presence of French forces will exercise an unfortunate moral influence upon the plebiscite which will decide the future of the Saar valley at the end of the 15-year period.

Germany requests the French occupation be brought to an end and that a local gendarmerie be constituted to take the place of the French forces in police duty. The note asks the council to fix at once the date for the withdrawal of the French troops. The council postponed consideration of the note until the August session.

NEW CANCER CURE IS TOLD

Physician at Chicago Declares Cures Affected

Chicago, June 11.—Announcement that a new chemical formula had cured 40 percent out of 300 cases of cancer was made today by Dr. C. Everett Fields of the Radium Institute of New York before the Association for the Study and Cure of Cancer, meeting with the American Medical Association convention.

The formula, Dr. Fields said, was based on the theory that cancer is a disease. The formula, he said, had been worked out because the X-ray and radium and other previously known forms of treatment were inadequate.

N. D. TOURIST MEETS DEATH

Missoula, Mont., June 11.—Melvin Thompson, six, of Devils Lake, N. D., met instant death and his mother, Mrs. Albert Thompson, suffered a fractured leg when they were struck by an automobile near Dr. Dr. Thompson.

THREE STORES ARE ROBBED

Three stores were burglarized during last night in Mandan. At the O. A. Convert grocery, a supply of goods was taken; the Fitzsimmons grocery company till yielded $2, and a cash register which was badly damaged, while at the Army and Navy store a large quantity of goods was taken. Boys are believed responsible.

Chimes from Ohio State University at Columbus will feature the regular program from its broadcasting station, WEAQ.

BABIES DAY TO FEATURE GALA TIME IN CITY

Many Bits of Entertainment Planned For Market Day To Be Held Here June 21

FIRST MARKET DAY

Launches Get-Together Movement of Local Merchants For Period of Many Months

Final arrangements for the first Market Day of the season have been completed by the committee working with Al Sorenson. The first day, to be held Saturday, June 21, will be known as Babies Day. Invitations are being sent to every farmer within a radius of 25 to 30 miles of Bismarck to come in on that day, to bring their babies with them and have those under one year old tested by the local doctors and nurses. Prizes will be given the best three girl and boy babies, that is the most physically perfect, as they are all "best."

There will be free shows at both the Capitol and Eltinge theaters for all farmers and their families, the Juvenile Band will give an hour concert on the streets at 1:30 p. m., besides which there will be a clown band on the streets all during the afternoon to play during the various stunts which will be pulled off at different locations. Amongst these will be a "peanut wrestle," the boy or girl under 16 who picks up the greatest number of peanuts in a certain length of time to be given a prize, lolly pops and all day suckers will be distributed to the children as will several hundred rubber balls for the youngsters. A half dozen chickens will be passed from the roof of some building, those catching them to have them for Sunday dinner, there will be a daring balloon ascension and parachute jump made by a beautiful and charming young lady, who says the boy who rescues her can marry her if he wants to; there will be something done every minute during the afternoon to give the townspeople and our farmer visitors a good time. In the evening there will be a pavement dance.

Over seventy merchants and business men have joined in the occasion. Other holidays, to be known as Girls' Day, Boys' Day, Mothers' Day, Father's Day and Family Day, will be held during the season when attractions suitable for such days will be on the list.

To Get Acquainted The Advertising Club is not arranging for these days so much for the purpose of getting business as for the purpose of getting our business men and our farmers better acquainted, to sort of wear off the rough edges, so that everyone in this part of the state will always think of Bismarck as being "Our Town."

It has been suggested that the merchants make some little presents out of their stocks for the best babies in addition to the prizes offered by the Advertising Club, nothing much, but something the mothers will appreciate for the sake of the children. Any such presents should be in the hands of A. C. Sorenson or F. E. Young not later than Friday the 20th.

FORESTERS SELECT HARVEY

Next Meeting Place of Order Is Chosen

Mandan, June 11.—Harvey was selected as the 1925 meeting place at the closing session of the North Dakota State Court, Catholic Order of Foresters, today. N. J. Neville of Grand Forks, was elected state chief ranger; E. P. Cosgriff of Fargo was named vice chief ranger, and Thomas E. Dunn, Fargo, secretary, and John P. Reeder of Wahpeton, treasurer, were re-elected.

Trustees named were H. J. Tavis, Mandan; Frank J. Burchard, Devils Lake, and Tony Lynn, Sanborn.

BONUS WORK IS HELD UP

Lack of Funds Prevents Cause Request For Opinion

Washington, June 11.—Government plans for distribution of the bonus money to the soldiers and sailors who were discharged during the war, were hung up on the legal question whether the war and navy departments and the Veterans Bureau may use money appropriated for general purposes.

President Coolidge has ordered Director Lord of the budget to exert every possible means of carrying out the plans and the director had a dozen conferences yesterday with officials of the three arms of the government which have charge of the work.

The discussion apparently left the problem unsolved, although the war department gave notice of its intention to go ahead, using unexpended balances from several activities and planning to have these funds replaced when congress convenes next winter.

SAKAKAWA IS FIGURE IN TRAIL MARKER

The figure of Sakakawa, the Indian girl who guided the Lewis and Clark Expedition, has been made the central part of an emblem of trail marker for the Lewis and Clark Highway, dedicated at Big Falls, Montana, on May 31, according to the Great Falls Leader. The trail marker carries these words: "Lewis and Clark Passed Here—1805-06."

LIABILITY OF BANK BODY IS CUT $1,350,000

Reopening of Closed Banks May Mean Other Depositors Will Gain Therefrom

SEE NEW OPENINGS

Officials Confident Reopening of Banks Will Continue Through Summer

Liability of the Guaranty Fund Commission because of deposits in closed banks has been reduced $1,350,000 by the reopening of banks in the last three months, according to a check of the aggregate deposits of these banks as announced at the time of reopening. The reopening of a closed bank is regarded in official circles as having a marked effect on the guaranty fund, since the reduction of the liability may mean also an increase in the amount of money received by depositors.

A case now is pending in the supreme court in which the question of whether the Guaranty Fund Commission shall pay depositors pro rata at the time a distribution of funds is made, or shall pay them in the order of the closing of banks. No funds can be paid out until this decision is rendered, the commission holds. In the event the court should rule that depositors shall be reimbursed pro rata, the reduction of liability through reopening of banks would mean an increase in the amount of money each depositor would get.

Confidence that reopenings of banks will continue, expressed previously by state officials, members of the Guaranty Fund Commission, and officers of the Agricultural Credit Corporation, which has aided in the reopening of some banks, is reiterated by C. B. McMillan and M. E. Porter, members of the commission. It is expected by them that there will be 20 to 30 bank reopenings, scattered through the summer and early fall months.

At the present time, it is known, there are five banks which are expected to reopen within two weeks, and several other banks expected to reopen later. Applications from boards of directors of many closed banks for the fixing of requirements which would enable the banks to reopen, have recently been received from several banks.

The board, in a special meeting here yesterday and today, fixed requirements for the reopening of about twelve banks.

FLAG DAY TO BE OBSERVED

Exercises Open With a Band Concert

Flag Day will be observed in Bismarck Saturday, June 14. The exercises will open with a band concert in front of the Elks Hall, on Fourth street, at 7:30 p. m. Following the band concert there will be appropriate exercises in the Elks Hall, the exercises being held in the hall because noise of automobiles has disturbed many such outdoor ceremonies.

The Elks lodges all over the country each year observe Flag Day.

Weather Report

For twenty-four hours ending at noon.
Temperature at 7 a. m. 49
Highest yesterday 70
Lowest yesterday 48
Lowest last night 48
Precipitation 0.14
Highest wind velocity 14

WEATHER FORECASTS

For Bismarck and vicinity: Partly overcast tonight and Thursday; probably thunderstorms tonight. Not much change in temperature.

For North Dakota: Partly overcast tonight and Thursday; probably thunderstorms. Not much change in temperature.

General Weather Conditions
The pressure is low over the northern Rocky Mountain region and showers or thunderstorms occurred at a few places over the northern Rocky Mountain region, northern Plains States and in the Mississippi Valley.

Temperatures have risen slightly throughout the northern states.

ORRIS W. ROBERTS,
Meteorologist.

Norbeck Demands Strong Plank for Agriculture

SECOND PLACE CHOICE STILL IS FAR AWAY

Day of Convention Fails To Settle Drift Toward Vice-Presidential Nominee

MAY ASK COOLIDGE

President Now Is Keeping Hands Off in Selection of The Vice-President

NORTHWESTERN MOVE

Cleveland, O., June 11.—President Coolidge probably will be asked before night by party leaders for an expression of view regarding the Vice-presidential nomination.

The move by the Northwestern and western states to line up an organized bloc behind a vice-presidential candidate satisfactory to the agricultural interests assumed unexpected proportions during the day.

A definite plan was made to submit to President Coolidge the name of any man selected by the bloc, but it was declared by leaders of the movement that it had been determined to accept the President's verdict only if it seemed practicable. The states already represented in the negotiations are: Iowa, Colorado, Oklahoma, Kansas, South Dakota, North Dakota, Nebraska, Montana, Idaho, Wyoming, Minnesota, Missouri, Utah and Michigan.

Hanford McNider, a former commander of the American Legion, and a delegate-at-large from Iowa, was chosen to head the movement and to declare the delegations of the states named had been committed irrevocably to the plan by their responsible leaders.

"We feel that unless recognition is given to the agricultural interests of the country," Mr. McNider said, "Republican success at the election is in danger."

Cleveland, O., June 11 (By the A. P.)—The Vice-presidential nomination was still an unworked problem today for delegates to the Republican national convention.

Conference after conference and talk upon talk had served to eliminate some names and to bring others to positions of prominence, but actual agreement seems almost impossible.

(Continued on page 2)

FOUNDER OF FORUM DIES

Horatio Clark Plumley Succumbs in St. Paul

Fargo, June 11.—Horatio Clark Plumley, 68, founder and former editor and publisher of the Fargo Forum and inspector-general for North Dakota of the Supreme Council of Scottish Rite Masonry of the southern jurisdiction since 1907, died in St. Paul early today. He was also grand prior of the supreme council.

The body will be brought to Fargo and a Scottish Rite funeral is being arranged.

TO CONTINUE MCKENZIE CASE

Hearing in the case involving North Dakota's claim to inheritance tax on the estate of the late Alexander McKenzie will be continued on June 18, according to County Judge I. C. Davies.

(Continued on page 3)

LOCAL SHOWERS REPORTED, MORE AHEAD; ROADS STILL PASSABLE

The heaviest of several local showers which fell in the state last night was at Bismarck.

The weather bureau's precipitation report today showed: Bismarck .16; Jamestown .15; Fessenden .04; Lisbon .08; Napoleon .05; Moorhead .16; Minnetonka .06. No rain was reported at the other 11 weather stations in the state.

The forecast is for thunderstorms again tonight.

The shower last night extended about 15 miles north of Bismarck. The S. line reported the shower was between Moffit on the south, and Baldwin on the north, no rain falling at those two telegraph stations.

Roads continue passable, weather bureau and other reports say. A Minot bus made a round trip yesterday with chains. Roads east and south are said passable, and the rain of the last two days was lighter west of here. The continuation of rain during the morning here, however, made it hard going on roads near Bismarck.

The weather bureau's weekly crop report says the week was favorable for small grain but too cool for corn and flax. Some replanting of corn due to rot and cutworms has been reported. The early planted corn is mostly up to good stand and color. Flax seeding has been mostly completed and it has been frost-free in a few limited areas. Rain and pastures have been greatly benefitted by recent rains, the report said.

A letter report to The Tribune said there was a tremendous rain.

Rain in Office
Word received by The Tribune was to the effect that there was a "tremendous" rain in northern Ohio county last evening.

NORTH DAKOTA NOTIFICATION BODY MEMBER

Cleveland, June 11. Although President Coolidge will not be nominated until Thursday, the convention managers already have picked out the committee to formally notify him of its action. The committee, subject to approval of the convention, includes J. J. Ruchat, Minnesota, and William Stern, North Dakota. The South Dakota selection has not been made.

NECESSITY OF PARTY RULE IS HELD EVIDENT

Mondell, Permanent Chairman of Convention, Cites Congress Difficulties

ASSAILS DEMOCRATS

Declares Party Has no Fixed Policy and Depends Upon Denunciation

Cleveland, Ohio, June 11.—President Coolidge has justified the confidence that "inspired" his nomination for vice president at Chicago, and the greater confidence reposed in him since taking up the duties of chief executive in the "outstanding fact" in the political situation, Frank J. Mondell declared today in his address as permanent chairman of the Republican National convention.

Mr. Mondell added an appeal for Republican majorities in Congress "in name and principle," saying that every serious fault of recent legislation would have been avoided had the president that strength in house and senate.

The chairman assailed the Democrats for their "utter lack of fixed and definite principle or policy," save that of muckracking and obstruction.

Referring to the situation in the last congress, when insurgents joined with Democrats to control legislation, Mondell said that never before had the necessity for a dependable party majority and definite party responsibility been so clearly demonstrated.

Text of Address
The text of Mr. Mondell's address follows:

Ladies and Gentlemen of the Convention:
We are met as the representatives of a great political party that has never failed nor faltered in its service or loyalty to the Republic; that has never proposed or advocated an unwise or unsound national policy, and it is our privilege on behalf of this party to place in nomination for the highest offices in the gift of the American people candidates who shall measure up to the finest standards of party leadership and who shall be entitled to and, we confidently believe, will receive the support of a large majority of the American voters at the polls in November.

"We meet profoundly appreciative of wise, patriotic and inspiring party leadership in the past, and earnestly thankful that the kindly providence and the great good fortune which gave our party and the nation Lincoln, McKinley, Roosevelt and Harding has vouchsafed us as the worthy successor of these distinguished patriots the confidence-inspiring character of Calvin Coolidge.

"The American people placed the stamp of their approval on the candidates of the last Republican national convention by a majority of more than five and a half million. Time and events have abundantly justified that unparalleled endorsement. He who was chosen as the President of the United States.

(Continued on page 3)

KLAN ATTITUDE ALSO CAUSING SOME TROUBLE

Platform Builders Inability to Report Causes Adjournment of Convention

MEET AGAIN TONIGHT

To Receive Platform Committee's Report, and Perhaps May Name Coolidge

ADOPT COURT PLANK

Cleveland, O., June 11.—After a heated and prolonged discussion the resolutions committee today adopted the World Court plank as presented by the sub-committee, on assurance that it had been written personally by President Coolidge.

Cleveland, O., June 11. (By the A. P.)—The Republican convention at another brief session today, perfected its permanent organization, cheered President Coolidge and party regularity and then recessed until 8 o'clock tonight, when it will receive and adopt its platform.

While the session was in progress, the platform committee was holding a heated meeting in a council room near by, but when the time for receiving its report arrived Charles D. Hill of New York announced that it was not ready and moved for a recess until 8 p. m.

A large proportion of the delegates did not want to recess and there were loud cries of "No" when the question was put. Chairman Mondell, however, declared with a loud bang of the gavel that "the ayes have it" and the band took the proceedings in hand at that point and the delegates filed out.

Vote Women Equality
Among other things in its short session, the convention in adopting its rules, approved a new arrangement by which women will have equal representation with men on the national committee. The platform draft, it was said, is about 6,000 words in length.

Prohibition, it is understood, is not specifically mentioned, although law enforcement forms the basis of one plank. The only plank which might be interpreted as referring to the Ku Klux Klan is described as a declaration reaffirming the party devotion to the constitution and its guarantees of religious, civil and political liberties.

The oil industry is dealt with under the head of "orderly government" and men "of both parties" are assailed "for dishonesty and corruption" the existence of which the party condemns and deplores.

On Agriculture
On agriculture, which was one of the most troublesome questions in the sub-committee sessions, it was agreed to pledge an effort to restore and equitable balance between agricultural prices and industrial commodity levels. There is no reference to the McNary-Haugen bill, sponsored in the recent session of Congress by Secretary Wallace and the insurgent group. The plank also expressed strong approval of the flexible tariff provision of the present law and another embodied a plea for party regularity in Congress, and the state legislature.

The immigration policy defined in the new quota law is strongly recommended but no mention is made of Japanese exclusion.

One plank is devoted to praise of President Coolidge and in another tax reduction is demanded, and a tax revision commission to formulate a scientific policy. No reference is made to rates or further reductions or how they should be brought about.

A declaration of Philippine independence sets forth that to relinquish American control of the island would be against both the welfare of the territory and the nation. No mention was made of the soldier's bonus.

The "orderly government" plank takes up about 30 words. It makes no specific reference to the oil or recent congressional investigations. This plank apparently had been practically agreed upon before the sub-committee went into session for no loud discussion followed its presentation.

Klan Plank Debated
Such was not the case, however, when the Klan and agricultural plank were reached. Shouts and arguments which could be plainly heard outside the committee rooms ensued. Senator Norbeck of South Dakota did not mince words in discussing the condition of the farmer and the possible effect it might have on the Republican party if a strong agricultural plank were not written. Although not a member of the sub-committee, he was called in and came armed with charts and

(Continued on page 2)

PLATFORM FIGHT HALTS CONVENTION

PRESIDENT OF FRANCE FORCED OUT OF OFFICE

M. Millerand Resigns, Unable to Stem Attack of the Parliamentary Majority

MINISTRY WILL RULE

Versailles Congress Will Elect Successor to Millerand on Friday

Paris, June 11.—President Millerand resigned today.

The new parliamentary majority of the left has accomplished its announced object of forcing M. Millerand from the Elysee palace. The resignation was read before both houses of parliament this afternoon. Until the election of a new chief executive by a joint meeting of the chamber and senate Friday, the executive powers will be wielded by the acting ministry under M. Francois-Marsal.

M. Millerand is the sixth of the eleven presidents of the Republic to leave office by resigning, but in no other case has the events bringing this about been so brusque. Edouard Herriot, as head of the new majority of the left, emerging from the recent parliamentary election, refused to accept M. Millerand's offer of the premiership. The new majority demanded that the President resign as he was not in sympathy with its aims.

When the Versailles Congress Friday elects M. Millerand's successor, the Francois-Marsal ministry will resign.

TRIAL DATE OF SLAYERS FIXED FOR AUGUST 4

States Attorney Wins First Skirmish for Fixing of an Early Trial Date

Chicago, June 11.—States Attorney Crowe today won his first skirmish for an early trial of Nathan Leopold Jr. and Richard Loeb, millionaires' sons and confessed kidnapers and slayers of Robert Franks, school boy son of another millionaire, when the trial was set for August 4.

Both boys pleaded not guilty when arraigned before Chief Justice Caverly of the criminal court.

Mr. Crowe immediately demanded a speedy trial, and asked that July 15 be fixed as the trial date. Attorneys Clarence Darrow and Benjamin Bachrach of the defense immediately objected and Judge Caverly then fixed July 21 as a date to dispose of preliminary motions and set the trial for August 4.

PLEADS GUILTY IN BOOZE CASE

Sentence is Deferred Until End of Term

Philip Miller, charged with violating the liquor laws, entered a plea of guilty in district court before Judge Jansons yesterday. Miller asserted in court yesterday that he did not know of the presence of liquor found at his place.

The sentence of Miller, and others, who have entered pleas of guilty, will be made at the last of the term, the court decided.

Recess was taken until 9:30 tomorrow morning after a jury got the case against W. F. Nichols, an aged man, charged with immorality. The case went to the jury about 11 a. m. The jury in the Nichols case returned a verdict of guilty.

KANSAS GIRL ESSAY WINNER

Omaha, Nebraska, June 11.—Miss Luella Lancaster of Junction City, Kansas, won one of the three National Prizes in the Citizens Military Training Camp Prize Essay Contest, the subject of which was "Why A Young Man I Know Should Attend a Citizens Military Training Camp."

Kansas is one of the States of the Seventh Corps Area including the states of Arkansas, Missouri, Minnesota, Nebraska, Iowa, South Dakota and North Dakota.

Miss Lancaster won a free trip to Washington, D. C., accompanied by a chaperon, all her expenses paid, and in addition other valuable prizes, which will be presented by Mrs. Chas. Coolidge.

Death Rides With Twilight Express

Over a 20-foot embankment went the "Twilight Express" at Worcester, Mass., while running from Boston to New York, as a result of a derailment. Three met death and scores were hurt.

GERMANS TAKE SAAR PROTEST UP TO LEAGUE

Declare Presence of French Troops Will Affect 15-Year Plebiscite

IS BEFORE THE COUNCIL

Geneva, June 11.—Germany has protested to the League of Nations against the presence of French troops in the Saar valley, the German coal region, in which France was given by the treaty of Versailles the exclusive right of coal mine exploitation for 15 years.

Sir Eric Drummond, general secretary of the League, laid the German note embodying this protest before the council of the league at the opening session of that body today.

Germany complains that the continued presence of French forces will exercise an unfortunate moral influence upon the plebiscite which will decide the future of the Saar valley at the end of the 15-year period.

Germany requests the French occupation be brought to an end and that a local plebiscite be constituted to take the place of the French forces in police duty. The note asks the council to fix at once the date for the withdrawal of the French troops. The council postponed consideration of the note until the August session.

NEW CANCER CURE IS TOLD

Physician at Chicago Declares Cures Affected

Chicago, June 11.—Announcement that a new chemical formula had cured 40 percent out of 300 cases of cancer was made today by Dr. C. Everett Fields of the Radium Institute of New York before the Association for the Study and Cure of Cancer, meeting with the American Medical Association convention.

The formula, Dr. Fields said, was based on the theory that cancer is a disease. The formula, he said, had been worked out because the X-ray and radium and other previously known forms of treatment were inadequate.

N. D. TOURIST MEETS DEATH

Missoula, Mont., June 11.—Melvin Thompson, six, of Devils Lake, N. D., met instant death and his mother, Mrs. Albert Thompson, suffered a fractured leg when they were struck by an automobile near Drummond last night. They were members of a party of tourists traveling to Spokane.

THREE STORES ARE ROBBED

Three stores were burglarized during last night in Mandan. At the O. A. Convert grocery, a supply of goods was taken; the Fitzsimmons grocery company till yielded $2, and a cash register which was badly damaged, while at the Army and Navy store a large quantity of goods was taken. Boys are believed responsible.

Chimes from Ohio State University at Columbus will feature the regular program from its broadcasting station, WEOA.

LARRY BYRNE HURT IN CRASH

Fargo, N. D., June 11.—One serious and several minor automobile crashes occurred during the week end in Fargo and the immediate vicinity. The one serious smash was the wreck Saturday of the car driven by R. M. McCarthy of Moorhead, Minn., in which L. M. Byrne of Napoleon, N. D., former chief of police at Minot and former officer in the world war, suffered a broken vertebrae and Mr. McCarthy sustained a badly cut wrist and other severe cuts and bruises.

The crash occurred between Moorhead and Dilworth, Minn., when the car, in which the two men were driving, skidded as they were about to pass another car. It turned over into the ditch and was badly damaged.

PEACE POLICY TO RULE JAPS KATO ASSERTS

New Cabinet Head Declares That International Comity Will Be Sought

Tokyo, June 11.—Peace and international friendship will form the basic policy of the new Japanese cabinet, the incoming premier, Viscount Kato, declared tonight in a statement to the Associated Press. The ministry formed by the Viscount yesterday will assume office tomorrow.

AMBASSADOR CHOSEN
Tokyo, June 11.—Viscount Kijuro Ishii, who negotiated the Lansing-Ishii agreement, is to succeed Masaharu Hanihara as ambassador to the United States. It is indicated on reliable authority.

FORESTERS SELECT HARVEY

Next Meeting Place of Order Is Chosen

Mandan, June 11.—Harvey was selected as the 1925 meeting place at the closing session of the North Dakota State Court, Catholic Order of Foresters, today. N. J. Neville of Grand Forks, was elected state chief ranger; E. P. Cosgriff of Fargo was named vice chief ranger, and Thomas E. Dunn, Fargo, secretary, and John P. Reeder of Wahpeton, treasurer, were re-elected.

Trustees named were H. J. Tavis, Mandan; Frank J. Burchard, Devils Lake, and Tony Lynn, Sanborn.

CORPORATION TAX RULING

B. E. Hitchcock, in charge of the division office of the Bureau of Internal Revenue here today made public the following announcement of D. H. Blair, commissioner, Washington: "There appears to be a misunderstanding as to the amount of income tax imposed upon corporations by the Revenue Act of 1924. Your attention is directed to the fact that under the provisions of Section 230 of the Act the income tax on corporations is 12 1/2 per cent, which is the same rate of tax applicable for the taxable year 1923. Corporations, therefore, are not permitted to take as a credit any reduction in tax for the payment due June 15, or any subsequent installment date. The credit of 25 per cent is limited to individuals, and fiduciaries who are required to file returns on Forms 1040 or 1040A."

Parisian music teachers report more direct business as a result of broadcasting concerts they have been giving.

BABIES DAY TO FEATURE GALA TIME IN CITY

Many Bits of Entertainment Planned For Market Day To Be Held Here June 21

FIRST MARKET DAY

Launches Get-Together Movement of Local Merchants For Period of Many Months

Final arrangements for the first Market Day of the season have been completed by the committee working with Al Sorenson. The first day, to be held Saturday, June 21, will be known as Babies Day. Invitations are being sent to every farmer within a radius of 25 to 30 miles of Bismarck to come in on that day, to bring their babies with them and have those under one year old tested by the local doctors and nurses. Prizes will be given the best three girl and boy babies, that is the most physically perfect, as they are all "best."

There will be free shows at both the Capitol and Eltinge theaters for all farmers and their families, the Juvenile Band will give an hour's concert on the streets at 1:30 p. m., besides which there will be a clown band on the streets all during the afternoon to play during the various stunts which will be pulled off at different locations. Amongst these will be a "peanut wrestle," the boy or girl under 16 who picks up the greatest number of peanuts in a certain length of time to be given a prize, lolly pops and all day suckers will be distributed to the children as will several hundred rubber balls for the youngsters, a half dozen chickens will be released from the roof of some building, those catching them to have them for Sunday dinner, there will be a daring balloon ascension and parachute jump made by a beautiful and charming young lady, who says the boy who rescues her can marry her if he wants to; there will be something doing every minute during the afternoon to give the townspeople and our farmer visitors a good time. In the evening there will be a pavement dance.

Over seventy merchants and business men have joined in the occasion. Other holidays, to be known as Girls' Day, Boys' Day, Mothers' Day, Father's Day and Family Day, will be held during the season when attractions suitable for such days will be on the list.

To Get Acquainted
The Advertising Club is not arranging for these days so much for the purpose of getting business as for the purpose of getting our business men and our farmers better acquainted, to sort of wear off the rough edges, so that everyone in this part of the state will always think of Bismarck as being "Our Town."

It has been suggested that the merchants make some little presents out of their stocks for the best babies in addition to the prizes offered by the Advertising Club, nothing much, but something the mothers will appreciate for the sake of the children. Any such presents should be in the hands of A. C. Sorenson or F. E. Young not later than Friday the 20th.

MISS NIELSON FILLS DATES

Miss Minnie Nielson, state superintendent, is attending a school officers meeting in Barnes county today, and tonight will deliver a commencement address at Elliott. Thursday Miss Nielson will attend the county meeting of the Ransom county, which will include a tour of historical places in the county, and on Friday will attend a school officers meeting at Langdon, at which time a new school will be dedicated.

BONUS WORK IS HELD UP

Lack of Funds Prevents Cause Request For Opinion

Washington, June 11.—Government plans for distribution of the soldiers bonus upset by the failure of congress to appropriate needed funds, were hung up on the legal question whether the war and navy departments and the Veterans Bureau may use money appropriated for general purposes.

President Coolidge has ordered Director Lord of the budget to exert every possible means of carrying out the plans and the director had a dozen conferences yesterday with officials of the three arms of the government which have charge of the work.

The discussion apparently left the problem unsolved, although the war department gave notices of its intention to go ahead, using unexpended balances from several activities and planning to have those funds replaced when congress convenes next winter.

SAKAKAWA IS FIGURE IN TRAIL MARKER

The figure of Sakakawa, the Indian girl who guided the Lewis and Clark Expedition, has been made the central part of an emblem of trail marker for the Lewis and Clark Highway, dedicated at Big Falls, Montana, on May 31, according to the Great Falls Leader. The trail marker carries these words: "Lewis and Clark Passed Here—1805-06."

LIABILITY OF BANK BODY IS CUT $1,350,000

Reopening of Closed Banks May Mean Other Depositors Will Gain Therefrom

SEE NEW OPENINGS

Officials Confident Reopening of Banks Will Continue Through Summer

Liability of the Guaranty Fund Commission because of deposits in closed banks has been reduced $1,350,000 by the reopening of banks in the last three months, according to a check of the aggregate deposits of these banks as announced at the time of reopening. The reopening of a closed bank is regarded as an official circle as having a marked effect on the guaranty fund, since the reduction of the liability may mean also an increase in the amount of money received by depositors.

A case now is pending in the supreme court in which the question of whether the Guaranty Fund Commission shall pay depositors pro rata at the time a distribution of funds is made, or shall pay them in the order of the closing of banks. No funds can be paid out until this decision is rendered, the commission holds. In the event the court should rule that depositors shall be reimbursed pro rata, the reduction of liability through reopening of banks would mean an increase in the amount of money each depositor would get.

Confidence that reopenings of banks will continue, expressed previously by state officials, members of the Guaranty Fund Commission, and officers of the Agricultural Credit Corporation, which has aided in the reopening of some banks, is reiterated by C. B. McMillan and M. E. Porter, members of the commission. It is expected by them that there will be 20 to 30 bank reopenings, scattered through the summer and early fall months.

At the present time, it is known, there are five banks which are expected to reopen within two weeks, and several other banks expect to reopen later. Applications from boards of directors of many closed banks, for the fixing of requirements which would enable the banks to reopen, have recently been received from several banks.

The board, in a special meeting here yesterday and today, fixed requirements for the reopening of about twelve banks.

FLAG DAY TO BE OBSERVED

Exercises Open With a Band Concert

Flag Day will be observed in Bismarck Saturday, June 14. The exercises will open with a band concert in front of the Elks Hall, on Fourth street, at 7:30 p. m. Following the band concert there will be appropriate exercises in the Elks Hall, the exercises being held in the hall because noise of automobiles has disturbed many such outdoor ceremonies.

The Elks lodges all over the country each year observe Flag Day.

Weather Report

For twenty-four hours ending at noon.
Temperature at 7 a. m. 49
Highest yesterday 70
Lowest yesterday 46
Lowest last night 48
Precipitation16
Highest wind velocity 14

For Bismarck and vicinity: Partly overcast tonight and Thursday; probably thunderstorms tonight. Not much change in temperature.

For North Dakota: Partly overcast tonight and Thursday; probably thunderstorms. Not much change in temperature.

General Weather Conditions
The pressure is low over the northern Rocky Mountain region and showers or thunderstorms occurred at a few places over the northern Rocky Mountain region, northern Plains States and in the Mississippi Valley. Temperatures have risen slightly throughout the northern states.

ORRIS W. ROBERTS,
Meteorologist.

Norbeck Demands Strong Plank for Agriculture

SECOND PLACE CHOICE STILL IS FAR AWAY

Day of Convention Fails To Settle Drift Toward Vice-Presidential Nominee

MAY ASK COOLIDGE

President Now Is Keeping Hands Off in Selection of The Vice-President

NORTHWESTERN MOVE

Cleveland, O., June 11.—President Coolidge probably will be asked before night by party leaders for an expression of view regarding the Vice-presidential nomination.

The move by the Northwestern and western states to line up an organized bloc behind a vice-presidential candidate satisfactory to the agricultural interests assumed unexpected proportions during the day.

A definite plan was made to submit to President Coolidge the name of any man selected by the bloc, but it was declared by leaders of the movement that it had been determined to accept the President's verdict only if it seemed practicable. The states already represented in the negotiations are: Iowa, Colorado, Oklahoma, Kansas, South Dakota, North Dakota, Nebraska, Montana, Idaho, Wyoming, Minnesota, Missouri, Utah and Michigan.

Hanford MacNider, a former commander of the American Legion, and a delegate-at-large from Iowa, was chosen to head the movement and he declared the delegations of the states named had been committed irrevocably to the plan by their responsible leaders.

"We feel that unless recognition is given to the agricultural interests of the country," Mr. MacNider said, "Republican success at the election is in danger."

Cleveland, O., June 11 (By the A. P.).—The Vice-presidential nomination was still an unsolved problem early today for delegates to the Republican national convention.

Conference after conference and talk upon talk had served to eliminate some names and to bring others to positions of prominence, but actual agreement seems almost impossible.

(Continued on page 2)

FOUNDER OF FORUM DIES

Horatio Clark Plumley Succumbs in St. Paul

Fargo, June 11.—Horatio Clark Plumley, 68, founder and former editor and publisher of the Fargo Forum and Inspector-general for North Dakota of the Supreme Council of Scottish Rite Masonry of the southern jurisdiction since 1907, died in St. Paul early today. He was also grand prior of the supreme council.

The body will be brought to Fargo and a Scottish Rite funeral is being arranged.

TO CONTINUE MCKENZIE CASE

Hearing in the case involving North Dakota's claim to inheritance tax on the estate of the late Alexander McKenzie will be continued on June 18, according to County Judge I. C. Davies.

LOCAL SHOWERS REPORTED, MORE AHEAD; ROADS STILL PASSABLE

The heaviest of several local showers which fell in the state last night was in Bismarck.

The weather bureau's precipitation report today showed: Bismarck .16; Jamestown .15; Fessenden .04; Lisbon .06; Napoleon .05; Moorhead, Minnesota, .06. No rain was reported at the other 11 weather stations in the state.

The forecast is for thunderstorms again tonight.

The shower last night extended about 15 miles north of Bismarck. The Soo line reported the shower was between Moffit on the south, and Baldwin on the north, no rain falling at those two telegraph stations.

Roads continue passable, weather bureau and other reports say. A Minot bus made a round trip yesterday with chains. Roads east and south were still passable, and the rain of the last two days was lighter west of here. The continuation of rain during the morning here, however, made it hard going on roads near Bismarck.

The weather bureau's weekly crop report says the week was favorable for small grain but too cool for corn and flax. Some replanting of corn due to rot and outcrops has been reported. The early planted corn is mostly up to good stand and color. Flax seeding has been mostly completed and it has been frosted in a few limited areas. Rain and pastures have been greatly benefited by recent rains, the report said.

A later report to The Tribune said there was a tremendous rain.

Rain in Oliver
Word received by The Tribune was to the effect that there was a "tremendous" rain in northern Oliver county last evening.

NORTH DAKOTA NOTIFICATION BODY MEMBER

Cleveland, June 11.—Although President Coolidge will not be nominated until Thursday, the convention managers already have picked out the committee to formally notify him of its action. The committee, subject to approval of the convention, includes J. J. Rachue, Minnesota, and William Stern, North Dakota. The South Dakota selection has not been made.

NECESSITY OF PARTY RULE IS HELD EVIDENT

Mondell, Permanent Chairman of Convention, Cites Congress Difficulties

ASSAILS DEMOCRATS

Declares Party Has no Fixed Policy and Depends Upon Denunciation

Cleveland, Ohio, June 11.—President Coolidge has justified the confidence that "inspired" his nomination for vice president at Chicago, and the greater confidence reposed in him since taking up the duties of chief executive is the "outstanding fact" in the political situation, Frank J. Mondell declared today in his address as permanent chairman of the Republican National convention.

Mr. Mondell added an appeal for Republican majorities in Congress "in name and principle" saying that every serious fault of recent legislation would have been avoided had the president that strength in house and senate.

The chairman assailed the Democrats for their "utter lack of fixed and definite principle or policy, save that of muckraking and obstruction." Referring to the situation in the last congress, when insurgents joined with Democrats to control legislation Mondell said that never before had the necessity for dependable party majority and definite party responsibility been so clearly demonstrated.

Text of Address
Ladies and Gentlemen of the Convention:

"We are met as the representatives of a great political party that has never failed nor faltered in its service or loyalty to the Republic; that has never proposed or advocated an unwise or unsound national policy, and it is our privilege on behalf of this party to place in nomination for the highest offices in the gift of the American people candidates who shall measure up to the finest standards of party leadership and who shall be entitled to and, we confidently believe, will receive the support of a large majority of the American voters at the polls in November."

"We meet profoundly appreciative of wise, patriotic and inspiring party leadership in the past, and earnestly thankful that the kindly providence of the great good fortune which gave our party and the nation Lincoln, McKinley, Roosevelt and Harding has vouchsafed us as the worthy successor of these distinguished patriots the confidence-inspiring character of Calvin Coolidge."

The American people placed the stamp of their approval on the candidates of the last Republican national convention by a majority of more than five and a half million. Time and events have abundantly justified that unparalleled endorsement. He who was chosen as the

(Continued on page 3)

KLAN ATTITUDE ALSO CAUSING SOME TROUBLE

Platform Builders Inability to Report Causes Adjournment of Convention

MEET AGAIN TONIGHT

To Receive Platform Committee's Report, and Perhaps May Name Coolidge

ADOPT COURT PLANK
Cleveland, O., June 11.—After a heated and prolonged discussion the resolutions committee today adopted the World Court plank as presented by the sub-committee, on assurance that it had been written personally by President Coolidge.

Cleveland, O., June 11. (By the A. P.) The Republican convention at another brief session today, perfected its permanent organization, cheered President Coolidge and party regularly and then recessed until 8 o'clock tonight, when it will receive and adopt its platform.

While the session was in progress, the platform committee was holding a heated meeting in a council room near by, but when the time for receiving its report arrived Charles D. Hilles of New York announced that it was not ready and moved for a recess until 8 p. m.

A large proportion of the delegates did not want to recess, and there were loud cries of "No" when the question was put. Chairman Mondell, however, declared with a loud bang of the gavel that "the ayes have it" and the band took the proceedings in hand at that point and the delegates filed out.

Vote Women Equality
Among other things in its short session, the convention in adopting its rules, approved a new arrangement by which women will have equal representation with men on the national committee. The platform draft, it was said, is about 6,000 words in length.

Prohibition, it is understood, is not specifically mentioned, although law enforcement forms the basis of one plank. The only plank which might be interpreted as referring to the Ku Klux Klan is described as a declaration reaffirming the party devotion to the constitution and its guarantees of religious, civil and political liberties.

The oil inquiry is dealt with under the head of "orderly government" and men of "both parties" are assailed "for both honesty and corruption" the existence of which the party condemns and deplores.

On Agriculture

On agriculture which was one of the most troublesome questions in the sub-committee sessions, it was agreed to pledge an effort to restore and equitable balance between agricultural prices and industrial commodity levels. There is no reference to the McNary-Haugen bill, sponsored in the recent session of Congress by Secretary Wallace and the insurgent group. The plank also expressed strong approval of the flexible tariff provision of the present law and another embodied a plea for party regularity in Congress, and the state legislature.

The immigration policy defined in the new quota law is strongly recommended but no mention is made of Japanese exclusion.

One plank is devoted to praise of President Coolidge and in another tax reduction is demanded, and a tax revision commission to formulate a scientific policy. No reference is made to rates or further reductions or how they should be brought about. A declaration of Philippine independence sets forth that to relinquish American control of the island would be against both the welfare of the territory and the nation. No mention was made of the soldier's bonus.

The orderly government" plank takes up about 30 words. It makes no specific reference to the oil or recent congressional investigations. This plank apparently had been practically agreed upon before the sub-committee went into session for no loud discussion followed its presentation.

Klan Plank Debated
Such was not the case, however, when the Klan and agricultural plank were reached. Shouts and arguments which could be plainly heard outside the committee rooms ensued. Senator Norbeck of South Dakota did not mince words in discussing the condition of the farmer and the possible effect it might have on the Republican party if a strong agricultural plank were not written. Although not a member of the sub-committee, he was called in and came armed with charts and

(Continued on page 3)

FLASHER MEN BEGAN SMALL IN DAIRYING

History of Circuit Is Described by Prof. Sheppard of Agricultural College

SHOWS MUCH PROGRESS

Flasher, N. D., June 10.—The history of the members of the Flasher Breeding circuit show that each of them had much to begin with but have progressed their way into a success in farming combined with the dairy industry.

Most of the foundation stock for the Flasher circuit was secured from the farm of the New Salem circuit. Mr. Sheppard says, but the Flasher members have since purchased high class sires and have made excellent showings at the Madison fair. Although the Flasher circuit is organized similarly to the one at New Salem, the Flasher operators are not of a single nationality as are those at New Salem. They do not have the natural basis of nationality to hold them together but they do have the common good in dairying and this has served to be bond enough, Mr. Sheppard says.

Lured From City
William Vogel, one of the eight charter members had once been a workman in the Pullman car shops in Chicago but the lure of the land had brought him out to the North Dakota prairie. On arriving at the claim in 1905, he bought a cow and chickens and built a sod shack which still stands.

He later learned that the Gallaway female in which he had first invested did not belong to a heavy milking breed and that the Hereford grades that he picked up later were adapted to beef production rather than to milking.

"Nine years ago Mr. Vogel bought a dairy sire and five cows. The bull and two cows were full blood Holsteins, the other two cows grade Holsteins.

From the very start Mr. and Mrs. Vogel adopted stringent measures of economy and groped for light in the farming business. They built and occupied a sod house, used a sod barn and sod poultry house, the cost of which, aside from hard work, was very little. Despite their rigid economy, the end of the first year found them $100 in debt.

Their cows have largely paid for their present set of farm buildings and farm, and the latter has expanded into an 800-acre tract. Their seven grown children, with the exception of one, are still with them on the farm and each child has a financial interest in what he produces.

"The Vogel farm now carries from 20 to 24 cows and markets around 50 gallons of milk per day.

"Law Havens is another charter member of the Flasher circuit," according to Mr. Sheppard. "Law filed on his homestead in 1903. His old homestead shack, the second one, stands near the present farm home.

"I submitted my standard question to Mr. Havens: 'Why did you come here?' His reply was: 'Land was too high where I lived in Nebraska. I came here to establish a farm home.'

"He then told me of working on a neighboring ranch at $30 per month until some fields on his claim were under cultivation and of working during harvest and threshing to add to his slender funds with which to develop his present farm home.

"In the late fall of 1905 a prairie fire destroyed all of the Havens homestead improvements that a fire could burn—buildings, hay and grain feed.

"Two years later, in 1907, Law Havens got under way again, bought

Mrs. Myrtle Sockness

EXPECTED DEATH Your Kidneys Are Most Important to Your Life

Read This Woman's Testimony.
Austin, Minn.—"Dr. Pierce's Anuric (kidney and backache) Tablets are the very best I have ever known. My kidneys were in a bad condition for over three years. I bloated so that several quarts of water was tapped from me at one time, and my people were expecting me to die when I had them give me the Anuric Tablets and the relief came almost at once. I took seven or eight bottles of Anuric and was restored to perfect health, which I still enjoy."—Mrs. Myrtle Sockness, 407 E. Allegheny St.
Get Dr. Pierce's Anuric Tablets from your druggist today, by all means, and get that uric acid out of your system. Don't, don't, don't, let the matter off. Send 10c to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel in Buffalo, N. Y., for trial pkg. and write for free medical advice.

TYPEWRITERS OF ALL MAKES Rented—Repaired
Sold on Easy Payments.
Bismarck Typewriter Co.
2307 Broadway

PEGGY JOYCE STILL SEEKS MATRIMONIAL HAPPINESS

Peggy Hopkins Joyce and her fourth husband (or is it her fifth?) Count Gustav Morner, Swedish nobleman. The count visited Peggy to plead the cause of a friend and a "Miles Standish-John Alden" situation arise. Peggy believes her marriage to the count, who is a Chicago toothpaste manufacturer, will bring the happiness she missed in previous marriages.

Two cows and started milking. He class Poland China hogs and splen-was handicapped this time, by start-did flocks of chickens.

"In 1915 he bought three grade and sons. Jesse filed on a home-cows, three grade heifers and a stead in 1904 but Charles had to circuit. He has used a purebred but past the age limit.

"The father brought livestock ideas from Chas. and Jesse Cotner jointly Illinois. Two common cows, three farm 960 acres of land, although head of horses, one sow and 50 hens, their two farms are distinct and was the livestock brought in. The each has a good set of buildings, a rather landed in North Dakota with good herd of Holsteins, some high a thousand dollars in cash in addition to the few head of seed stock. This family have grown corn since they first settled here. Their proportionate acreage of corn to other crops has been increased regularly as they saw its success.

Other Members
W. F. Reynolds, another member of the Flasher circuit, was called to the state office of Dairy Commissioner and so is a member in absentia at present while serving the state.

In 1920 Ed Sawtelle and Frank Stowell, two Flasher circuit members, joined in a partnership, put their heads together and are carrying a high class herd.

"Both are charter members of the Flasher circuit," says Mr. Sheppard, "and each had a group of high class purebred cattle when they joined their herds and efforts. Long before they joined forces these two men had convinced themselves that mixed farming was the only road to permanent success in their region. Each member was a homesteader here. Each man started by purchasing New Salem Circuit bred cattle.

"Ed Sawtelle bought four purebred and three grade heifers in 1915. In 1917 he bought nine beautiful purebred heifers at New Salem, which I remember well as they stood in a prairie pasture on that day.

"Frank Stowell bought a New Salem bred cow early in his farming experience and through her descendants added a good blood line to the partnership herd as it now stands.

"There are at least three cows in the Sawtelle-Stowell herd which averaged more than a pound of butterfat per day during the calendar year, which includes their milk vacation period.

"This 800-acre farm grows only feed and forage crops.

"Besides, the dairy cattle there is a good herd of hogs and large flock of chickens on this farm."

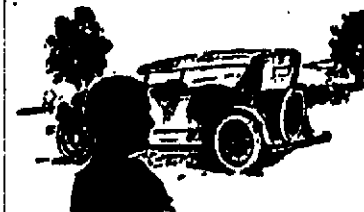

The historic farms on this Flasher circuit will be viewed by several hundred North and South Dakota farmers June 17 at the time of the annual tour and picnic given by members of the circuit.

OPPOSED TO NEW SESSION

Washington, June 10.—President Coolidge does not feel that an extra session of Congress was made necessary by the failure of the Senate to pass the deficiency appropriation bill.

Cook by Electricity.
It is Cheaper.

Are you completely insured?

Are your car and your garage insured as well as your home and your factory?

A few minutes talk with us may bring you a realization of the additional protection you need to be safe from every possible loss.

Insurance written by this agency is fitted to your special needs, and means prompt and dependable indemnity in case of loss.

The advice of this agency has saved many a property owner from loss. Why not let us help you, too!

MURPHY

"The Man Who Knows Insurance"
Bismarck, N. D.

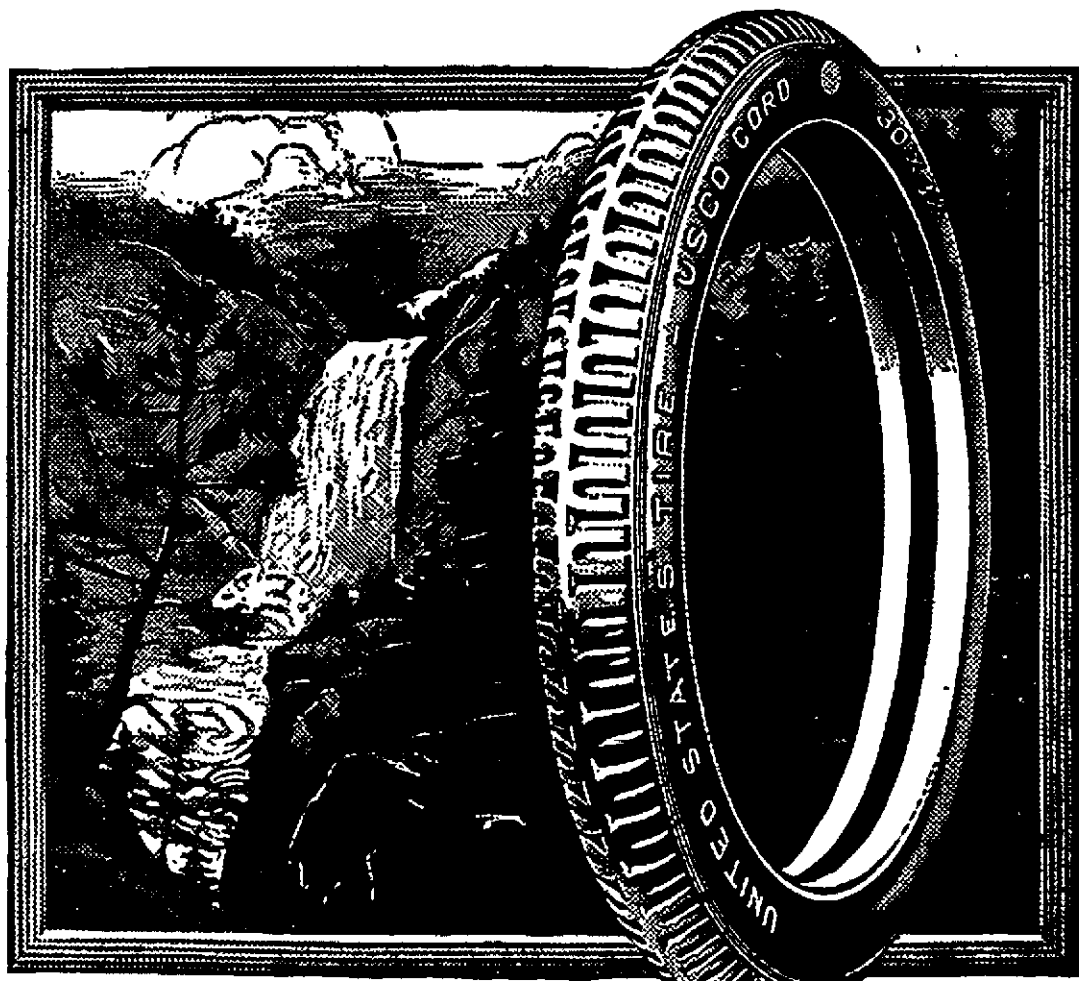

Better Safe Than Sorry

Valuables deserve the safety of modern vaults. When not in safety deposit they invite loss and are a constant source of anxiety.

We offer boxes in a safety deposit vault which are convenient and well protected with a McClintock Burglar Alarm System.

In view of the nominal rentals, as low as $2.00 a year, anyone who has valuable papers or securities cannot afford to be without one.

First National Bank THE PIONEER BANK

Great Falls of Yellowstone National Park

© U. S. Rubber Co., 1924

USCO Cords have these definite advantages—

1—They are made and trademarked by a company that has always built quality tires.

2—They are built of latex treated cords—a new process that adds great strength and wear—developed and patented by the United States Rubber Company.

3—They have an easy steering practical time-tested non-skid tread—that grips and gives traction on wet and slippery roads.

All the resources of the oldest and largest rubber organization in the world have been utilized to make the USco Cord an outstanding value.

Is it any wonder that it is establishing a new idea of money's worth in medium priced tire equipment?

Ask the U. S. Sales and Service Dealer to show you the USco Cord.

U. S. Tires are the only tires in the world made of cords solutioned in raw rubber latex.

United States Rubber Company

USCO CORD

Measure Gasoline Cost by Service

MEASURE the value of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) gasoline service by the year—by each individual purchase—or by the life of your motor.

When you have considered all the factors involved, you will admit that for dependability and convenience this service is unequalled by that rendered by any other organization, producing commodities entering into your daily life.

Dependability is the essence of Standard Oil Company (Indiana) service. You may buy the products of this Company with the complete assurance that they are of uniformly high standard of quality no matter where or when you get them.

For convenience, Standard Oil Company (Indiana) gasoline service is conceded to be superior. Its trim, efficient, fully-stocked stations meet the motorist at every turn on highways and byways.

The scope of Standard Oil Company (Indiana) service is broad and comprehensive. Manufacturers of motor cars, trucks and tractors find this service convenient and dependable, and most of the large plants in the ten states served by this Company find it profitable to utilize the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) as a source of supply.

The service is of varying types—from tank car deliveries to factories, tank wagon deliveries to farmers, and others having storage facilities, to small deliveries at service stations—all are made with infinite care and extreme efficiency.

The reliability of Standard Oil Company (Indiana) service and the high quality of its products is admitted by all. They lengthen the life of your motor—lower your operating cost—minimize your repairs—and increase your pleasure in driving.

No matter where you may be, every service station attendant, every salesman, or other employee of the Company with whom you may come in contact, will regard it as a privilege to be permitted to serve you.

Service of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) recognizes no obstacles and admits of no delay—it is where you want it, when you need it, and as you can best use it.

Standard Oil Company
(Indiana)

General Office: Standard Oil Building
910 South Michigan Avenue, Chicago

U. S. PLANS TO KEEP GUARD ON CANADA BORDER

30 "Bootleg" Immigrants Are Brought to Federal Court in Fargo

Fargo, June 11.—Some 30 aliens held by immigration authorities at Grand Forks, will be removed at once to the Cass county jail by federal men, following the issuance of warrants authorizing the removal of the foreigners. No warrants containing the charges of violating the immigration laws have as yet been filed in the cases, according to John Shea of Fargo, U. S. marshal.

The prisoners will be brought here pending disposition of their cases. The charges will show how many are alleged to have entered the United States illegally and how many are charged with smuggling the aliens into this country. Deportation in some cases and trial in federal court here may await the aliens.

To Increase Border Patrol
Examinations are now being held in Minneapolis for the purpose of adding 10 men to the immigration service stationed along the Canadian border. William G. Nyquist, Minneapolis inspector, U. S. immigration service declared recently. Mr. Nyquist is in Fargo attending to cases in violation of the immigration laws.

Authorities are determined to strengthen the wall on the Canadian line in an effort to stop the smuggling of aliens across the border, but authorities face a difficult problem. Mr. Nyquist explained recently. Pressure in foreign nations, additional pressure in Canada, added to the stricter immigration laws of the United States is making the work of the immigration service along the northern line of increasing importance the immigration inspector asserted.

"Along with the increase in smuggling of aliens across the line goes also an increase in the number of men who are being caught crossing the boundary or assisting in the law breaking," Mr. Nyquist said. "The line is being gradually tightened, and we find that prosecutions and speedy disposition of the cases is the best cure of the trouble. More attention to this work is also making Americans realize that there is such a thing as a strong immigration service in the interior of the country in addition to the authorities and stations at the ports."

Feats in Penmanship

Some remarkable performances with the pen have been accomplished by R. Hissin, an Englishman of Alveston, Derby. He uses ordinary ink and mapping pens, and some of his cleverest efforts in compressed writing include the Lord's Prayer eight times in one language on the space occupied by an English three-penny piece; the Lord's Prayer in eight languages on the space occupied by our half-dollar; the Lord's Prayer on a piece of paper four and one-half inches long that can be passed through the eye of an ordinary sewing needle; the first chapter of Genesis (more than 800 words) on a piece of paper the size of a postage stamp, and the report of the Charlesworth conspiracy case (about 9,000 words) on a postcard. The latter took him 32 hours, and he regards it as his masterpiece.

Should Be Amphibious

An American tourist found a man from his home town domiciled in Venice and asked how he liked it. "I like it well enough," replied the man, "but it's awfully rough on the cat."

The tourist wanted to know why Venetian life was so rough on the cat.

"Aw, I'm so forgetful. I don't mean to be, but I am. Every night in looking up I keep tossing the cat into the back yard when there is no back yard."

Non-Stop

The nervous passenger approached the captain timidly. "What would happen, sir," she asked, "if we struck a large iceberg?"

"The iceberg would pass along as if nothing had happened," replied the captain.

And the old lady was very much relieved.

Too Late To Classify

WANTED—Capable girl for general housework. Phone 790-W2. 506 2nd St. 6-11-24

FOR RENT—My ground floor apartment, 3 rooms and private bath, private entrance. Worth looking at. Immediate possession. Two room apartment with kitchenette. Call 213-M. 523 6th St. 6-11-24

FOR RENT—Pleasant room, close in. Phone 634-M or call at 211 2nd St. after 5 p. m. 6-11-24

FOR RENT—Two room apartment and three room apartment, all modern, gas stoves in each apartment. Call 723 3rd St. 6-11-24

For County Treasurer
I hereby announce my candidacy for County Treasurer of Burleigh County, have been a resident taxpayer of the County, for the last forty years, your vote and influence in my behalf will be greatly appreciated.

John E. Ecklund.

(Political Advertisement)

Broadcast is being referred to as "radio" by some newspapers.

THE COSTUME DRAMA IN WASHINGTON

"Sockless Jerry" Simpson Has Given Way to Farm Bloc Members in Cutaways

Harvey Fergusson, the writer of this article, has spent most of his life in official circles in the Capital. His latest novel, "Capitol Hill," has aroused a storm of discussion because of his satire on Washington's social climbers, male and female, and his vivid picture of how love mixes with politics and graft.

By HARVEY FERGUSON

OPINION in Washington about the present Congress seems to be remarkably unanimous on one point—that it is one of the best-dressed aggregations of legislators that ever came to the capital. There are in it fewer of the freaky dressers who make part of every political scene, and more neatly-looking gentlemen who reflect the styles in F Street windows than were ever seen in Washington before. And this is the opinion not only of casual observers, but of experts in personal appearance who have long observed the Washington spectacle with a special eye for its habiliments. They are agreed that the old-fashioned statesman, who affects the extremes of dowdiness and picturesqueness, is giving way to the up-to-date one who is turned out correctly and neatly, like a well-dressed business man.

Clothes are always a significant matter. A man reveals himself in what he wears just as surely as in what he says, and often much more clearly, especially if he is a politician. It is interesting to note that the passing out of the old affected statesmanlike garb has been accompanied by a decline in old-fashioned spread eagle oratory. Congressional speech like congressional dress tends always to become more businesslike and practical and less ostentatious.

And these changes in our legislators certainly reflect changes in us. The congressman is what his constituents demand, as nearly as he can be. The Washington scene is a costume drama where each man is zealously playing the part that he believes will make a hit with his special audience.

The old-fashioned statesman of eccentric dress was really a character actor playing a part which he believed his constituents expected him to play. "Sockless Jerry" Simpson of Georgia was a good example. He announced that he would wear no socks in his campaign for congress and he kept his word and was elected. His whole get-up was in keeping with his socklessness. When he came to Washington he put on socks, but he omitted the garters, the effect was not much changed. Whether or not the donning of socks had anything to do with it, he did not linger long in the capital.

Neither did Cyclone Davis of Texas, who made a similar appeal to the common people by announcing that he would campaign without collar or necktie and would wear neither in Washington. He was also an ephemeral but striking figure in the House. He wore a long patriarchal-looking beard which would have completely concealed anything in the way of his neckwear, but it is said that before he went back to Texas for keeps he departed from his promise to the extent of wearing a collar without a tie.

THE MOST RADICAL SENATOR IS MOST CAREFULLY DRESSED—SENATOR ROBERT M. LA FOLLETTE (AND HIS SON).

Alfalfa Bill Murray of Oklahoma was a match for Cyclone Davis in the matter of whiskers and general downiness of appearance, being especially famous for a straw hat that had the rich coloring of an old meerschaum.

There are no figures to match these in the present congress, and one very probable reason is that the rural constituencies no longer take special pride in a "hayseed" appearance. In fact, there is nothing the modern farmer resents more than being rated a typical rube, and when not actually plowing or hoeing potatoes he is apt to be nattily turned out in well-fitting store clothes. A congressman may qualify as "a real dirt farmer" and be a member in good standing of the farm bloc without looking as though he had just left the plow. This was demonstrated by Representative Nicholas Longworth of Ohio who is famous for many reasons. He is the son-in-law of Theodore Roosevelt, the floor leader of the Republican party in the House, one of the few politicians who have a sense of humor, and is rated the best-dressed man in the present congress. He even wears spats.

Longworth supported the farm bloc consistently in the last congress, and it is said that some of his colleagues went to him in all seriousness and urged him to leave the spats at home, on the ground that it was not appropriate for a liberal and a friend of the farmer to wear such things. It simply wasn't done. They felt that Longworth's spats fairly contradicted some of his best speeches. In reply to these criticisms, Longworth, it is said, bade his advisers to go and look at Senator La Follette. They went and looked and perceived that the most radical of all radical senators were not only spats, but a cutaway coat, and was, in fact, the most perfectly and carefully dressed man in the senate.

Thereupon they had to admit that Longworth's addiction to spats was supported by that most indispensable piece of political machinery—a notable precedent.

La Follette would seem to be all sufficient proof that a man may be consistently radical and a friend of all needy and oppressed minorities and still look the very image of well-groomed prosperity. Not only does he wear spats and a formal afternoon coat, but he often wears them in rather daring colors, which are carried off well by his ruddy complexion, his bright blue eyes and the huge mass of his iron gray hair, which is evidently the object of much torsorial attention. He reminds one of the accounts of

One reason why Congressmen have to be well dressed—a Senator facing a battery of camera men.

All Photos for Kuppenheimer © National Photo

(Above)—Good clothes know no party lines—Rep. Finnis J. Garrett, Democratic floor leader, and Nicholas Longworth, Republican floor leader, two of the best dressed men in the House.

WILLIAM J. BRYAN, LEADING EXPONENT OF THE OLD STATESMAN STYLE OF DRESS, THE MAIN FEATURE OF WHICH IS THE CAPE.

Daniel Webster, leading cause of its later vogue, particularly among those who followed his political faith and shared some of his attitudes on popular questions. That it is disappearing is noted by many good observers. The frock coat is passing out and the fashionable cutaway is taking its place. The demand for the former is so small that many dealers in the city no longer carry them in stock.

Undoubtedly the influence of Washington tends to improve the appearance of the legislator after he arrives. Washington is a well-dressed city and the congressman who found an eccentric or shabby garb popular with his constituency often abandons it in the capital because it merely makes him ridiculous there. Many instances of such transformations might be given. One of the most recent is that of Senator Magnus Johnson who was photographed in his home district making speeches in overalls, and then, just a few months later, a picture taken in Washington showed him milking cows, very neatly and formally dressed.

An hour's observation in one of the leading F Street stores where officialdom clothes itself, like Grosvenor's, affords a fascinating spectacle—particularly at the beginning of a session. The newly arrived congressman generally needs additions to his wardrobe on very short notice, as a result of some invitation to a formal function. The Washington dealer frequently has a rush order for a dress suit or a dinner coat, and more than once a suit has been sent to the waiting statesman in a taxicab.

Washington is considered one of the best dressed cities in America by men who have occasion to know. The "style scouts" of the leading clothing manufacturers, whose business it is to watch the trends of men's fashions, pay as much attention to the Capital as they do to the football games and other gatherings of the college men who are supposed to set the sartorial style for the country. A Kuppenheimer scout, who has studied the clothes of America from coast to coast, says that Los Angeles is the only city which rivals Washington in its consumption of dress suits and dinner coats, in proportion to population, while in the per capita consumption of white collars, Washington leads all the rest. Washington is also known among clothing manufacturers as a city which is quick to seize upon a new style. One reason for this no doubt is that if some prominent political or social figure takes up a certain style, the whole town is apt to follow suit. An interesting instance was seen during the arms conference, when some one of the foreign representatives—no one seems to know just which one—appeared at a session wearing a stiff-bosomed shirt with wide horizontal stripes. Thereafter the horizontal stripes became the rage and the whole arms conference presented a strikingly cross-hatched appearance.

Formal dress suffered a temporary eclipse in Washington during the war, but it has come back strongly since then. When the senate or the house holds a night session, a very large proportion of the members appear in dress suits and dinner coats, prepared to go out afterwards, Washington theatres also show a large proportion of men and women in evening clothes.

Undoubtedly the influence of our recent presidents has been strongly in favor of modish attire. Mr. Taft has always been unusually well dressed, and President Wilson was a model in this respect. Mr. Harding was a more conservative dresser than Mr. Wilson, but not a less careful one. There were some fears among Washingtonians, who like well-dressed presidents, that Mr. Coolidge would revert to Lincoln tradition of homely shabbiness, because so much had been written about his frugality, but this proved to be a needless alarm. Mr. Coolidge, since his accession to the presidency, has always been attired with exact correctness for every occasion, even to wearing a full yachting costume every time he sets foot on the Mayflower, which is more than some of his predecessors did. The time may yet come when the president and the members of his cabinet will set the styles for America, instead of the Prince of Wales and other members of the English royal family.

SECOND PLACE CHOICE STILL IS FAR AWAY

(Continued from page 1)

as far off as it did Sunday evening after Frank O. Lowden, former Governor of Illinois, and choice of many of the delegates made his initial announcement that he would not accept the nomination even if it were tendered him.

A solution was sought through resumption of the series of conferences today almost as soon as party leaders were up, but it was conceded in advance that the leaders might have to ask President Coolidge to abandon his hands-off policy and indicate his choice or that "a little group of bleary-eyed men" might have to gather tonight or early tomorrow in a hotel room and thrash out the problem as they did in 1920 in selecting Warren G. Harding for the Presidential nomination.

The feeling is widespread that President Coolidge's running-mate must be chosen tomorrow, but not even William M. Butler, manager of the Coolidge forces, and national chairman designate, was able to remove the uncertainty early today when a lengthy conference broke up in his hotel quarters.

The merits and demerits of various possibilities were discussed. Foremost among these others were Secretary Hoover and Senator Curtis of Kansas and included also in the list were Judge William S. Kenyon, Charles G. Dawes, President Burton of the University of Michigan, Representative Sanders of Indiana, Secretary work of the Interior Department, Albert J. Beveridge of Indiana and James G. Harbord of Kansas, major-general in the World War.

The simpler the apparatus the better the chance for good operation.

South Sea natives are enjoying the concerts from KGO, Oakland, Calif.

Cook by Electricity. It is Clean.

IN NEW BROADCAST ROLE

Wendell Hall, who has entertained radio fans across the nation, is shown here broadcasting his most important speech which went something like this: "I do." Hall was groom in a radio wedding to Marion Martin, Chicago, the ceremony taking place at Station WJAF, New York. It is estimated that 4,000,000 listened in on the service.

REQUEST FOR BIDS FOR FURNISHING MOTOR VEHICLE TAGS FROM 1925 REGISTRATION IN NORTH DAKOTA. BIDS CLOSE JULY 1. Bismarck, N. D.

Notice is hereby given that proposals for furnishing to the State of North Dakota one hundred twenty thousand pairs of automobile tags and seven hundred pairs of motorcycle tags, with such additional tags and duplicates as may be needed during the year 1925, will be received at the office of the State Highway Commission at the Capitol in the City of Bismarck, North Dakota, until 2 o'clock p. m. on the first day of July, 1924. Specifications concerning the tags and contract may be had by applying to the State Highway Commission, Bismarck, N. D. JOHN P. TUCKER, Registrar.

This notice first appeared June 9.

Lessons in journalism are being broadcast from WLW, Cincinnati.

VACATION
For sunburn, bites, soreness, poison ivy or summer colds
VICKS
VAPORUB
Over 17 Million Jars Used Yearly

Have Your Newspaper Files or Magazines Bound

Newspapers or individuals can have their newspaper files or magazines or other material bound at the Tribune's Bindery.

At Right Prices.

Let us figure on your next order of binding.

BISMARCK TRIBUNE BINDERY

Phone 32

HERE IT IS! Whatever You Want

IF YOU'RE LOOKING FOR A "JOB," OR IF YOU HAVE SOMETHING TO SELL—TO GET RESULTS SURELY AND QUICKLY, USE THE WANT ADS.

There are hundreds of people just waiting to make an exchange of some sort, and many of them are just the ones with whom you want to get in touch.

The Want Ads have proven a veritable fairy godmother to most folks at some time or other, so avail yourself of the same opportunity.

BISMARCK TRIBUNE

MARKET NEWS
WHEAT STILL RISES EARLY

Little Higher on Early Quotations Today

Chicago, June 11.—With talk that export bids were nearly on a workable basis, wheat averaged a little higher today during the early dealing. Opening quotations which varied from unchanged figures to 1/4c higher, July $1.08 1/2, to 1/4c and September $1.09 1/2 to $1.10 1/4, were followed by a slight sag, and then something of a rally.

Subsequently the market took a decided upward swing. The close was unsettled, 2c to 2 1/2c net higher, July $1.10 1/2 to 1/4c and September $1.12 1/2 to 1/4c.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK
Chicago, June 11.—Hog receipts 32,000. Slow. Mostly 10 to 15 cents lower. Top $7.25.

Cattle receipts 14,000. Fed steers, yearlings and beef heifers opening 15c to 25c lower. Early top matured steers $11.00.

Sheep receipts 13,000. Lambs moderately active. Twenty-five to 50c lower.

CHICAGO PRODUCE
Chicago, June 11.—Poultry alive, lower. Fowls 22 to 23 1/2 cents. Broilers 30 to 38 cents. Roosters 14 cents. Eggs higher. Receipts 16, 838 cases. Firsts 24 to 25 cents; ordinary firsts 23 to 1 1/2 cents; storage pucks extras 20 1/4; firsts 20 1/4 to 1 1/2 cents; butter lower; receipts 12,107 tubs; creamery extras and standards 39 cents, extra firsts 38 to 1 1/2 cents; firsts 36 1/2 to 37 1/2; seconds 33 to 1 1/2 cents; cheese unchanged.

MINNEAPOLIS GRAIN
Minneapolis, June 11.—Flour unchanged to 20 cents higher. In carload lots $6.70 to $6.80 a barrel in 96-pound cotton sacks. Shipments 43,446 barrels. Bran $17 to $18.

ST. PAUL LIVESTOCK
St. Paul, June 11.—Cattle receipts 2,000. Closing slow, but weak undertone. Bulk steers and yearlings $7.25 to $9.25. Calves receipts 3,000. Largely 15 cents higher. Bulk better grades to packers $8.25 to $8.50.

Hog receipts 14,000. Slow, around 15 cents lower. Bulk good and choice 150 to around 275 pound averages $5.00 to $6.65.

Sheep receipts 300. About steady. Best spring lambs $15.50. Few good old crop clipped lambs $13.00.

MINNEAPOLIS GRAIN
Minneapolis, June 11.—Wheat receipts 78 cars compared with 56 cars a year ago. Cash No. 1 northern $1.17 1/4 to $1.22 1/4; No. 1 dark northern spring choice to fancy $1.12 1/2 to $1.18 1/4; July $1.10 1/4; September $1.10 1/4; December $1.18 1/4; corn No. 3 yellow, 75 1/2 to 1/4; oats No. 3 white, 47 1/2 to 1/4; barley 57c to 74c; rye No. 2, 69 1/2 to 1/4; flax No. 1, $2.37 1/2 to $2.43 1/4.

BISMARCK GRAIN
(Furnished by Russell-Miller Co.)
Bismarck, June 10, 1924.

No. 1 dark northern	$1.12
No. 1 northern spring	1.08
No. 1 amber durum	.89
No. 1 mixed durum	.75
No. 1 red durum	.81
No. 1 flax	2.09
No. 2 flax	2.04
No. 1 rye	.49

We quote but do not handle the following:

Wheat	.38
Barley	.54
Pellets, per cwt.	.80

Shell Corn.

White & Yellow Mixed
No. 2, 56 lb. or more	$.55
No. 3, 55 lb.	.54
No. 1	.52

1 cent per pound discount under 55 lb. Ear corn 5 cents under shell.

CREATES SCENE
AFTER CHILD IS TAKEN AWAY

When a mother in district court, opposing litigation instituted by her husband to secure the custody of their son, aged 8, created a scene after Judge John C. Lowe ruled in favor of the father, she was sentenced to serve 10 days in the county jail for contempt of court, which sentence was a time later suspended. The imposition of sentence for contempt served as a satisfactory means of pacifying the mother, according to court officials.

The mother, Mrs. Erma Lemke of Glasgow, Mont., was charged by her husband, William Lemke, also of Glasgow, with deserting him, taking the child without his knowledge and the being an unfit person to have the custody of the son. When the court granted the writ of habeas corpus petitioned for counsel for Lemke, Mrs. Lemke threw her arms around the boy and refused to let him go to his father.

Mrs. Lemke, it is alleged, recently left Glasgow, Mont., and came to Minneapolis, taking the son with her. Another angle of the case is the recent arrest of Gail Phillips, 20, formerly employed by Lemke as a hired man on a ranch near Glasgow, charged with adultery. Lemke is the complaining witness. He filed the complaint against Phillips only. Phillips later Saturday was bound over to district court under bonds of $1,000 following an arraignment for preliminary hearing before Justice John Lynch.

CONVOCAION
OF ST. GEORGE'S
WILL BE HELD

Three Day Services Will Mark Events in St. George's Episcopal Church

MANY SPEAKERS COME

The Fortieth Convocation of St. George's Church will be June 15-16-17 in Bismarck, a program of which follows:

SUNDAY, JUNE 15th.
7:30 A. M.—Holy Communion, Celebrant, The Bishop assisted by Archdeacon, Mr. T. J. O'Neil, Offering for Theological Education.
9:30 A. M. Church School Rally, Addressed by Rev. H. H. Welsh and Mrs. Byron Wilde.
11:00 A. M. Morning Prayer, Read by Rev. Currie and Dean Cowley-Carroll.
Annual address by Bishop Tyler. Secretary Field Department, Offerings for Theological Education.
3:00 P. M. Conferences: The Bishop Presiding.
1. Religious Education. Rev. C. W. Baxter, Chairman.
Dept. Religious Education District Bishop and Council. Discussion.
2. The Women's Auxiliary. Mrs. G. H. Prince, Member National Executive Board Woman's Auxiliary.
7:30 P. M. Evening Prayer—Read by Rev. N. E. Elsworth and Rev. F. W. Goodwin.
Sermon by Rev. Dr. Matthews of Billings, Mont.
Offering for Women's Auxiliary Memorial to Bishop Tuttle.
Followed by: 1. Organization Convocation.
2. Organization Woman's Auxiliary and Guilds.

MONDAY JUNE 16th
7:30 A. M. Holy Communion, Celebrant, Rev. Alexander Coffin, assisted by Rev. G. H. Swift Jr.
Offering Woman's Auxiliary Memorial to Bishop Tuttle.
9:30 A. M. Business Sessions Convocation.
12:00 Noon Prayers for Missions, Rev. F. H. Davenport.
12:30 Luncheon; Talks on Indian Work, Miss Elizabeth A. Bowen, Mrs. Wm. Cross, Mrs. Martin Steenwiler, Wm. Cross.
2:30 P. M. Business Sessions Convocation.
6:00 Men's Dinner and meeting North Dakota Churchman's Club.
9:00 P. M. Informal Reception of the Convocation and Auxiliary and Guilds by St. George's Parish.

TUESDAY, JUNE 17th
7:30 A. M. Corporate Communion of Women's Auxiliary and Guilds, Celebrant, The Bishop, assisted by Ven. H. R. Harrington, Archdeacon among the Indians. Offering for United Thank Offering.
9:30 A. M. Business Session Convocation.
12:00 Noon Prayers for Missions, Rev. J. H. Johnston.
12:30 P. M. Luncheon; Talk by Miss May Case Marsh, Extension Sec'y G. F. S. A.
Girls Society Meets.
The Girl's Friendly Society in America, Missionary District of North Dakota, will hold their second annual gathering on Saturday, June 14, at St. George's Church, Bismarck. The program which will be presented follows:
1:00 P. M. Luncheon.
2:30 P. M. Rally, Miss May Case Marsh, National Extension Secretary.
G. F. S. A., Presiding.
Opening Service—Bishop Tyler.
Welcome—Rev. Jos. E. Ryerson, D. D.
Roll Call of Branches.
Minutes of First Gathering—Miss Charlotte Brown.
Report of State Chairman—Mrs. C. B. Blankenship.
Address—Plans for Coming Year—Miss Marsh.
Roll Call of Branches with Reports.
Doxology.
Inspection of Branch Exhibits.
6:00 P. M. Supper.
8:00 to 9:00 P. M. G. F. S. Service, The Bishop Presiding.
Addresses:
1. The G. F. S. as a National Organization, Miss Marsh.
2. The G. F. S. in North Dakota, Bishop Tyler.
3. The G. F. S. in a Parish, The Very Rev. H. Cowley-Carroll, Dean of Gethsemane Cathedral, Fargo.
4. Demonstration Meeting, Christ Church Branch, McCluskey.
Closing Prayer and Benediction.
The annual meeting of the Women's Auxiliary and Guilds will be held at St. George's church, Bismarck, June 16-17. The following is the program which will be presented:
MONDAY, JUNE 16th
2:30 P. M. Business Session.
Opening Service.
Reports: President.
Corresponding Secretary.
Treasurer.
U. T. O. Custodian.
Address: Rev. E. A. Knickerbocker, Associate Secretary Field Department.
Reports of Parochial Branches.
TUESDAY, JUNE 17th
7:30 A. M. Corporate Communion, Celebrant, The Bishop, assisted by Ven. H. R. Harrington, Archdeacon among the Indians. Offering for United Thank Offering.
9:30 A. M. Business Session.
Reports from Committees.
11:00 A. M. Addresses:
1. Mrs. G. H. Prince, "Woman's Auxiliary-Special"—Memorial to Bishop Tuttle.
2. Mrs. Byron Wilde, Woman's Auxiliary Work among Indians.

Garnett Is Formally Named
Cleveland, June 11.—Harrison Garnett, was named national committeeman from North Dakota at a caucus of delegates from that state. James A. Dinnie was named a member of the resolutions committee. Delegates from South Dakota, at

NECESSITY OF
PARTY RULE IS HELD EVIDENT

(Continued from page 1)

party standard bearer proved his statesmanship in the skillful handling and wise adjustment of important and weighty domestic and international questions and problems. Diligent in the nation's business, wise in public counsel, honest and courageous in action, he gave himself unreservedly, mind and body, heart and soul, to the nation, and became as truly a martyr to patriotic service as any soldier stricken on the field of battle.

"How well he fitted and became the great office to which he was chosen! History will write his name high on the roll of able and efficient executives, but we who knew and loved him best will cherish most the recollection of his great and kindly heart, his tender and sympathetic soul. The nation mourned him as one mourns a brother, beloved and enshrined him in the only enduring hall of fame, the loyal hearts of a grateful people.

Confidence Keynote
"Confidence was the keynote of the sentiment which inspired the nomination of Calvin Coolidge at Chicago four years ago. That confidence grew as he modestly performed the duties of the position to which he was elected, and strengthened prodigiously as he met and handled in thoughtful, sympathetic and courageous fashion the many difficult and trying problems presented to him in the presidential office.

"Confidence in President Coolidge is the most important and outstanding factor in the political situation today, and, in the presence of inevitable differences of opinions on questions of moment, this confidence is as fine a compliment to the American people as is to the president, a spontaneous tribute to sincere faith, high courage, and honest and unselfish purpose.

"Never was an administration confronted with more difficult and perplexing problems than those presented to the Republican administration and Congress elected four years ago, and the marvelous record of legislative and administrative accomplishment which followed is without parallel in the annals of government.

"The orgy of reckless and extravagant expenditure, which had been checked by the preceding Republican congress, was succeeded by an economical and business-like conduct of public affairs under a budget system wisely drawn up and faithfully adhered to. The burden of taxation was greatly reduced. The public debt was steadily diminished. The armies of the unemployed, more numerous than the hosts that the nation marshalled in the world war, were soon absorbed in the ranks of industry, as wise legislation and sound administration relieved the nation and its people from the handicap of democratic policies.

Need For Majorities
"Never before in our history has the need and the necessity of dependable party majorities and of definite party responsibility been so clearly demonstrated as in the very recent past. Legislative control by shifting and changing combinations, resulting in majorities having no common faith and recognizing no united responsibility cannot, in the nature of things, produce legislative results beneficial or satisfactory to the people of the country. The inevitable effect of such legislative control is confusion and paralysis and a legislative product satisfactory to no one.

"Every serious fault of recent legislation and every failure to complete and round out a satisfactory legislative program could and would have been avoided had there been dependable Republican majorities in the congress. The one certain and assured remedy for such a condition is the election of a Congress, Republican, by a goodly majority, both in name and in principle.

"This is the open season for wild claim and wild assertion on the part of our friends, the political enemy. Only recently emerged from beneath the political landslide of four years ago they attempt to appear as confident as they were just before being engulfed in that overwhelming catastrophe.

"In the moments they can spare from their fierce family feuds and rivalries they make a pretense of assuming to believe that they have successfully laid down a smoke screen through which their transparent partisan purposes shall not be discovered, and in the contemplation of which all of their sins of omission and commission, of discredited policies and of discredited administration shall be overlooked and forgotten.

"If the American people were prepared to forget—as the Democrats themselves endeavor to do—the wholly indefensible record of the Democratic party in earlier days, they certainly could not overlook the fact that the most recent record of that party is one devoid of a single redeeming feature; of scandalous mismanagement, of unwise and indefensible policy when in control and utter lack of fixed and definite principle or policy, save that of muck-racking and obstruction, when in minority.

Seeks Inspiration
"As we proceed to the nomination of our candidates and the drafting of our platform we may find inspiration in the fact that ours is the only national party in America that can and does point with pride to each and every candidate nominated at its conventions as to every declaration made in any of its national platforms. All human experience justifies faith and confidence in an organization with such a history. The record of wise leadership, sound policy, and faithful public service in the past affords the best possible guaranty of the future.

"A tree is known by its fruits; not by the showy flowers of promise or the occasional defect in bud or branch, but by the normal harvest through the running of the years—

HALF PRICE SALE
TO RAISE MONEY QUICK

Sale Starts Tomorrow, Thursday--Lasts One Week

We need Cash at once and during this One Week Sale you can save one-half on up to date merchandise. We are known for the quality of our merchandise. We guarantee satisfaction in all cases. We must raise $5,000 at once and our entire stock is at the mercy of the public.

Study These Values Then Act Quick

Shoes Growing Boys' Shoes, Scotch Grain Leather. Black and Brown. Sizes up to 5. Regular seller $5.00..... $2.50	Ladies' Strap Shoes Grey, Fancy Cut Outs. $8.00 and $9.00 sellers..... $4.95	Army Puttees Chrome Leather. $4.50 sellers..... $2.25
Women's Shoes For Small Feet—Dress Pumps in black only. Sizes 3 1/2 to 4 1/2. To close out while they last. $8.50 values..... 98c	Ma Jongg Shoes Ankle Strap and Cut Outs. $8.50 sellers..... $4.95	Men's Shoes Men's Oxfords, up to date Black and Brown. wonderful quality. $7.50 values..... $4.95 $8.50 values..... $5.95
Special Table One table full of Ladies' Oxfords and straps, odds and ends. $6.00 and $7.00 value..... $1.98 You will never find such values again.	Sandals Patent Leather, high and medium heel. Fancy Cut Outs. $6.50 sellers..... $3.95 $7.50 sellers..... $4.95	Men's Shoes Army Last. Colors Black and Brown. The very best. $6.50 values..... $3.50
Growing Girls Patent Pumps and Sandals. Sizes 2 to 7. $4.50 values..... $2.35	Little Folks Shoes Kindergarten Wells, the finest shoe made. Look well and wear fine. $3.50 and $4.00 values..... $2.25	Men's Work Shoes Army Last. Black and Brown. $5.00 and $6.00 values..... $2.95
Ladies' Comfort Shoes Pumps, Straps and Oxfords. $8.00 sellers..... $4.00 $7.50 sellers..... $3.75	ARMY BREECHES For Boys' and Youths'. Pair..... $1.25	Men's Work Shirts Black, Blue, Grey. Regular values $1.00 and $1.25.... 69c
Ladies' Low Shoes 2 Tone Straps and Oxfords. To close out. $7.50 values..... $2.95	Men's Riding Breeches Fine Whip Cord. Values $4.00..... $2.50	Army Shirts Best Flannel, double elbow. Regular values $3.50 and $4.00 $2.25 B. V. D. Athletic Union Suits. Regular price $1.25. Now..... 59c Balbriggan Underwear. Short sleeves. Regular price $1.50. Now.. 89c
	Army Blankets Only..... $2.00

The above Bargains cannot be duplicated anywhere on earth. We are cramped for money and must sell at 1/2 price to get ready cash. This sale will last one week. Come early and get your selections before stock is broken. We cannot allow refunds at these prices. We have hundreds of bargains especially in army goods and we urge you to come and look over our stock as this entire store has been turned over to the public for quick selling.

SEIGAL'S SHOE STORE
—418 BROADWAY—

GRADUATE NURSE TELLS
HOW TANLAC HELPED
MANY OF HER PATIENTS

Seattle Nurse Is Firm Believer in Tanlac And Recommends It.

"From my long experience as a professional nurse, I do not hesitate to say I consider Tanlac the most efficient and natural stomach medicine and tonic to be had. It is undoubtedly nature's most perfect remedy," is the far-reaching statement given out for publication, recently, by Mrs. I. A. Borden, 425 Pontius Ave., Seattle, Wash., a graduate of the National Temperance Hospital, Chicago.

"I have used Tanlac exclusively for seven years in the treatment of my charity patients," said Mrs. Borden, "and my experience has been that for keeping the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels functioning properly, and for toning up the system in general, it has no equal.

"About a year ago I had a lady patient who could not keep a thing on her stomach fifteen minutes, not even water. I prevailed on her to try Tanlac and after the sixth bottle she could eat absolutely anything she wanted without the slightest bad after-effects.

"I had another patient who simply could not eat. I got him started on Tanlac and by the time he finished three bottles he was eating ravenously and able to work.

"These two instances that are typical of the wonderful merits of the medicine. My confidence in Tanlac is unlimited."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 40 million bottles sold.

Tanlac Vegetable Pills, for constipation made and recommended by the manufacturer of TANLAC—Adv.

and the harvest of the Republican party and leadership is faithfully reflected in the matchless growth and fadeless glory of the Republic."

WOODPECKER QUARTET
O'Neil, Neb., June 10.—Every woodpecker is a born musician! So says "Doc" Wilkinson of O'Neil, who has organized a woodpecker quartet and is contemplating a tour of the eastern chautauqua circuit. His feathered musicians learn readily to play any new air or tune on four sonorous wooden tubes, he says.

confined to the 4,000,000 persons who pay direct taxes, but should be enjoyed by the entire population.

President Coolidge's proposal for a conference of federal and state officials to evolve ways to lighten taxes should be endorsed. A nonpartisan commission to study all tax systems should be appointed.

The party believes in the protective tariff. It should be adjusted however, as provided in the 1922 tariff law, as conditions arise.

The party favors construction of "the most feasible waterways" from the Great Lakes to the Gulf as well as inland waterways and a survey of conditions under which flood waters of the Colorado river may be controlled.

High tribute is paid to the memory of the late President Harding in the opening plank. He is referred to as a man "whose human qualities gripped the affections of the American people. He also is praised for calling the Washington arms conference.

In praising President Coolidge the draft set forth that as Vice-President he has "justified the faith and confidence which inspired his election."

Meet Half-Hour Late
Using the gavel made from one of the Michigan oaks beneath which the Republican party was born, Temporary Chairman Burton called the convention to order a half-hour late. The band played "The Star Spangled Banner" and Rabbi Schumann of Beht-El, New York City pronounced the invocation, praying that the guidance of the Almighty would rest upon the leadership of the nation and giving thanks for the wisdom and courage of "our beloved president."

The plan had been for Bishop Jose of Schrems of the Catholic Diocese of Cleveland to make the opening prayer. He will perform that function at some later session.

Children Cry for Fletcher's CASTORIA

MOTHER:—Fletcher's Castoria is a pleasant, harmless Substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Teething Drops and Soothing Syrup, prepared for Infants in arms and Children all ages.

To avoid imitations, always look for the signature of Dr. J. C. Fletcher. Full directions on each package. Physicians everywhere recommend it.

GUARD YOUR HEALTH
SANTAL MIDY
CATHARTIC OF BLADDER

SAN-Y-KIT
PROPHYLACTIC for MEN
Shields Against Prostatitis and Venereal Diseases
Large Tube Etc. Kit (No. 81)
Kit (No. 82)
89, 91, 93, 95, 97, 99, 101, 103, 105, 107, 109, 111, 113, 115, 117, 119, 121, 123, 125, 127, 129, 131, 133, 135, 137, 139, 141, 143, 145, 147, 149, 151, 153, 155, 157, 159, 161, 163, 165, 167, 169, 171, 173, 175, 177, 179, 181, 183, 185, 187, 189, 191, 193, 195, 197, 199, 201, 203, 205, 207, 209, 211, 213, 215, 217, 219, 221, 223, 225, 227, 229, 231, 233, 235, 237, 239, 241, 243, 245, 247, 249, 251, 253, 255, 257, 259, 261, 263, 265, 267, 269, 271, 273, 275, 277, 279, 281, 283, 285, 287, 289, 291, 293, 295, 297, 299, 301, 303, 305, 307, 309, 311, 313, 315, 317, 319, 321, 323, 325, 327, 329, 331, 333, 335, 337, 339, 341, 343, 345, 347, 349, 351, 353, 355, 357, 359, 361, 363, 365, 367, 369, 371, 373, 375, 377, 379, 381, 383, 385, 387, 389, 391, 393, 395, 397, 399, 401, 403, 405, 407, 409, 411, 413, 415, 417, 419, 421, 423, 425, 427, 429, 431, 433, 435, 437, 439, 441, 443, 445, 447, 449, 451, 453, 455, 457, 459, 461, 463, 465, 467, 469, 471, 473, 475, 477, 479, 481, 483, 485, 487, 489, 491, 493, 495, 497, 499, 501, 503, 505, 507, 509, 511, 513, 515, 517, 519, 521, 523, 525, 527, 529, 531, 533, 535, 537, 539, 541, 543, 545, 547, 549, 551, 553, 555, 557, 559, 561, 563, 565, 567, 569, 571, 573, 575, 577, 579, 581, 583, 585, 587, 589, 591, 593, 595, 597, 599, 601, 603, 605, 607, 609, 611, 613, 615, 617, 619, 621, 623, 625, 627, 629, 631, 633, 635, 637, 639, 641, 643, 645, 647, 649, 651, 653, 655, 657, 659, 661, 663, 665, 667, 669, 671, 673, 675, 677, 679, 681, 683, 685, 687, 689, 691, 693, 695, 697, 699, 701, 703, 705, 707, 709, 711, 713, 715, 717, 719, 721, 723, 725, 727, 729, 731, 733, 735, 737, 739, 741, 743, 745, 747, 749, 751, 753, 755, 757, 759, 761, 763, 765, 767, 769, 771, 773, 775, 777, 779, 781, 783, 785, 787, 789, 791, 793, 795, 797, 799, 801, 803, 805, 807, 809, 811, 813, 815, 817, 819, 821, 823, 825, 827, 829, 831, 833, 835, 837, 839, 841, 843, 845, 847, 849, 851, 853, 855, 857, 859, 861, 863, 865, 867, 869, 871, 873, 875, 877, 879, 881, 883, 885, 887, 889, 891, 893, 895, 897, 899, 901, 903, 905, 907, 909, 911, 913, 915, 917, 919, 921, 923, 925, 927, 929, 931, 933, 935, 937, 939, 941, 943, 945, 947, 949, 951, 953, 955, 957, 959, 961, 963, 965, 967, 969, 971, 973, 975, 977, 979, 981, 983, 985, 987, 989, 991, 993, 995, 997, 999, 1001, 1003, 1005, 1007, 1009, 1011, 1013, 1015, 1017, 1019, 1021, 1023, 1025, 1027, 1029, 1031, 1033, 1035, 1037, 1039, 1041, 1043, 1045, 1047, 1049, 1051, 1053, 1055, 1057, 1059, 1061, 1063, 1065, 1067, 1069, 1071, 1073, 1075, 1077, 1079, 1081, 1083, 1085, 1087, 1089, 1091, 1093, 1095, 1097, 1099, 1101, 1103, 1105, 1107, 1109, 1111, 1113, 1115, 1117, 1119, 1121, 1123, 1125, 1127, 1129, 1131, 1133, 1135, 1137, 1139, 1141, 1143, 1145, 1147, 1149, 1151, 1153, 1155, 1157, 1159, 1161, 1163, 1165, 1167, 1169, 1171, 1173, 1175, 1177, 1179, 1181, 1183, 1185, 1187, 1189, 1191, 1193, 1195, 1197, 1199, 1201, 1203, 1205, 1207, 1209, 1211, 1213, 1215, 1217, 1219, 1221, 1223, 1225, 1227, 1229, 1231, 1233, 1235, 1237, 1239, 1241, 1243, 1245, 1247, 1249, 1251, 1253, 1255, 1257, 1259, 1261, 1263, 1265, 1267, 1269, 1271, 1273, 1275, 1277, 1279, 1281, 1283, 1285, 1287, 1289, 1291, 1293, 1295, 1297, 1299, 1301, 1303, 1305, 1307, 1309, 1311, 1313, 1315, 1317, 1319, 1321, 1323, 1325, 1327, 1329, 1331, 1333, 1335, 1337, 1339, 1341, 1343, 1345, 1347, 1349, 1351, 1353, 1355, 1357, 1359, 1361, 1363, 1365, 1367, 1369, 1371, 1373, 1375, 1377, 1379, 1381, 1383, 1385, 1387, 1389, 1391, 1393, 1395, 1397, 1399, 1401, 1403, 1405, 1407, 1409, 1411, 1413, 1415, 1417, 1419, 1421, 1423, 1425, 1427, 1429, 1431, 1433, 1435, 1437, 1439, 1441, 1443, 1445, 1447, 1449, 1451, 1453, 1455, 1457, 1459, 1461, 1463, 1465, 1467, 1469, 1471, 1473, 1475, 1477, 1479, 1481, 1483, 1485, 1487, 1489, 1491, 1493, 1495, 1497, 1499, 1501, 1503, 1505, 1507, 1509, 1511, 1513, 1515, 1517, 1519, 1521, 1523, 1525, 1527, 1529, 1531, 1533, 1535, 1537, 1539, 1541, 1543, 1545, 1547, 1549, 1551, 1553, 1555, 1557, 1559, 1561, 1563, 1565, 1567, 1569, 1571, 1573, 1575, 1577, 1579, 1581, 1583, 1585, 1587, 1589, 1591, 1593, 1595, 1597, 1599, 1601, 1603, 1605, 1607, 1609, 1611, 1613, 1615, 1617, 1619, 1621, 1623, 1625, 1627, 1629, 1631, 1633, 1635, 1637, 1639, 1641, 1643, 1645, 1647, 1649, 1651, 1653, 1655, 1657, 1659, 1661, 1663, 1665, 1667, 1669, 1671, 1673, 1675, 1677, 1679, 1681, 1683, 1685, 1687, 1689, 1691, 1693, 1695, 1697, 1699, 1701, 1703, 1705, 1707, 1709, 1711, 1713, 1715, 1717, 1719, 1721, 1723, 1725, 1727, 1729, 1731, 1733, 1735, 1737, 1739, 1741, 1743, 1745, 1747, 1749, 1751, 1753, 1755, 1757, 1759, 1761, 1763, 1765, 1767, 1769, 1771, 1773, 1775, 1777, 1779, 1781, 1783, 1785, 1787, 1789, 1791, 1793, 1795, 1797, 1799, 1801, 1803, 1805, 1807, 1809, 1811, 1813, 1815, 1817, 1819, 1821, 1823, 1825, 1827, 1829, 1831, 1833, 1835, 1837, 1839, 1841, 1843, 1845, 1847, 1849, 1851, 1853, 1855, 1857, 1859, 1861, 1863, 1865, 186

MARKET NEWS

WHEAT STILL RISES EARLYLittle Higher on Early Quotations Today

Chicago, June 11.—With talk that export bids would be nearly on a workable basis, wheat averaged a little higher today during the early dealings. Opening quotations which varied from unchanged figures to 1/4c higher, July $1.08 1/2, to 1/4c and September $1.09 1/2 to $1.10 1/2, were followed by a slight sag, and then something of a rally.

Subsequently the market took a decided upward swing. The close was unsettled, 2c to 2 1/2c net higher, July $1.10 1/2 to 1/4c and September $1.12 1/2 to 1/4c.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK

Chicago, June 11.—Hog receipts 32,000. Slow. Mostly 10 to 15 cents lower. Top $7.25.

Cattle receipts 14,000. Fed steers, yearlings and beef heifers opening 15c to 20c lower. Early top matured steers $11.00.

Sheep receipts 13,000. Lambs moderately active. Twenty-five to 50c lower.

CHICAGO PRODUCE

Chicago, June 11.—Poultry alive, lower. Fowls 22 to 23 1/2 cents. Broilers 30 to 38 cents. Roosters 14 cents. Eggs higher. Receipts 14,838 cases. Firsts 24 1/2 to 25 cents; ordinary firsts 23 to 24 cents; storage pack extras 26 1/4 to 26 1/2 to 1/2 cents; butter lower; receipts 12,107 tubs; creamery extras and standards 39 cents, extra firsts 38 to 1/2 cents; firsts 36 1/2 to 37 1/2; seconds 33 to 1/2 cents; cheese unchanged.

MINNEAPOLIS GRAIN

Minneapolis, June 11.—Flour unchanged to 20 cents higher. In carload lots $6.70 to $6.80 a barrel in 98-pound cotton sacks. Shipments 43,846 barrels. Bar $17 to $18.

ST. PAUL LIVESTOCK

St. Paul, June 11.—Cattle receipts 2,000. Closing slow, but weak undertone. Bulk steers and yearlings $7.25 to $9.25. Calves receipts 3,000. Largely 15 cents higher. Bulk better grades to packers $8.25 to $8.50.

Hog receipts 14,000. Slow, around 15 cents lower. Bulk good and choice 150 to around 275 pound averages $6.60 to $6.65.

Sheep receipts 300. About steady. Best spring lambs $15.50. Few good old crop clipped lambs $13.00.

MINNEAPOLIS GRAIN

Minneapolis, June 11.—Wheat receipts 78 cars compared with 56 cars a year ago. Cash No. 1 northern $1.17 1/4 to $1.22 1/4; No. 1 dark northern spring choice to fancy $1.22 1/4 to $1.28 1/4; July $1.16 1/4; September $1.16 1/4; December $1.18 1/4; corn No. 3 yellow, 75 1/2 to 76 1/2; No. 2 white, 47 1/2 to 48 1/2; barley 57c to 74c; rye No. 2, 69 1/2 to 70 1/2; flax No. 1, $23 3/4 to $24 3/4.

BISMARCK GRAIN

(Furnished by Russell-Miller Co.)
Bismarck, June 10, 1924.
No. 1 dark northern $1.12
No. 1 northern spring55
No. 1 amber durum89
No. 1 mixed durum81
No. 1 red durum75
No. 1 flax 2.09
No. 2 flax 2.04
No. 1 rye49
We quote but do not handle the following:
Wheat36
Barley54
Holtz, per cwt80
Shell Corn.
White & Yellow Mixed
No. 2, 55 lb. or more $.55
No. 3, 55 lb.55
No. 1, 55 lb.53
1 cent per pound discount under 55 lb. Ear corn 5 cents under shell.

CREATES SCENE
AFTER CHILD IS TAKEN AWAY

When a mother in district court, opposing litigation instituted by her husband to secure the custody of their son, aged 8, created a scene after Judge John C. Lowe ruled in favor of the father, she was sentenced to serve 10 days in the county jail for contempt of court, which sentence was a time later suspended. The imposition of sentence for contempt served as a satisfactory means of pacifying the mother, according to court officials.

The mother, Mrs. Erma Lemke of Glasgow, Mont., was charged by her husband, William Lemke, also of Glasgow, with deserting him, taking the child without his knowledge and also being an unfit person to have the custody of the son. When the court granted the writ of habeas corpus petitioned for counsel for Lemke, Mrs. Lemke threw her arms around the boy and refused to let him go to his father.

Mrs. Lemke, it is alleged, recently left Glasgow, Mont., and came to Minneapolis, taking the son with her. Another angle of the case is the recent arrest of Gail Phillips, 20, formerly employed by Lemke as a hired girl, on a charge near Glasgow, charged with adultery. Lemke is the complaining witness. He filed the complaint against Phillips only. Phillips late Saturday was bound over to district court under bonds of $1,000 following an arraignment for preliminary hearing before Justice John Lynch.

HEAD—NOSE—THROAT—EARS
KONDON'S for Headache, Dizziness, Cold in Head, Hay Fever, Coughs, Colds, All kinds. Doctors, Dentists, Nurses recommend KONDON'S. 50 years doing good. Ask for Konson's Free.
KONSON'S
MINNEAPOLIS

CONVOCA-
TION
OF ST. GEORGE'S
WILL BE HELDThree Day Services Will Mark
Events in St. George's Episcopal Church

MANY SPEAKERS COME

The Fortieth Convocation of St. George's Church will be June 15-16-17, in Bismarck, a program of which follows:

SUNDAY, JUNE 15th.

7:30 A. M. Holy Communion, Celebrant, The Bishop assisted by Archdeacon Martyr. Offering for Theological Education.

9:30 A. M. Church School Rally, Addresses by Rev. H. H. Welsh and Mrs. Byron Wilde.

11:00 A. M. Morning Prayer, Read by Rev. Currie and Dean Cowley-Carroll.

Annual address by Bishop Tyler. Secretary Field Department. Offerings for Theological Education.

3:00 P. M. Conferences: The Bishop Presiding.

1. Religious Education. Rev. C. W. Baxter, Chairman.

2. Religious Education District Bishop and Council. Discussion.

3. The Women's Auxiliary. Mrs. G. H. Prince, Member National Executive Board Woman's Auxiliary.

7:30 P. M. Evening Prayer—Read by Rev. N. E. Elsworth and Rev. F. W. Goodlove.

Sermon by Rev. Dr. Matthews of Billings, Mont.

Offering for Women's Auxiliary Memorial to Bishop Tuttle.

Followed by: 1. Organization Convocation.

2. Organization Woman's Auxiliary and Guilds.

MONDAY JUNE 16th

7:30 A. M. Holy Communion, Celebrant, Rev. Alexander Coffin, assisted by Rev. G. H. Swift Jr.

Offering Woman's Auxiliary Memorial to Bishop Tuttle.

9:30 A. M. Business Sessions Convocation.

12:00 Noon Prayers for Missions. Rev. F. H. Davenport.

12:30 Luncheon. Talk on Indian Work, Miss Elizabeth A. Bowen.

Mrs. Wm. Cross, Mrs. Martin Seewalker, Wm. Cross.

2:30 P. M. Business Sessions Convocation.

6:00 Men's Dinner and meeting North Dakota Churchmen's Club.

9:00 P. M. Informal Reception of the Convocation and Auxiliary and Guilds by St. George's Parish.

TUESDAY, JUNE 17th

7:30 A. M. Corporate Communion of Women's Auxiliary and Guilds. Celebrant, The Bishop, assisted by Ven. H. R. Harrington, Archdeacon among the Indians. Offering for United Thank Offering.

9:30 A. M. Business Session Convocation.

12:00 Noon Prayers for Missions. Rev. J. Johnston.

12:30 P. M. Luncheon; Talk by Miss May Case Marsh, Extension Sec'y G. F. S. A.

Girls Society Meets

The Girls' Friendly Society in America, Missionary District of North Dakota, will hold their second annual gathering on Saturday, June 14, at St. George's Church, Bismarck. The program which will be presented follows:

1:00 P. M. Luncheon.

2:30 P. M. Rally, Miss May Case Marsh, National Extension Secretary.

G. F. S. A., Presiding.

Opening Service—Bishop Tyler. Welcome—Rev. J. E. Ryerson.

D. D. Roll Call of Branches.

Minutes of First Gathering—Miss Chatter L. Brown.

Report of State Chairman—Mrs. C. D. Blakeslee.

Address—Plans for Coming Year—Miss Marsh.

Roll Call of Branches with Reports. Doxology.

Inspection of Branch Exhibits

6:00 P. M. Supper.

8:00 P. M. G. F. S. Service. The Bishop Presiding.

Addresses:

1. The G. F. S. as a National Organization, Miss Marsh.

2. The G. F. S. in North Dakota, Bishop Tyler.

3. The G. F. S. in a Parish, The Very Rev. H. Cowley-Carroll, Dean of Gethsemane Cathedral, Fargo.

4. Demonstration Meeting, Christ Church Branch, McClusky.

Closing Prayer and Benediction. Woman's Auxiliary

The annual meeting of Woman's Auxiliary and Guilds will be held at St. George's church, Bismarck, June 16-17, following is the program which will be presented:

MONDAY JUNE 16th

2:30 P. M. Business Session. Opening Service.

Reports: President

Corresponding Secretary.

Treasurer.

U. T. O. Custodian.

Address: Rev. E. K. Kerkbocker, Associate Secretary Field Department.

Reports of Parochial Branches.

TUESDAY, JUNE 17th

7:30 A. M. Corporate Communion. Celebrant, The Bishop, assisted by Ven. H. R. Harrington, Archdeacon among the Indians. Offering for United Thank Offering.

9:30 A. M. Business Session. Reports from Committees

11:00 A. M. Addresses:

1. Mrs. G. H. Prince, "Woman's Auxiliary Special"—Memorial to Bishop Tuttle.

2. Mrs. Byron Wilde, Woman's Auxiliary Work among Indians.

Garnett Is Formally Named

Cleveland, June 11.—Harrison Garnett, was named national committeeman from North Dakota at a caucus of delegates from that state. James A. Dinnie was named a member of the resolutions committee. Delegates from South Dakota, at

NECESSITY OF
PARTY RULE IS
HELD EVIDENT

(Continued from page 1)

party standard bearer proved his leadership in the skillful handling and wise adjustment of important and weighty domestic and international questions and problems. Diligent in the nation's business, wise in public counsel, honest and courageous in action, he gave himself unreservedly, mind and body, heart and soul, to the nation, and became as truly a martyr to patriotic service as any soldier stricken on the field of battle.

"How well he fitted and became the great office to which he was chosen! History will write his name high on the roll of able and efficient executives, but we who knew and loved him best will cherish most the recollection of his great and kindly heart, his tender and sympathetic soul. The nation mourned him as one mourns a brother, beloved and enshrined him in the only enduring hall of fame—the loyal hearts of a grateful people.

Confidence Keynote

"Confidence was the keynote of the sentiment which inspired the nomination of Calvin Coolidge at Chicago four years ago. That confidence grew as he modestly performed the duties of the position to which he was elected, and strengthened prodigiously as he met and handled in thoughtful, sympathetic and courageous fashion the many difficult and trying problems presented to him in the presidential office.

"Confidence in President Coolidge is the most important and outstanding factor in the political situation today, and, in the presence of inevitable differences of opinions on questions of moment, this confidence is as fine a compliment to the American people as it is to the president; a spontaneous tribute to sincere faith, high courage, and honest and unselfish purpose.

"Never was an administration confronted with more difficult and perplexing problems than those presented to the Republican administration and Congress elected four years ago, and the marvelous record of legislative and administrative accomplishment which followed is without parallel in the annals of government.

"The orgy of reckless and extravagant expenditure, which had been checked by the preceding Republican congress, was succeeded by an economical and business-like conduct of public affairs under a budget system wisely drawn and faithfully adhered to. The burden of taxation was greatly reduced. The public armistice of the unemployed, more numerous than the hosts that the nation marshalled in the world war, were soon absorbed in the ranks of industry, as wise legislation and sound administration relieved the nation and its people from the handicap of democratic policies.

"Never before in our history has the need and the necessity of dependable party majorities and of definite party responsibility been so clearly demonstrated as in the very recent past. Legislative control by shifting and changing combinations, resulting in majorities having no common faith and recognizing no united responsibility cannot, in the nature of things, produce legislative results beneficial or satisfactory to the people of the country. The inevitable effect of such legislative control is confusion and paralysis and a legislative product satisfactory to no one.

"Every serious failure of recent legislation and every failure to complete and round out a satisfactory legislative program could and would have been avoided had there been dependable Republican majorities in the congress. The one certain and assured remedy for such a condition is the election of a Congress, Republican by a goodly majority, both in name and in principle.

"This is the open season for weird claim and wild assertion on the part of our friends, the political enemy. Only recently emerged from beneath the political landslide of four years ago they attempt to appear as confident as they were just before being engulfed in that overwhelming catastrophe.

"In the moments they can spare from their fierce family feuds and rivalries they make a pretense of assuming to believe that they have successfully laid down a smoke screen through which their transient partisan purposes shall not be discovered, and in the contemplation of which all of their sins of omission and commission, of discredited policies and of discreditable administration shall be overlooked and forgotten.

"If the American people were prepared to forget—as the Democrats themselves endeavor to do—the wholly indefensible record of the Democratic party in earlier days, they certainly could not overlook the fact that the most recent record of that party is one devoid of a single redeeming feature; of scandalous mismanagement, of unwise and indefensible policy when in control and utter lack of fixed and definite principle or policy, save that of muck-racking and obstruction, when in minority.

Seeks Inspiration

"As we proceed to the nomination of our candidates and the drafting of our platform we may find inspiration in the fact that ours is the only national party in America that can and does point with pride to each and every candidate nominated at its conventions and to every declaration made in any of its national justifies faith and confidence in an organization with such a history. The record of wise leadership, sound policy, and faithful public service in the past affords the best possible guaranty of the future.

"A tree is known by its fruits; not by the showy flowers of promise or the occasional defect in bud or branch, but by the normal harvest through the running of the years—their caucus, selected Peter Norbeck as a member of the resolutions committee.

HALF PRICE SALE
TO RAISE MONEY QUICK

Sale Starts Tomorrow, Thursday--Lasts One Week

We need Cash at once and during this One Week Sale you can save one-half on up to date merchandise. We are known for the quality of our merchandise. We guarantee satisfaction in all cases. We must raise $5,000 at once and our entire stock is at the mercy of the public.

Study These Values Then Act Quick

Shoes	Ladies' Strap Shoes	Army Puttees
Growing Boys' Shoes, Scotch Grain Leather. Black and Brown. Sizes up to 5. Regular seller $5.00. $2.50	Grey, Fancy Cut Outs. $8.00 and $9.00 sellers. $4.95	Chrome Leather. $4.50 sellers. $2.25
Women's Shoes	Ma Jongg Shoes	Men's Shoes
For Small Feet—Dress Pumps in black only. Sizes 3 1/2 to 4 1/2. To close out while they last. $8.50 values. 98c	Ankle Strap and Cut Outs. $8.50 sellers. $4.95	Men's Oxfords, up to date Black and Brown. wonderful quality. $7.50 values. $4.95
Special Table	Sandals	$8.50 values. $5.95
One table full of Ladies' Oxfords and straps, odds and ends. $6.00 and $7.00 value. $1.98	Patent Leather, high and medium heel. Fancy Cut Outs. $6.50 sellers. $3.95	Men's Shoes Army Last. Colors Black and Brown. The very best. $6.50 values. $3.50
You will never find such values again.	Little Folks Shoes	Men's Work Shoes
Growing Girls	Kindergarten Wells, the finest shoe made. Look well and wear fine. $3.50 and $4.00 values. $2.25	Army Last. Black and Brown. $5.00 and $6.00 values. $2.95
Patent Pumps and Sandals. Sizes 2 to 7. $4.50 values. $2.35	ARMY BREECHES	Men's Work Shirts
Ladies' Comfort Shoes	For Boys' and Youths'. Pair. $1.25	Black, Blue, Grey. Regular values $1.00 and $1.25. 69c
Pumps, Straps and Oxfords. $8.00 sellers. $4.00	Men's Riding Breeches	Army Shirts
$7.50 sellers. $3.75	Fine Whip Cord. Values $4.00. $2.50	Best Flannel, double elbow. Regular values $3.50 and $4.00. $2.25
Ladies' Low Shoes	Army Blankets	B. V. D. Athletic Union Suits. Regular price $1.25. Now. 59c
2 Tone Straps and Oxfords. To close out. $7.50 values. $2.95	Only. $2.00	Balbriggan Underwear. Short sleeves. Regular price $1.50. Now. 89c

The above Bargains cannot be duplicated anywhere on earth. We are cramped for money and must sell at 1/2 price to get ready cash. This sale will last one week. Come early and get your selections before stock is broken. We cannot allow refunds at these prices. We have hundreds of bargains especially in army goods and we urge you to come and look over our stock as this entire store has been turned over to the public for quick selling.

SEIGAL'S SHOE STORE

418 BROADWAY

GRADUATE NURSE TELLS
HOW TANLAC HELPED
MANY OF HER PATIENTS

Seattle Nurse Is Firm Believer In Tanlac And Recommends It.

"From my long experience as a professional nurse, I do not hesitate to say I consider Tanlac the most efficient and natural stomach medicine and tonic to be had. It is undoubtedly nature's most perfect remedy for the far-reaching statement given out for publication, recently, by Mrs. L. A. Borden, 425 Pontius Ave., Seattle, Wash., a graduate of the National Temperance Hospital, Chicago.

"I have used Tanlac exclusively for seven years in the treatment of my charity patients," said Mrs. Borden, "and my experience has been that for keeping the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels functioning properly, and for toning up the system in general, it has no equal.

"About a year ago I had a lady patient who could not keep a thing on her stomach fifteen minutes, not even water. I prevailed on her to try Tanlac and after the sixth bottle she could eat absolutely anything she wanted without the slightest bad after-effects.

"I had another patient who simply could not eat. I got him started on Tanlac and by the time he finished three bottles he was eating ravenously and able to work.

"These two instances that are typical of the wonderful merits of Tanlac is unlimited."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 40 million bottles sold.

Tanlac Vegetable Pills, for constipation made and recommended by the manufacturer of TANLAC—Adv.

and the harvest of the Republican party and leadership is faithfully reflected in the matchless growth and fadeless glory of the Republic."

WOODPECKER QUARTET

O'Neil, Neb., June 10.—Every woodpecker is a born musician! So says "Doc" Wilkinson of O'Neil, who has organized a woodpecker quartet and is contemplating a tour of the eastern chautauqua circuits. His feathered musicians learn readily to play any new air or tune on four sonorous wooden tubes, he confined to the 4,000,000 persons who pay direct taxes but should be enjoyed by the entire population.

President Coolidge's proposal for a conference of federal and state officials to evolve ways to lighten taxes should be endorsed. A nonpartisan commission to study all tax systems should be appointed.

The party believes in the protective tariff. It should be adjusted however, as provided in the 1922 tariff law, as conditions arise.

The party favors construction of "the most feasible waterways" from the Great Lakes to the Gulf as well as inland waterways and a survey of conditions under which flood waters of the Colorado river may be controlled.

High tribute is paid to the memory of the late President Harding in the opening plank. He is referred to as a man "whose human qualities gripped the affections of the American people. He also is praised for calling the Washington arms conference.

In praising President Coolidge the draft set forth that as Vice-President he has "justified the faith and confidence which inspired his election."

Meet Half-Hour Late

Using the gavel made from one of the Michigan oaks beneath which the Republican party was born, Temporary Chairman Burton called the convention to order a half-hour late. The band played "The Star Spangled Banner" and Rabbi Schumann of Beht-El, New York City pronounced the invocation, praying that the guidance of the Almighty would rest upon the leadership of the nation and giving thanks for the wisdom

KLAN ATTITUDE
ALSO CAUSING SOME TROUBLE

(Continued from page 1)

figures. He told the platform drafters that the party was being blamed for the high cost of living and the low cost of farm products. Since the Northwest was not to be represented on the ticket, he is understood to have argued, it should be expressed in the platform. Controversy about the Klan plank resolved itself into a discussion as to whether anything should be said. Rep. Mills of New York urged adoption of the plank reaffirming the constitutional guarantees of liberty, which finally was incorporated but others opposed it. A vigorous denunciation of the Klan was voted down.

Other Declarations

Other declarations made in the platform, include:

The administration has reduced taxation and the public debt, installed a budget system and brought ordinary expenses down to a proper level in three years, presenting "a record unsurpassed in the history of public finance."

Progressive tax reduction should be accomplished through tax reform and should not be and courage of "our beloved president."

The plan had been for Bishop Jose of Schrems of the Catholic Diocese of Cleveland to make the opening prayer. He will perform that function at some later session.

GUARD YOUR HEALTH

SANTAL MIDY

CATARRH OF BLADDER

WHY MEN LEAVE HOME

WHY MEN LEAVE HOME

WHY MEN LEAVE HOME

WHY MEN LEAVE HOME

WHY MEN LEAVE HOME

WHY MEN LEAVE HOME

WHY MEN LEAVE HOME

WHY MEN LEAVE HOME

WHY MEN LEAVE HOME

WHY MEN LEAVE HOME

WHY MEN LEAVE HOME

CAPITOL

TONIGHT

Virginia Valli

and

Milton Sills

—in—

"A LADY OF QUALITY"

Comedy... "School Pals"

Tomorrow and Friday

"The Way of a Man"

U.S. PLANS TO KEEP GUARD ON CANADABORDER

30 "Bootleg" Immigrants Are Brought to Federal Court in Fargo

Fargo, June 11.—Some 30 aliens held by immigration authorities at Grand Forks will be removed at once to the Cass county jail by federal men, following the issuance of papers authorizing the removal of the foreigners. No warrants concerning the charges of violating the immigration laws have as yet been filed in the cases, according to John Shea of Fargo, U. S. marshal. The prisoners will be brought here pending disposition of their cases. The charges will show how many are alleged to have entered the United States illegally and how many are charged with smuggling the aliens into the country. Disposition in some cases and trial in federal court here may await the aliens.

To Increase Border Patrol
Examinations are now being held in Minneapolis for the purpose of adding 10 men to the immigration service stationed along the Canadian border. William G. Nyquist, Minneapolis inspector, U. S. immigration service, declared recently, Mr. Nyquist is in Fargo attending to cases in violation of the immigration laws.

Authorities are determined to strengthen the wall on the Canadian line in an effort to stop the smuggling of aliens across the border, but authorities face a difficult problem, Mr. Nyquist explained recently. Pressure in foreign nations, additional pressure in Canada, added to the stricter immigration laws of the United States is making the work of the immigration service along the northern line of increasing importance the immigration inpector asserted.

"Along with the increase in smuggling of aliens across the line goes also an increase in the number of men who are being caught crossing the boundary of the United States," Mr. Nyquist said. "The line is being gradually tightened, and we find that prosecutions and speedy disposition of the cases is the best cure of the trouble. More attention to this work is also making Americans realize that there is such a thing as a strong immigration service in the interior of the country in addition to the authorities and stations at the ports."

Feats in Penmanship

Some remarkable performances with the pen have been accomplished by H. H. H. an Englishman of Alveston, Derby. He uses ordinary ink and mapping pens, and some of his cleverest efforts in compressed writing include the Lord's Prayer, eight lines of type in an English three-penny piece; the Lord's Prayer in eight languages on the space occupied by our half dollar; the Lord's Prayer on a piece of paper four and one-half inches long that can be passed through the eye of an ordinary sewing needle; the first chapter of Genesis (more than 800 words) on a piece of paper the size of a postage stamp, and the report of the Charlesworth conspiracy case (about 9,000 words) on a postcard. The latter took him 32 hours, and he regards it as his masterpiece.

Should Be Amphibious

An American tourist found a man from his home town domiciled in Venice and asked how he liked it. "I like it well enough," was the reply, "but it's awfully rough on the cat."

The tourist wanted to know why Venetian life was so rough on the cat.

"Aw, I'm so forgetful, I don't mean to be, but I am. Every night in looking up I keep losing the cat into the back yard when there is no back yard."

Non-Stop

The nervous passenger approached the captain timidly. "What would happen, sir," she asked, "if we struck a large iceberg?"

"The iceberg would pass along as if nothing had happened," replied the captain.

And the old lady was very much relieved.

Too Late To Classify

WANTED—Capable girl for general housework. Phone 790-W2. 506 2nd St. 6-11-24

FOR RENT—My ground floor apartment, 3 rooms and private bath, private entrance. Worth looking at. Immediate possession. Two room apartment with kitchenette. Call 213-M. 523 6th St. 6-11-24

FOR RENT—Pleasant room, close to 2nd St. Phone 634-M or call at 213 2nd St. after 5 p. m. 6-11-24

FOR RENT—Two room apartment and three room apartment. All modern, gas stoves in each apartment. Call 523 2nd St. 6-11-24

For County Treasurer
I hereby announce my candidacy for County Treasurer of Burleigh County, have been a resident taxpayer of the County for the last forty years, your vote and influence in my behalf will be greatly appreciated.

John E. Ecklund.
(Political Advertisement)
Broadcast is being referred to as "radio" by some newspapers.

THE COSTUME DRAMA IN WASHINGTON

"Sockless Jerry" Simpson Has Given Way to Farm Bloc Members in Cutaways

Harvey Fergusson, the writer of this article, has spent most of his life in official circles in the Capital. His latest novel, "Capitol Hill," has aroused a storm of discussion because of his satire on Washington's social climbers, male and female, and his vivid picture of how love mixes with politics and graft.

By HARVEY FERGUSSON

OPINION in Washington about the present Congress seems to be remarkably unanimous on one point—that it is one of the best-dressed aggregations of legislators that ever came to the capital. There are in it fewer of the freaky dressers who make part of every political scene, and more every-looking gentlemen who reflect the styles in F Street windows than were ever seen in Washington before. And this is the opinion not only of casual observers, but of experts in personal appearance who have long observed the Washington spectacle with a special eye for its habiliments. They are agreed that the old-fashioned statesman, who affects the extremes of dowdiness and picturesqueness, is giving way to the up-to-date one who is turned out correctly and neatly, like a well-dressed business man.

Clothes are always a significant matter. A man reveals himself in what he wears just as surely as in what he says, and often much more clearly, especially if he is a politician. It is interesting to note that the passing out of the old affected statesmanlike garb has been accompanied by a decline in old-fashioned spread eagle oratory. Congressional speech like congressional dress tends always to become more businesslike and practical and less ostentatious.

And these changes in our legislators certainly reflect changes in us. The congressman is what his constituents demand, as nearly as he can be. The Washington scene is a costume drama where each man is zealously playing the part that he believes will make a hit with his special audience.

The old-fashioned statesman of eccentric dress was really a character actor, playing a part which he believed his constituents expected him to play. "Sockless Jerry" Simpson of Georgia was a good example. He announced that he would wear no socks in his campaign for congress and he kept his word and was elected. His whole get-up was in keeping with his socklessness. When he came to Washington he put on socks, but as he omitted the garters, the effect was not much changed. Whether or not the donning of socks had anything to do with it, he did not linger long in the capital.

Neither did Cyclone Davis of Texas, who made a similar appeal to the common people by announcing that he would campaign without collar or necktie and would wear neither in Washington. He was also an ephemeral but striking figure in the House. He wore a long patriarchal-looking beard which would have completely concealed anything in the way of neckwear, but it is said that before he went back to Texas for keeps he departed from his promise to the extent of wearing a collar without a tie.

THE MOST RADICAL SENATOR IS MOST CAREFULLY DRESSED—SENATOR ROBERT M. LA FOLLETTE (AND HIS SON).

Alfalfa Bill Murray of Oklahoma was a match for Cyclone Davis in the matter of whiskers and general dowdiness of appearance, being especially famous for a straw hat that had the rich coloring of an old meerschaum.

There are no figures to match these in the present congress, and one very probable reason is that the rural constituencies no longer take special pride in a "hayseed" appearance. In fact, there is nothing the modern farmer resents more than being rated a typical rube, and when, not actually plowing or hoeing potatoes he is apt to be nattily turned out in well-tailored store clothes. A congressman may qualify as "a real dirt farmer" and be a member in good standing of the farm bloc without looking as though he had just left the plow. This was demonstrated by Representative Nicholas Longworth of Ohio who is famous for many reasons. He is the son-in-law of Theodore Roosevelt, the floor leader of the Republican party in the Senate, one of the few politicians who have a sense of humor, and is rated the best-dressed man in the present congress. He even wears spats.

Longworth supported the farm bloc consistently in the last congress, and it is said that some of his colleagues went to him in all seriousness and urged him to leave the spats at home, on the ground that it was not appropriate for a liberal and a friend of the farmer to wear such things. It simply wasn't done. They felt that Longworth's spats fairly contradicted some of his best speeches. In reply to these criticisms, Longworth, it is said, bade his advisers to go and look at Senator La Follette. They went and looked and perceived that the most radical of all radical senators were not only spats, but a cutaway coat, and was, in fact, the most perfectly and carefully dressed man in the Senate. The-upon they had to admit that Longworth's addiction to spats was supported by that most indispensable piece of political machinery—a notable precedent.

All Photos for Kuppenheimer © National Photo

One reason why Congressmen have to be well dressed—a Senator facing a battery of camera men.

(Above)—Good clothes know no party lines—Rep. Finnie J. Garrett, Democratic floor leader, and Nicholas Longworth, Republican floor leader, two of the best dressed men in the House.

La Follette would seem to be an excellent proof that a man may be

WILLIAM J. BRYAN, LEADING EXPONENT OF THE OLD STATESMAN STYLE OF DRESS, THE MAIN FEATURE OF WHICH IS THE CAPE.

Daniel Webster. He, like La Follette, was a small man who managed to loom large by the vividness of his personality and of his person, which was always strikingly dressed.

Besides the rube type of congressman there always has been in Washington a certain number of legislators who affect the traditional garb of statesmanship, having for its essentials a black frock coat and a wide black hat such as is associated with train robbers and actors. This may be supplemented by a white vest, and if the trousers are striped and baggy, the shoes old-fashioned congress gaiters, and a cape worn instead of an overcoat, the effect is complete. This type of costume is especially associated with southern statesmen, and probably was popularized more by Henry Clay than by any other one man. William Jennings Bryan, however, took it for his own, and no doubt has been the leading cause of its later vogue, particularly among those who followed his political faith and shared some of his attitudes on popular questions. That it is disappearing is noted by many good observers. The frock coat is passing out and the fashionable cutaway is taking its place. The demand for the former is so small that many dealers in the city no longer carry them in stock.

Undoubtedly the influence of Washington tends to improve the appearance of the legislator after he arrives. Washington is a well-dressed city and the congressman who found an eccentric or shabby garb popular with his constituency often abandons it in the capital because it merely makes him ridiculous there. Many instances of such transformations might be given. One of the most recent is that of Senator Magnus Johnson who was photographed in his home district making speeches in overalls, and then, just a few months later, a picture taken in Washington showed him milking cows, very neatly and formally dressed.

An hour's observation in one of the leading F Street stores where officialdom clothes itself, like Grosvenor's, affords a fascinating spectacle—particularly at the beginning of a session. The newly arrived congressman generally needs additions to his wardrobe on very short notice, as a result of some invitation to a formal function. The Washington dealer frequently has a rush order for a dress suit or a dinner coat, and more than once a suit has been sent to the waiting statesman in a taxicab.

Washington is considered one of the best dressed cities in America by men who have occasion to know. The "style scout" of the leading clothing manufacturers, whose business it is to watch the trends of men's fashions, pay as much attention to the Capital as they do to the football games and other gatherings of the college men who are supposed to set the sartorial style for the country. A Kuppenheimer scout, who has studied the clothes of America from coast to coast, says that Los Angeles is the only city which rivals Washington in its consumption of dress suits and dinner coats, in proportion to population, while in the per capita consumption of white collars, Washington leads all the rest. Washington is also known among clothing manufacturers as a city which is quick to seize upon a new style. One reason for this no doubt is that if some prominent political or social figure takes up a certain style, the whole town is apt to follow him. An interesting instance was seen during the arms conference, when some one of the foreign representatives—no one seems to know just which one—appeared at a session wearing a stiff-bosomed shirt with wide horizontal stripes. Secretary of State Hughes, who is an extremely well dressed man, evidently noted the innovation with an approving eye, for the next day he appeared in a similar shirt. Thereafter the horizontal stripes became the rage and the whole arms conference presented a strikingly cross-barred appearance.

Formal dress suffered a temporary eclipse in Washington during the war, but it has come back strongly since then. When the senate or the house holds a night session, a very large proportion of the members appear in dress suits and dinner coats, prepared to go out afterwards. Washington therefore also shows a large proportion of men and women in evening clothes.

Undoubtedly the influence of our recent presidents has been strongly in favor of modish attire. Mr. Taft has always been unusually well dressed, and President Wilson was a model in this respect. Mr. Harding was a more conservative dresser than Mr. Wilson, but not a less careful one. There were some fears among Washingtonians, who like well-dressed presidents, that Mr. Coolidge would revert to Lincoln tradition of homely shabbiness, because so much had been written about his frugality, but this proved to be a needless alarm. Mr. Coolidge, since his accession to the presidency, has always been attired with exact correctness for every occasion, even to wearing a full yachting costume every time he sets foot on the Mayflower, which is more than some of his predecessors did. The time may yet come when the president and the members of his cabinet will set the styles for America, instead of the Prince of Wales and other members of the English royal family.

SECOND PLACE CHOICE STILL IS FAR AWAY

(Continued from page 1)

as far off as it did Sunday evening after Frank O. Lowden, former Governor of Illinois and choice of many of the delegates made his initial announcement that he would not accept the nomination even if it were decided by him.

A solution was sought through resumption of the series of conferences today almost as soon as party leaders were up, but it was conceded in advance that the leaders might have to ask President Coolidge to abandon his hands-off policy and indicate his choice or that a little group of blarneyed men might have to gather in the night or early tomorrow in a hotel room and thrash out the problem as they did in 1920 in selecting Warren G. Harding for the Presidential nomination.

The feeling was widespread that President Coolidge's running mate must be chosen tomorrow, but not even William M. Butler, manager of the Coolidge forces, and national chairman designate, was able to remove the uncertainty early today when a lengthy conference broke up in his hotel quarters.

The merits and demerits of various possibilities were discussed foremost among these were Secretary Hoover and Senator Curtis of Kansas and included also in the list were Judge William S. Kenyon, Charles G. Dawes, President Burton of the University of Michigan, Representative Sanders of Indiana, Secretary of the Interior Department, Albert J. Beveridge of Indiana and James G. Harbord of Kansas, major general in the World War.

The simpler the apparatus the better the chance for good operation.

South Sea natives are enjoying the comforts from KGO, Oakland, Calif.

Cook by Electricity. It is Clean.

IN NEW BROADCAST ROLE

Wendell Hall, who has entertained radio fans across the nation, is shown here broadcasting his most important speech which went something like this: "I do." Hall was groom in a radio wedding to Marion Markle, Chicago, the ceremony taking place at Station WRAP, New York. It is estimated that 4,000,000 listened in on the service.

REQUIREMENT FOR BIDS FOR FURNISHING MOTOR VEHICLE TAGS FROM 1925 REGISTRATION IN NORTH DAKOTA BIDS CLOSE JULY 1.

Bismarck, N. D.

Notice is hereby given that proposals for furnishing to the State of North Dakota one hundred twenty thousand pairs of automobile tags and seven hundred pairs of motorcycle tags, with such additional tags and duplicates as may be needed during the year 1925, will be received at the office of the State Highway Commission at the Capitol in the City of Bismarck, North Dakota, until 2 o'clock p. m. on the first day of July, 1924. Specifications concerning the tags and contract may be had by applying to the State Highway Commission, Bismarck, N. D.

JOHN P. TUCKER, Registrar.

This notice first appeared June 9.

Lessons in journalism are being broadcast from WLW, Cincinnati.

VACATION
For sunburn, bites, soreness, poison ivy or summer colds
VICKS
VAPORUB
Over 17 Million Jars Used Yearly

Have Your Newspaper Files or Magazine Bound

Newspapers or individuals can have their newspaper files or magazines or other material bound at the Tribune's Bindery.

At Right Prices.

Let us figure on your next order of binding.

BISMARCK TRIBUNE BINDERY
Phone 32

HERE IT IS! Whatever You Want

IF YOU'RE LOOKING FOR A "JOB," OR IF YOU HAVE SOMETHING TO SELL—TO GET RESULTS SURELY AND QUICKLY, USE THE WANT ADS.

There are hundreds of people just waiting to make an exchange of some sort, and many of them are just the ones with whom you want to get in touch.

The Want Ads have proven a veritable fairy godmother to most folks at some time or other, so avail yourself of the same opportunity.

BISMARCK TRIBUNE

THE BISMARCK TRIBUNE

Entered at the Postoffice, Bismarck, N. D., as Second Class Matter.

BISMARCK TRIBUNE CO. Publishers

Foreign Representatives
G. LOGAN PAYNE COMPANY
CHICAGO Marquette Bldg. DETROIT Kresge Bldg.
PAYNE, BURNS AND SMITH
NEW YORK Fifth Ave. Bldg.

MEMBER OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use or republication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper and also the local news published herein.

All rights of republication of special dispatches herein are also reserved.

MEMBER AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATION

SUBSCRIPTION RATES PAYABLE IN ADVANCE
Daily by carrier, per year.....$7.20
Daily by mail, per year (in Bismarck)..... 7.20
Daily by mail, per year (in state outside Bismarck)..... 5.00
Daily by mail, outside of North Dakota..... 6.00

THE STATE'S OLDEST NEWSPAPER
(Established 1873)

THE BURTON KEYNOTE

The keynote speech of Representative Theodore Burton before the Republican National Convention approached the subject of the party's claim to continued power from a broad viewpoint. His speech was an effective answer to those who have assailed the party as a "do nothing party" and who have declared it was managed and led by men out of touch with the change and progress of the nation. Mr. Burton cited among the accomplishments of his party in the last four years the following:

Restored confidence in business after the war, ended unemployment and set the wheels of industry humming.

Reduced the nation's debt of twenty-four billions by two billions in three years, truly a remarkable piece of governmental financing.

The 1921 revenue bill cut taxes eight hundred millions. The foreign debt was funded in a manner to leave no present controversies.

The Veterans Bureau was formed to clean up the tangled mess of the disabled veterans departments. Prompt aid was given to starving Russia, proof of the humanity of America.

Looking to the future the administration is committed to the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence waterways.

Immigration bills restricting admissions are especially beneficial to labor; a constitutional amendment to prohibit child labor was called for; the policy of protection for industries was adhered to party as a means of preventing unemployment.

The first great limitations of armament treaty was proclaimed.

The party's leaders are committed to the World Court, to other measures to increase the strength and prestige of the nation abroad, to bring peace in the world, careful management and reduced expenditures to reduce taxes at home.

The party stands for regulation of industry to protect the public rights, rather than governmental ownership of industries.

In summarizing the efforts of Republican leaders in behalf of the farmer, Mr. Burton said:

"With a sincere desire to render assistance, legislation was adopted in the sixty-seventh Congress in generous measure. That great Democratic leader, Mr. Bryan, though denying credit to any political party, has stated that the sixty-seventh Congress accomplished more for the farmer than any Congress for 50 years. There was an act passed for continuance of the War Finance Corporation, and nearly $300,000,000 were advanced to farming communities; an emergency tariff act on leading grain and other products was adopted; legislation was enacted in a so-called packers' bill to protect the rights of the stock raiser; also one limiting dealings in grain futures to prevent the farmer from being the victim of manipulation; twenty-five additional millions were advanced for the Federal Farm Loan Board; an agricultural credit act was passed at the end of the sixty-seventh Congress, providing for both public and private agencies to aid the farmer in securing credit, stressing perhaps too much the need of facilities for borrowing, but still far-reaching in its provisions. A cooperative marketing act was passed, a beginning in the furtherance of methods for organization and distribution which, it is hoped, will place the farmer in the enjoyment of the same advantages in marketing the gap between the producer and the consumer as those enjoyed in other branches of endeavor."

Further Mr. Burton said: "The Republican party has shown its willingness to extend liberality to the last degree in the enactment of legislation which will aid the farmer, but it cannot respond to impracticable theories or accept measures which will only aggravate the situation."

Mr. Burton stated the three courses open to the government in relation to economic activities, the old doctrine of laissez faire, the control and management of a central government with incidents of public ownership and operation, and hopeless bureaucracy; or regulation representing the power of great corporations or combinations, with equal care guarding against the evils of unrestrained competition. This third is the Republican doctrine securing for the individual quality of opportunity and avoiding the ills of an unwieldy centralized government. The party has not hesitated to espouse regulation measures affecting great wealth.

Mr. Burton repeated that the Republican party does not condone misdeeds in office, and the prompt action of Congress in giving the President power to act, and the prompt action of President Coolidge, was evidence to the nation during the oil lease disclosures that wrong-doing is not condoned by the actual leaders of the nation.

The keynote speaker did not propose new or popular methods of appeal to the country for the party, nor does it appear likely that the Cleveland convention will descend to the level of demagogues in order to select a popular campaign issue. The party can only appeal on its record for the past half century, during which the nation has made its greatest progress. It is a record to inspire trust and confidence.

BUGS

German farmers are less interested in reparations and finance than in the potato bug which is marching from France to invade their fields. Quarantine is being established along the border. It's charged that the A. E. F. brought the potato bug into France. That is not improbable. It might have been by way of revenge for French cooties.

The potato crop is the mainspring of German agriculture. Quite naturally, Heinie is more worried about the potato bug than our south about the boll weevil.

HEINIE

The Germans are getting ready for something. Just what, isn't clear. But the government centered in Berlin is spending less than it's collecting in taxes and so on—saving as much as five million dollars a week.

This results from the 20 per cent increase in taxes.

The European situation begins to look more promising, with money piling up in Germany for reparations. Or will it be used for that?

Editorial Review

Comments reproduced in this column may or may not express the opinion of The Tribune. They are presented here in order that our readers may have both sides of important issues which are being discussed in the press of the day.

THE FIGHTING NORTHWEST

Something of the good humor and the determined spirit with which most of the northwest is facing its troubles was reflected in a special edition of the Glasgow, Montana, Democrat, issued on the occasion of the arrival of the Oriental Limited with its cargo of eastern and mid-western writers alert to learn how the northwest was faring.

As was explained several days ago in the Round Table the northwest is fondling a little grudge against Garret, an able writer on economic topics, who in a series of magazine articles (the first one being entitled, "That Pain in Our Northwest") has been pointing out the troubles in that section. Northwesters contend that Mr. Garret overlooked certain compensatory conditions.

"Glasgow has three physicians and surgeons," commented the Glasgow Democrat in its special edition, "Drop in any time you get a pain in the northwest."

And then there was comment in a more serious tone:

A great many of our farms are not heavily encumbered, none are mortgaged to an extent even to compare with land mortgages in states in the east. Many of our farmers are out of debt. They haven't plunged, but have been content with what they could pay cash for. These have raised their living on their farms.

We would like to get a little more for our wheat, sheep and cattle, or on the other hand, we could get along nicely on present prices, for what we sell if we didn't have to pay quite so much for what we have to buy. But, paradoxically, we can get along all right as it is!

We are not so sure about those flat measures designed—allegedly—to "put agriculture on its feet," but we believe that the tariff needs fixing. The same determined temper, and the same skepticism as to the efficacy of governmental measures, were generally encountered by the eastern and midwestern pilgrims in their tour of investigation. The northwest is ridding itself of its pain without patent medicines.—Chicago Journal of Commerce.

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS

BY OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

"Where are your tickets?" asked the man in a uniform, "Nancy and Nick and Johnny Jump Up, the garden fairy, hopped on his back."

"Here they are," said Nick, reaching into his pocket. The timonise put on his specks and looked at them by the light of the moon. Each ticket said "One round trip to Holland! There and back!"

He punched a hole in each one with his sharp little beak and stuffed them into his pocket.

"All aboard! Ding, ding!" he cried, and flew off in a hurry.

They went over tree tops and fields and hills and houses until they came to the sea.

Then they flew over the sea toward the sunrise and then they came to Holland.

The timonise lighted on a red roof with a big chimney. "It's daylight here but it's night at home," he explained. "Now have a good time, all of you. I'll be back at half past ten to take you back to the magic garden. Be here promptly and please don't keep me waiting."

"We won't," promised the travelers. Away flew the timonise.

"How d' do," said a new voice. And there stood a tall stork beside a great nest, right on the roof beside them.

"How d' do!" said Nancy and Nick and Johnny Jump Up.

"Pretty well," said the stork. "Did you come from Africa, too?"

"No," answered the little garden fairy. "We came from the magic garden, though, and that's just as good. The tulips there are wonderful!"

"Pooh!" said the stork sharply out of his sharp bill. "Just look over the edge of the roof there and you'll see what tulips really are."

So all three of them ran and looked. "That's nothing!" called Johnny Jump Up. "We have that many at home."

For he wouldn't let on that they were any finer.

"Say," said the stork. "Some folk are hard to convince. If you jump on my nose, I'll take you around and show you a thing or two."

But no sooner were they all seated on Mr. Stork's long bill, than he went "achoo! achoo! achoo!"

And away shot the three little people like beans out of a bean shooter. For the Twins were as tiny as the little fairy himself, with their magic shoes.

Mr. Stork flapped his wings and flew after them. "Oh, I beg your pardon," he said. "But you see you tickled my nose so I just had to sneeze. Now hop on again and I'll be more careful. I'll show you all the sights of Holland."

Soon they were all sitting on Mister Stork's nose again. And he flew first to a place where tulips were growing—such a large field of them that no matter where you looked, there were tulips.

"How lovely!" cried Nancy. "It looks as though a rainbow had fallen from the sky and broken to pieces."

"Yes, doesn't it?" agreed the stork. "Holland supplies the world with tulips. Even yours in your garden at home came from here, in the first place."

"And now," said the stork, "we will go to another place."

(To Be Continued.)
(Copyright, 1924, NEA Service, Inc.)

Broadcasting of news in India is forbidden.

Unrestricted

Just when it looked as if crimes would slack up a bit, people started asking, "Well, is it hot enough for you?"

The fellow who has been hating to carry out the ashes has started hating to cut the weeds.

When a cheek comes back marked "No Account" it is talking about the man who wrote it.

Most people who have nothing to do make the mistake of doing it.

No wonder girls learn to swim more easily than men. Who wants to teach a man to swim?

Money isn't everything. The man with the most costly fishing tackle catches the least fish.

Lots of people think the world owes them five or six innings.

If you say business is worse during a presidential year it is only because everybody else says the same.

Next to a secret the hardest thing to keep is a beautiful complexion.

A pessimist is a man who wants things different even after they are.

You can't uplift people by sitting down on them.

Mind your own business or you will undermine your own business.

If you would be healthy and wealthy and wise, never laugh at a woman with tears in her eyes.

Trouble with being down in the mouth is it gets you up in the air.

Perhaps the quickest way for a man to start a long series of arguments is by disagreeing over his wife's wall paper selections.

You don't have to nurse a grudge very carefully to make it grow.

Throwing cold water on a project always dampens the enthusiasm.

A fool and his honey are not parted in a porch swing.

Having to swallow insults is very hard on a man's indignation.

There is no very noticeable decrease in the sighs of the income tax.

That it rained?
That our worries about this year's crop are practically over?
That business should go on "as usual?"

That while we will, later, need more rain, that this one will take our crops safely through the first half of the "danger period?"

That our soil continues to be in the best condition it has been since 1916?

That the Iowa and Illinois corn crop is fully two weeks late and that fully one half of it will have to be reseeded, making that half later yet?

That this means that our farmers will have to force their corn through, as they can do by careful and continual cultivating, so that we can this fall and next spring do on a large scale what we did in the spring of 1918 on a small scale, that is, send seed corn to Minnesota, Iowa and South Dakota. If we can do that, and our farmers can, it means a good dollar per bushel for our corn this fall instead of fifty cents for last year's crop.

Do you know what that will mean to us here? We will give you one guess.

That the Government crop reports

FABLES ON HEALTH
SWAT THE FLY

With the arrival of summer days, Anytown began to organize its annual fly swatting campaign—largely because flies became bothersome, but with little thought for the fundamental reason for such drives.

The part played by flies as disease carriers is emphasized each season.

Flies carry germs from the streets, from sick rooms, from garrets and cellars and swamps, and almost everywhere. They can carry show a much smaller prospective yield of wheat in this country and the entire world than in years and that this will make wheat prices higher?

That we are through with the worst of conditions in this state and that there will be a rapid recovery?

That the past two or three years have weeded out the "weak sisters" in business and in farming; that those who are left in business and on the farms, are working out in good shape?

That the next few years will make the greatest change in conditions that North Dakota has ever seen?

That you should and must get out of your rut of pessimism and be an optimist?

That the optimist always, somehow, wins out while the pessimist never does?

That J. Pierpont Morgan once said that he was always an optimist on the United States?

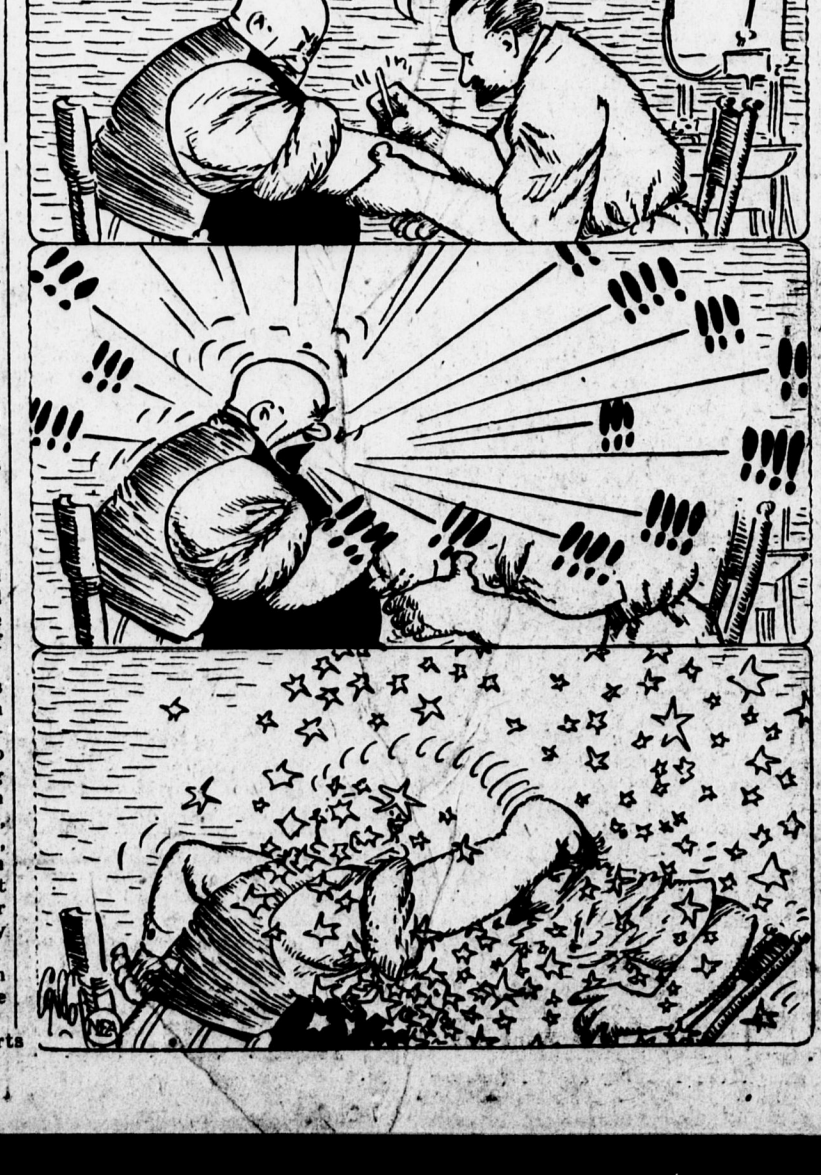

That we, all of us, have every reason to be always optimistic about North Dakota?

That we can give you some of the reasons if you don't know what they are?

BISMARCK ADVERTISING CLUB.

Despite the tens of thousands of wild elephants in Africa, no explorer yet has come upon the carcass of a dead beast that has died in its tracks from natural causes.

Now, MR. TRUE, THIS IS NOT GOING TO HURT YOU. YOU HAVE ONLY A SUPERFICIAL CUTANEOUS ABRASION. BUT IT IS BEST IN THIS CASE TO HASTEN THE HEALING PROCESS BY IRRITATING THE AFFECTED AREA.

WILL POWER IS LOSING OUT

By Albert Apple

As soon as you started to school, you began to hear about the miraculous possibilities of will power. It is necessary propaganda to keep us from becoming discouraged too easily.

Will power is undoubtedly a mighty weapon. But isn't there too much Big Talk about it? Deep down in our hearts, every one of us has a sneaking suspicion that the power of the will is exaggerated.

If a new-born baby could see into the future, he'd discover that 95 per cent of his life is cut-and-dried—staged for him by forces and situations that are totally beyond his control, even though he had the will power of Niagara Falls.

We don't need to consult a clairvoyant to learn most of the things that will happen to us. Take the child. In school he pores over textbooks that were in the making thousands of years before he was born. It is inevitable that he will recite "Paul Revere," play hide-and-seek and have to take an occasional dose of castor oil.

The child matures into a social and economic system that changes only by the slow processes of evolution. He and his will power have no more to do with the preparation of this system that grabs him in iron claws, than actors have in writing the plays for long-dead Shakespeare.

The system changes as time rolls on, yes. But the individual is the slave of the system, and it changes only by mass movements of humanity, without regard to the individual and his reputed will power.

Few of the really important things of life are the result of personal will power. Sickness certainly is not acquired by any exercise of the will. Love comes phantom-like, emotional, no will. Marriage occasionally is the result of will power, but usually it's following the line of least resistance toward comfort.

Comes, finally, death, and removes us from the stage to make room for another even though we have a will like steel.

In toiling for success, however, will power is mighty. This is its real domain—the acquisition of fame and wealth. Without will power and plenty of it, failure or near-failure is almost certain. But after all, are fame and wealth the really important things of life? They are dim shadows behind the brilliance of happiness, content and spiritual improvement—the real purpose of life.

LETTER FROM SALLY ATHERTON TO BEATRICE GRIMSHAW,
CONTINUED

My employer's mother is staying with him while Leslie is away. She is one of those awfully good women who have utterly inflexible rules of conduct, and she never by any possibility thinks that her son, "who is a descendant of the John Alden you know," could really do anything wrong. She must be kind of a nuisance to poor Leslie.

Just at present her time is taken up with talking about and hunting for a secret drawer in a lovely old desk that she herself gave Leslie for a wedding present. Wouldn't it be a scream if she should find this drawer before Leslie returns, and also find something in it that Leslie herself has put there? For if there is a secret drawer I'm sure that Leslie knows about it. You know how mad she is about old furniture, and you can make up your mind that she has gone over that old desk inch by inch.

You tell me you never met Ruth Ellington, who seems to be Leslie's dearest friend. She's a very clever woman, my dear, and naturally I don't like her. I see you are smiling, Bee, but that remark that I have just written does not in any way intimate that you're not clever.

However, Ruth Ellington is singularly devoted to Leslie, and I think she's keeping quite as much tabs on me as Sydney Carlton is on Mr. Prescott. Just why, I do not know for up to date nothing could be more innocuous than my relations with my employer.

I expect you will be horrified when you know that although I had never been to Leslie's home when she was there to dine, I have been twice to dinner since she has been away. Do you know, Bee, I felt sorry for Mr. Prescott. He was tired and somewhat irritable, and I knew he just dreaded to go home to that old woman, even if she was his mother. So I took pity on him. In fact, I have taken pity on him many other evenings since Leslie has been gone, and dined with him. Perhaps it wasn't just right, but he is lonely, and so am I. He interests me and I think I amuse him.

There, I know, Bee, that just now is one of the times when you do not approve of me. But why shouldn't I have a little entertainment? Surely, Mr. Prescott is not just a baby, and I am so tired of being called upon not only to regulate my own morals but the morals of the men with whom I associate.

And now, just at the end of my letter I am going to tell you something that will perhaps surprise you. I think I am being a little malicious because I am a little jealous of Leslie—not particularly of her husband, but of her everyday life, her beautiful home, her lovely baby—yes, and that charming, if narrow-minded, old woman for a mother-in-law, and her friend, Ruth Ellington, who loves her devotedly. Even you, Bee, the dearest friend I have ever had, have never cared for me as Ruth Ellington does for Leslie. I am afraid I shall never call out such love from anyone, or woman. Perhaps it is because I do not deserve it; but, Bee, I am tired, and if you care for me at all, you must care for me as

SALLY ATHERTON.
(Copyright, 1924, NEA Service, Inc.)

days. Hence tennis is his real outdoor hobby.

In the evening he turns to a good book or dabbles with his radio. At least once or twice a week the Thompson family take in a movie or a show. Good plays have a strong appeal with the Trade Commission chairman.

It isn't strange that Thompson smacks his lips over flapjacks and corn cakes. He got the habit on camping trip back home in the mountains of Colorado.

"They're my favorite food," says he.

MANDAN NEWS

LICENSE ISSUED
A marriage license was issued yesterday by County Judge Shaw to Wm. Slavik of Judson and Louise M. Katze of Sweet Briar.

WORK PROGRESSES
Construction work on the new dormitory which is being erected at the State Training school is progressing rapidly and brick masons are now rapidly raising the walls. The foundation cement was poured last week. Supt. McCalland is certain that the building will be ready for occupancy before next winter sets in. The building will cost about $60,000.

AT SHATTUCK
Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Hanley and family and Miss Ethel Haight have returned from Fairbault, Minn., where they had been to attend the graduating exercises at Shattuck Military academy, James Hanley, Jr., being a member of the graduating class. Judge Haight returned to the city by train, the rest of the family making the trip by automobile.

FORESTERS MEET
Nearly fifty delegates from as many lodges of the Catholic Order of Foresters arrived in the city for the annual meeting of the North Dakota state court. Sessions opened yesterday at St. Joseph's school auditorium following a high mass at St. Joseph's Church.

Due to the fact that it was incumbent upon him to accompany a special Great Northern train, which is carrying a large number of eastern newspapers, the use of the state tour, Edward F. Flynn, state grand ranger of the order and who is also district governor of the Rotary, was unable to be in attendance. He is an assistant to the president of the Great Northern railway, having recently moved to St. Paul from Devils Lake.

A Thought
He that covereth his sins shall not prosper; but whose confesseth and forsaketh them shall have mercy.—Prov. 28:13.

A man should never be ashamed to own he has been in the wrong, which is but saying, in other words, that he is wiser today than he was yesterday.—Pope.

Piles Can Be Cured Without Surgery
An instructive book has been published by Dr. A. S. McCleary, the noted rectal specialist of Kansas City. This book tells how sufferers from Piles can be quickly and easily cured without the use of knife, scalpel, "hot" iron, electricity or any other cutting or burning method, without confinement to bed and no hospital bills to pay. The method has been a success for twenty-four years and in more than eight thousand cases. The book is sent paid free to persons afflicted with piles or other rectal troubles who clip this item and mail it with name and address to Dr. McCleary, D643 Parkview Sanitarium, Kansas City, Mo.

Social and Personal

Women to Form League of Women Voters in City

Mrs. J. R. Parkes of Minneapolis, Regional Secretary of the League of Women Voters addressed a group of prominent women at a luncheon held this noon at the Grand Pacific. She tried to bring before the women some of the things that the League wishes to accomplish and has already accomplished.

The keynote of the League is the education of citizens as a safeguard of the Republic. The women of the nation are conscious of their ignorance and feel the need of an organization. They have no political habits and are therefore capable of acquiring good ones. The League was organized for the purpose of developing these new voters into a force for good government. The League is non-partisan and embraces all who are interested in political education.

There are certain things which the League has tried to accomplish. Their program offers opportunities for disinterested, non-partisan education through citizenship schools, institutes, classes, forums, bulletins and educational material. It instructs women in the machinery of elections but does not tell them for whom to vote. It affords women an opportunity to work for wisely considered legislation on matters for which women are primarily responsible. It works for better law enforcement. The Department of International Cooperation to Prevent War stimulates voters to gain a knowledge along these lines.

The organization has been working since 1920 and has accomplished much although education is a slow process. The League wishes to educate all and not a few. All but three states have been organized. Each state has its officers with institutes and conferences to make for efficiency. They are striving to "Get Out The Vote" as in this United States only about 57 percent of our people vote. Through the efforts of the League it is hoped that this average will be raised to 75 percent.

At the gathering at the Grand Pacific it was decided to form a local organization. A board of directors which will meet with Mrs. Parkes tomorrow morning in the parlors of the Grand Pacific at 10 o'clock is as follows: Mrs. E. P. Quinn, Mrs. D. T. Owens, Mrs. O. Olson, Mrs. Harry Woodmansee, Mrs. Keller, Mrs. A. M. Christianson, Mrs. Florence Davis, Mrs. Aldyth Ward, Miss Diesem, Miss Henricka Beach, Mrs. E. F. Tripp, Mrs. F. A. Knowles, Mrs. L. F. Crawford, Mrs. Dullam, Mrs. Benton Baker, Mrs. E. D. Gorman, Mrs. Geo. Welch and Mrs. Harvey Harris.

ENTERTAINS AT BIRTHDAY PARTY

Fifteen little girls and boys were entertained yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Fred Miller in honor of their little daughter, Eugene's second birthday. She received many beautiful gifts with which to remember the event. Mrs. Roy Carlidge and Mrs. H. Kellinghufsen assisted Mrs. Miller with the refreshments.

ANNIVERSARY ORGAN RECITAL

As a part of the anniversary program being held at the Presbyterian church, Professor G. Calvin Ringgenberg will give an organ recital. This is to be on Friday evening, at the First Presbyterian Church at 8:30. Tickets are now on sale and may be obtained from any member of the committee for the nominal fee of 50 cents.

LADIES AID MEETING

The Ladies Aid Society of the First Lutheran church will meet in the church parlors, Thursday afternoon, June 12. Mrs. D. Sundquist and Mrs. J. P. Engen will be the hostesses. Members and friends of the society are urged to be present at this meeting.

RETURNS FROM WEST

Miss Florence Keniston, who has been teaching in Olympia, Washington, arrived this morning to spend the summer with her mother, Mrs. Geo. Keniston.

TO SPEND SUMMER IN MINNESOTA

Miss Judith Rue, who has been teaching in the Roosevelt School, left this morning to visit for the summer in Fargo and Minneapolis.

LEAVES ON SPEAKING TOUR

J. W. Riley, State School Inspector, left this morning to attend a meeting of school officers being held at Ellendale. He will make a speaking tour through.

HERE ON VISIT

Mrs. Clarence Gunness of Hettinger, is a guest at the home of Mrs. Forest Skinner. She will leave the end of the week for a visit with her parents at Alexandria, Minn.

GIVES ADDRESS

Mrs. Gordon W. Randlett of Fargo returned this morning after giving an address at the farmers picnic being held at Hebron.

LEAVES FOR MONTANA

Miss Ruth Warburton, who has been teaching in this city left last evening for her home at Deer Lodge, Mont.

IN CITY

F. F. Burchard of Grand Forks, secretary of the school board there and interested in Democratic politics, is in the city.

AT CONVENTION

Fire Chief Robert Jager has gone to Ledgeswood to attend the state firemen's convention.

AT JAMESTOWN

Mrs. W. E. Breen is at Jamestown, being called there by the illness of a relative.

Mother, Guest Banquet Here Well Attended

The Mother and Guest banquet of the Business and Professional Women held last evening in the Rotary Room of the McKenzie Hotel was well attended, many mothers and daughters being present. The program opened by the singing of old familiar songs led by Miss Bessie Baldwin.

Mrs. J. R. Parkes of Minneapolis, Regional Secretary of the League of Women Voters, gave a very interesting address on the Children's Amendment to the Constitution. She brought out the fact that if the women of this great nation would have a vision of what might be accomplished should they organize and stand united great things might be accomplished.

Mrs. Stuart Wainwright Cochran of Oak Park, Illinois, gave an interesting account of the welfare work that is being carried on in that city.

Mrs. O. Olson gave two very well rendered and well received readings.

Each member and guest was to come prepared with some childhood anecdote and many very clever and mirth provoking ones were given. All those present did not respond or even more interesting ones might have been given.

Presbyterian Church Opens Celebration

The Presbyterian church will observe the first part of their anniversary program this evening when they observe History Night. The foundation of the church was laid in October, 1884. It was completed in 1829. The chapel, an addition to the original structure was opened December 1, 1907. The present membership is 657.

Thursday afternoon, June 12th, the Women will hold their meeting at 3:00 o'clock in the auditorium of the church. A bronze tablet bearing the following inscription: "This tablet is presented by the women of the First Presbyterian Church of Bismarck, North Dakota at the celebration of the Fifty-fifth Anniversary, June 15, 1924, in grateful memory of the founders of this church: Rev. L. O. Sloan, Pastor, L. C. Adams, Mrs. M. A. Boswell, H. F. Douglas, J. W. Fisher and C. A. Lounsbury," will be dedicated at the service.

The following is the program which will be presented: "The Church's One Foundation," No. 304.

Devotionals by Mrs. O. W. King and Mrs. Mary E. Burton. Solo: "The Barefoot Trail—Wiggs." Mrs. Marvin Schoelkopf. Reading: "Sunset on the Prairies." J. W. Foley—Mrs. O. Olson. Solo: (Selected)—Mrs. J. P. French. Tribute to the Pioneers and Presentation of Tablet to the Founders of the Church—Miss Elizabeth Jones.

Prayer of Dedication—Mrs. Lewis Crawford. Announcements—Mrs. W. E. Perry. Closing Hymn: "Faith of Our Fathers," No. 422.

After the program a reception and tea will be held in the parlors.

PROGRESSIVE MOTHERS MEET

The Progressive Mothers' club held their regular meeting yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. R. Looker at 207 7th St., at which there was a good attendance as this was the last meeting until September. Some very much appreciated piano duets were rendered by Mrs. R. Looker and Mrs. Wilcox read President Roosevelt's address to the delegates of the First International Congress in America of the Welfare of the child. Roll Call was answered to by Famous Women which also formed the main topic of discussion. After the program the afternoon was spent in social discourse. Dainty refreshments were served. The club will have a picnic some time during the coming week.

LEAVES FOR EUROPE

Mrs. Sherping, wife of Adjutant Sherping of the Salvation Army will leave the first of the week on a trip to Europe. She will sail on the

IN COURT

Imogene Wilson, "Broadway's most beautiful," as she appeared in court to prosecute charges of assault against Frank Tinney, popular black-face comedian.

RICH, BELOVED, YET UNSPOILED

MARION TALLEY

By NEA Service

Kansas City, June 11.—Thousands of persons have called her a genius.

Offers of stage engagements have been thrust upon her.

Wealth has been piled at her doorstep.

Yet Marion Talley, 17, is just like any other girl of her age perhaps less a flapper than many.

With thousands of dollars a year placed at her disposal, Marion remains a simple midwestern child, helping her mother with the dishes in the evening.

Father, Telegraph Operator.

A few days ago she used rouge for the first time, and then it was because she was to appear before 8000 persons in a strong calcium light.

For Marion Talley is a singer.

She is going to be the greatest in the world, Kansas City folk think.

They discovered her two years ago. Her voice astounded music lovers. They predicted a glorious future.

Then it was learned that her father, a $150-a-month telephone operator could not afford a vocal education.

Friends Paid Tuition.

A fund was started, and $10,000 raised to pay for her schooling. She spent two years in New York, returning to Kansas City for the summer.

The best instructors were hired for her. "There is more money where that came from," citizens here told her. They made good their boast and enough money to continue her education another year was raised at a concert upon her return.

"I like to have my old school chums call on me," she says. "Yes, I'll marry some boy some day but not for a long time."

Yet the praise and patronage has left her unspoiled. She has rejected a $2000 a week vaudeville offer. She holds true to her ambition to become a great opera singer.

"The thing I liked most about New York were the rides on the motor busses," she says.

CITY NEWS

To Return Home.

Dr. J. B. Hollenbeck, U. S. veterinary inspector, who has been in California for the last few months, left for home today. He expects to return here sometime in July.

Bismarck Hospital.

Admitted to the Bismarck Hospital for treatment, W. H. Warnecke, Garrison; Miss Magdalene Rudolph, Wishek; Mrs. F. Fjeldal, Underwood; Mrs. Jens Jacobson, Golden Valley; Carroll Meidinger, Ashley; Miss Selma Stosen, Taylor.

Discharged, Mr. Theo. Feland, Sims; Mrs. W. E. Soverign, Beulah; Mrs. Ole Uilsson, Kintyre.

At The Movies.

AT THE CAPITOL.

In filming "The Way of a Man" as a Emerson Hough's novel, Pathé picture, for the several difficult masculine roles of the story it became necessary for George B. Seitz, director, to employ genuine westerners because of the fast riding, dangerous fights and necessary "bump of location."

One of these roles was assigned to Chet Ryan, an ex-cowboy from Wyoming. He plays Mandy McGovern's cowardly son, Andy. Whitehouse was an ideal and natural selection for the role of Aubrey, the scout, Whitehouse having been raised by Indians who stole him from his white parents.

"The Way of a Man" will be shown at the Capitol Theatre tomorrow.

THE ELTINGE.

Human interest is the greatest factor in entertainment and it is the picture with players doing things, saying things and thinking as the spectator would think that arouse the interest of and entertain the onlooker. Those who remember "The Dangerous Age" with its human, intelligent story, and players will be anxious to see "Why Men Leave Home" a story equally interesting with Lewis Stone again in the part of the husband who backslides. The picture shows at the Eltinge theatre, today and Thursday. "Plastigrams" the third dimension movie continues on the Eltinge program.

I hereby announce that I am a candidate at the Primary Election to be held June 25, 1924, for the office of County Treasurer of Burleigh County. Your vote will be appreciated.

Geo. Boelter, Arena, N. D. (Political Advertisement)

Read Tribune Want Ads.

RETURNS FROM CONVENTION.

Adjutant and Mrs. Sherping of the Salvation Army, who have been attending the State Young People's Convention being held at Devils Lake have returned to the city. They report a good attendance at the convention, fifteen delegates having attended from Bismarck.

RETURNS HOME.

Andrew Nelson of Fergus Falls, Minnesota, has returned to his home after a week's visit with his daughter, Mrs. F. C. Ellsworth and Miss Alice Nelson.

L. T. L. TO MEET.

The L. T. L. will meet at the Baptist church at 2 p. m. tomorrow.

Read Tribune Want Ads.

TYPEWRITERS OF ALL MAKES Rented—Repaired Sold on Easy Payments. Bismarck Typewriter Co. 207 Broadway

Kiddies' Evening Story

By MARY GRAHAM BONNER

Great Shepherd Dog

"I heard this story a little while ago," said Daddy, "and it is a true story."

"There was a little girl, and she had gone off to look for spring flowers. She loved the flowers of the spring, and she thought she would find some near an old swamp which was some little distance from her home."

Off she went, and after she had walked along she plucked many blossoms.

"On She Went."

"Oh, she was getting so lonesome that she could hardly hold them all."

"Some of them dropped from her hands, but she held closely to the rest. She did not pick up the few which had fallen, for she wanted to find some May flowers or trailing arbutus flowers which she knew were not far away."

"And she wanted to be able to hold some of these, too."

"She only had two hands and a little basket which was on her wrist and which was already half filled."

"So she went, and along by her side went her dog. He was a shepherd dog and was a pet of everyone in the family."

"But this little girl loved him, she thought, more than any of the others did."

"For no one could love him as much as she did. She was quite sure of that."

"On and on they went. And before long they reached the swamp."

"She had planned to go around it and see what she could find."

"But she saw some pretty blossoms growing in the center of the swamp, and thought she would go over and pick them."

"When she went over, though, she began to slip and felt herself sinking down."

"She had heard of soft, soft, wickedly wicked soft ground which was called quagmire, and which held people as prisoners, drawing them down, down, and not letting them go."

"As she began to sink she tried to take a step further on, but she only went down further. She could not step anywhere without sinking, sinking. It seemed."

"She shepherd dog saw her. He rushed quickly to her, and he, too, started to slip. But he was lighter than she, and, to, he was on a bit of earth not quite so treacherous and wicked."

"It was bad enough, though."

"He, too, slipped down. But he had grabbed hold of her, and she had grabbed hold of him."

"He was holding her so that just her head and shoulders were above the awful earth."

"He held on and held on. He barked and she tried to call for help."

"But no one was near. The house was far away and no one thought she would be in danger."

"After awhile they were so exhausted they could not call or bark. She held on to her dog. He held her up with all the strength he could. In his splendid dog body, though his legs were held fast by the mud."

"All night long he held her. It seemed as though his strength would give out, but his splendid bravery and love of her and forgetfulness of himself made him able to last through the whole night."

"In the morning they were found."

"The little girl's brother had traced her by the flowers which she had dropped as she had walked along."

"She was in 'She Tried to bed for a day 'Take a Step.' or so, but no ill results happened, and both she and her dear shepherd dog were soon as well as ever."

"And the shepherd dog, great, splendid, devoted pet that he was, was so happy that she was safe that he couldn't think of himself as brave—only as being happy that his little mistress was safe."

(© 1924, Western Newspaper Union.)

Cook by Electricity. It is Safe.

Keep storage battery well filled, especially in summer.

Go To The Bismarck Shoe Hospital For First Class Shoe Repairing. H. BURMAN, Prop.

Jessie M. Van Hock Candidate For Register of Deeds Burleigh County Primary Election June 25th, 1924. Five years experience. Your vote will be appreciated. (Pol. Adv.)

KITCHEN CUPBOARD

By NELLIE MAXWELL

AUTUMN DISHES

The following is a relish which will be enjoyed during the winter to serve with meats:

Pepper Relish.—Remove the seeds from six red and six green peppers; cut away all the white inner fiber; add six peeled onions and put through a meat chopper. Put into a saucepan, cover with boiling water and let stand five minutes. Drain, add one cupful of sugar, two tablespoonfuls of salt and one and one-half cupfuls of vinegar. Bring to the boiling point and boil twenty minutes. Store in glass jars.

Hominy, Southern Style.—Mix one cupful of boiling water with a teaspoonful of salt and add, gradually, while stirring constantly, three-quarters of a cupful of the hominy. Bring to the boiling point and let boil two minutes. Then cook in a double boiler until the water is absorbed. Add one cupful of milk, stirring thoroughly, and cook one hour. Remove from the range and add one-quarter of a cupful of butter, one tablespoonful of sugar, one egg slightly beaten, and one cupful of milk. Turn into a buttered dish and bake in a slow oven one hour.

Cream Pie.—Bake three nine-inch circular pieces of pastry and put together with the following filling: Mix seven-eighths of a cupful of sugar, one-third of a cupful of flour, one-eighth of a teaspoonful of salt and pour on a one and one-half cupfuls of boiling hot milk. Cook fifteen minutes in a double boiler. Add the yolks of two eggs and cook one minute. Cool, add one-half cupful of stiffly-beaten cream and flavor with vanilla.

Lettuce With Martinique Dressing.—Mix one-half teaspoonful of salt with one-quarter teaspoonful of pepper, two tablespoonfuls of vinegar, four tablespoonfuls of olive oil, one-half tablespoonful of finely chopped green pepper and one-half teaspoonful of finely-minced parsley. Chill and shake well before using.

(© 1923, Western Newspaper Union.)

France doubts the wisdom of installing radio sets in hospitals.

Try grounding the cores of the transformers for quieter operation.

Keep Them Ship Shape

Inactive kidneys pile up trouble. They should be given a good flushing with the aid of a diuretic stimulant, having a mild tonic effect—not due to harmful drugs.

Demand—Foley Pills

A diuretic stimulant for the kidneys

They Are Sold Everywhere

DOCTOR M. E. BOLTON Osteopath

Specialist in Chronic Diseases

Telephone 240 119 1/2—4th St. Bismarck, N. D.

DOCTOR M. E. BOLTON Osteopath

Specialist in Chronic Diseases

Telephone 240 119 1/2—4th St. Bismarck, N. D.

DOCTOR M. E. BOLTON Osteopath

Specialist in Chronic Diseases

Telephone 240 119 1/2—4th St. Bismarck, N. D.

DOCTOR M. E. BOLTON Osteopath

Specialist in Chronic Diseases

Telephone 240 119 1/2—4th St. Bismarck, N. D.

DOCTOR M. E. BOLTON Osteopath

Specialist in Chronic Diseases

Telephone 240 119 1/2—4th St. Bismarck, N. D.

DOCTOR M. E. BOLTON Osteopath

Specialist in Chronic Diseases

Telephone 240 119 1/2—4th St. Bismarck, N. D.

DOCTOR M. E. BOLTON Osteopath

Specialist in Chronic Diseases

Telephone 240 119 1/2—4th St. Bismarck, N. D.

DOCTOR M. E. BOLTON Osteopath

Specialist in Chronic Diseases

Telephone 240 119 1/2—4th St. Bismarck, N. D.

DOCTOR M. E. BOLTON Osteopath

Specialist in Chronic Diseases

Telephone 240 119 1/2—4th St. Bismarck, N. D.

DOCTOR M. E. BOLTON Osteopath

Specialist in Chronic Diseases

Telephone 240 119 1/2—4th St. Bismarck, N. D.

DOCTOR M. E. BOLTON Osteopath

Specialist in Chronic Diseases

Telephone 240 119 1/2—4th St. Bismarck, N. D.

DOCTOR M. E. BOLTON Osteopath

Specialist in Chronic Diseases

Telephone 240 119 1/2—4th St. Bismarck, N. D.

DOCTOR M. E. BOLTON Osteopath

Specialist in Chronic Diseases

Telephone 240 119 1/2—4th St. Bismarck, N. D.

DOCTOR M. E. BOLTON Osteopath

Specialist in Chronic Diseases

Telephone 240 119 1/2—4th St. Bismarck, N. D.

DOCTOR M. E. BOLTON Osteopath

Specialist in Chronic Diseases

Telephone 240 119 1/2—4th St. Bismarck, N. D.

DOCTOR M. E. BOLTON Osteopath

Specialist in Chronic Diseases

Telephone 240 119 1/2—4th St. Bismarck, N. D.

THE BISMARCK TRIBUNE

Entered at the Postoffice, Bismarck, N. D., as Second Class Matter.

BISMARCK TRIBUNE CO. Publishers

Foreign Representatives
G. LOGAN PAYNE COMPANY
CHICAGO Marquette Bldg. DETROIT Kresge Bldg.
NEW YORK PAYNE, BURNS AND SMITH Fifth Ave. Bldg.

MEMBER OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use or republication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper and also the local news published herein.
All rights of republication of special dispatches herein are also reserved.

MEMBER AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATION

SUBSCRIPTION RATES PAYABLE IN ADVANCE
Daily by carrier, per year.....$7.20
Daily by mail, per year (in Bismarck)..... 7.20
Daily by mail, per year (in state outside Bismarck).... 5.00
Daily by mail, outside of North Dakota..... 6.00

THE STATE'S OLDEST NEWSPAPER
(Established 1873)

THE BURTON KEYNOTE

The keynote speech of Representative Theodore Burton before the Republican National Convention approached the subject of the party's claim to continued power from a broad viewpoint. His speech was an effective answer to those who have assailed the party as a "do nothing party" and who have declared it was managed and led by men out of touch with the change and progress of the nation. Mr. Burton cited among the accomplishments of his party in the last four years the following:

Restored confidence in business after the war, ended unemployment and set the wheels of industry humming.
Reduced the nation's debt of twenty-four billions by two billions in three years, truly a remarkable piece of governmental financing.

The 1921 revenue bill cut taxes eight hundred millions.
The foreign debt was funded in a manner to leave no present controversies.

The Veterans Bureau was formed to clean up the tangled mess of the disabled veterans departments.
Prompt aid was given to starving Russia, proof of the humanity of America.

Looking to the future the administration is committed to the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence waterways.

Immigration bills restricting admissions are especially beneficial to labor; a constitutional amendment to prohibit child labor was called for; the policy of protection for industries was adhered to party as a means of preventing unemployment.

The first great limitations of armament treaty was proclaimed.

The party's leaders are committed to the World Court, to other measures to increase the strength and prestige of the nation abroad, to bring peace in the world, careful management and reduced expenditures to reduce taxes at home.

The party stands for regulation of industry to protect the public rights, rather than governmental ownership of industries.

In summarizing the efforts of Republican leaders in behalf of the farmer, Mr. Burton said:

"With a sincere desire to render assistance, legislation was adopted in the sixty-seventh Congress in generous measure. Credit to any political party, has stated that the sixty-seventh Congress accomplished more for the farmer than any Congress for 50 years. There was an act passed for continuance of the War Finance Corporation, and nearly $300,000,000 were advanced to farming communities; an emergency tariff act on leading grain and other products was adopted; legislation was enacted in a so-called packers' bill to protect the rights of the stock raiser; also one limiting dealings in grain futures to prevent the farmer from being the victim of manipulation; twenty-five additional millions were advanced for the Federal Farm Loan Board; an agricultural credit act was passed at the end of the sixty-seventh Congress, providing for both public and private agencies to aid the farmer in securing credit at as low a rate as possible; the need of facilities for borrowing, but still far-reaching in its provisions. A cooperative marketing act was passed, a beginning in the furtherance of methods for organization and distribution which it is hoped, will place the farmer in the enjoyment of the same advantages in marketing the gap between the producer and the consumer as those enjoyed in other branches of endeavor."

Further Mr. Burton said: "The Republican party has shown its willingness to extend liberality to the last degree in the enactment of legislation which will aid the farmer, but it cannot respond to impracticable theories or accept measures which will only aggravate the situation."

Mr. Burton stated the three courses open to the government in relation to economic activities, the old doctrine of laissez faire, the control and management of a central government with incidents of public ownership and operation, and hopeless bureaucracy; or regulation representing the power of great corporations or combinations, with equal care guarding against the evils of unrestrained competition. This third is the Republican doctrine securing for the individual quality of opportunity and avoiding the ills of an unwieldy centralized government. The party has not hesitated to espouse regulation measures affecting great wealth.

Mr. Burton repeated that the Republican party does not condone misdeeds in office, and the prompt action of Congress in giving the President power to act, and the prompt action of President Coolidge, was evidence to the nation during the oil lease disclosures that wrong-doing is not condoned by the actual leaders of the nation.

The keynote speaker did not propose new or popular methods of appeal to the country for the party, nor does it appear likely that the Cleveland convention will descend to the level of demagogues in order to select a popular campaign issue. The party can only appeal on its record for the past half century, during which the nation has made its greatest progress. It is a record to inspire trust and confidence.

BUGS

German farmers are less interested in reparations and finance than in the potato bug which is marching from France to invade their fields. Quarantine is being established along the border. It's charged that the A. E. F. brought the potato bug into France. That is not improbable. It might have been by way of revenge for French cooties. The potato bug is the mainspring of German agriculture. Quite naturally. Heine is more worried about the potato bug than our south about the boll weevil.

HEINIE

The Germans are getting ready for something. Just what, isn't clear. But the government centered in Berlin is spending less than it's collecting in taxes and so on—saving as much as five million dollars a week.

This results from the 20 per cent increase in taxes. The European situation begins to look more promising, with money piling up in Germany for reparations. Or will it be used for that?

Editorial Review

Comments reproduced in this column may or may not express the opinion of The Tribune. They are presented here in order that our readers may have both sides of important issues which are being discussed in the press of the day.

THE FIGHTING NORTHWEST

Something of the good humor and the determined spirit with which most of the northwest is facing its troubles was reflected in a special edition of the Glasgow, Montana, Democrat, issued on the occasion of the arrival of the Oriental Limited with its cargo of eastern and mid-western writers alert to learn how the northwest was faring.

As was explained several days ago in the Round Table the northwest is fondling a little grudge against Garret, an able writer on economic topics, who in a series of magazine articles (the first one being entitled "That Pain in Our Northwest") has been pointing out the troubles in that section. Northwesterners contend that Mr. Garret overlooked certain compensatory conditions.

"Glasgow has three physicians and surgeons, one chiropractor and two dentists," commented the Glasgow Democrat in its special edition. "Drop in any time you get a pain in the northwest."

And then there was comment in a more serious tone:

A great many of our farms are not heavily encumbered; none are mortgaged to an extent even to compare with land mortgages in states in the east. Many of our farmers are out of debt. They haven't plunged, but have been content with what they could pay cash for. These have raised their living on their farms.

We would like to get a little more for our wheat, sheep and cattle, or on the other hand, we could get along nicely on present prices, for what we sell if we didn't have to pay quite so much for what we have to buy. But, paradoxically, we can get along all right as it is!

We are not so sure about those flat measures designed—allegedly—to "put agriculture on its feet," but we believe that the tariff needs fixing. The same determined temper, and the same skepticism as to the efficacy of governmental measures were generally encountered by the eastern and midwestern pilgrims in their tour of investigation. The northwest is riding itself of its pain without patent medicines.—Chicago Journal of Commerce.

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS

BY OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

"Where are your tickets?" asked the timoness as Nancy and Nick and Johnny Jump Up, the garden fairy, hopped on his back, reaching into his pocket.

The timoness put on his specks and looked at them by the light of the moon. Each ticket said "One round trip to Holland! There and back!"

He punched a hole in each one with his sharp little beak and stuffed them into his pocket.

"All aboard! Ding, ding!" he cried, and flew off in a hurry.

Away they went over tree tops and fields and hills and houses until they came to the sea.

Then they flew over the sea toward the sun-rise and then they came to Holland.

The timoness lighted on a red roof with a big chimney. "It's daylight here but it's night at home," he explained. "Now have a good time, all of you. I'll be back at half past ten to take you back to the magic garden. Be here promptly and please don't keep me waiting."

"We won't," promised the travelers.

Away flew the timoness.

"How'd do," said a new voice.

And there stood a tall stork beside a great nest, right on the roof beside them.

"How'd do!" said Nancy and Nick and Johnny Jump Up.

"Pretty well," said the stork. "Did you come to see the magic garden?"

"No," answered the little garden fairy. "We came from the magic garden, though, and that's just as good. The tulips there are wonderful!"

"Pooh!" said the stork sharply out of his sharp bill. "Just look over the edge of the roof there and you'll see what tulips really are."

So all three of them ran and looked. "That's nothing!" called back Johnny Jump Up. "We have that many at home."

But no sooner were they all seated on Mr. Stark's long bill, than he went "school! school! school!"

And away shot the three little people like beans out of a bean shooter.

For the Twins were as tiny as the little fairy himself, with their magic shoes on.

Mr. Stark flapped his wings and flew after them. "Oh, I beg your pardon," he said. "But you see you tickled my nose so I just had to sneeze. Now hop on again and I'll be more careful. I'll show you all the sights of Holland."

Soon they were all sitting on Mister Stork's nose again. And he flew to a place where there were growing such a large field of them that no matter where you looked, there were tulips.

"How lovely!" cried Nancy. "It looks as though a rainbow had fallen from the sky and broken to pieces."

"Yes, doesn't it?" agreed the stork. "Holland supplies the world with tulips. Even years in your garden at home came from here, in the first place."

"And now," said the stork, "we will go to another place."

(To Be Continued)
(Copyright, 1924, NEA Service, Inc.)

Broadcasting of news in India is forbidden.

Unrestricted

Just when it looked as if crimes would slack up a bit, people started asking, "Well, is it hot enough for you?"

The fellow who has been hating to carry out the ashes has started hating to cut the weeds.

When a check comes back marked "No Account" it is talking about the man who wrote it.

Most people who have nothing to do make the mistake of doing it.

No wonder girls learn to swim more easily than men. Who wants to teach a man to swim?

Money isn't everything. The man with the most costly fishing tackle catches the least fish.

Lots of people think the world owes them five or six innings.

If you say business is worse during a presidential year it is only because everybody else says the same.

Next to a secret the hardest thing to keep is a beautiful complexion.

A pessimist is a man who wants things different even after they are.

You can't uplift people by sitting down on them.

Mind your own business or you will undermine your own business.

If you would be healthy and wealthy and wise, never laugh at a woman with tears in her eyes.

Trouble with being down in the mouth is it gets you up in the air.

Perhaps the quickest way for a man to start a long series of arguments is by disagreeing over his wife's wall paper selections.

You don't have to nurse a grudge very carefully to make it grow.

Throwing cold water on a project always dampens the enthusiasm.

A fool and his money are not parted in a porch swing.

Having to swallow insults is very hard on a man's indigestion.

There is no very noticeable decrease in the signs of the income tax.

DO YOU KNOW—

That it rained?

That our worries about this year's crop are practically over?

That business should go on "as usual"?

That while we will, later, need more rain, that this one will take our crops safely through the first half of the "danger period"?

That our soil continues to be in the best condition it has been since 1916?

That the Iowa and Illinois corn crop is fully two weeks late and that fully one half of it will have to be reseeded, making that half later yet?

That this means that our farmers will have to force their corn through, as they can do by careful and continual cultivating, so that we can this fall and next spring do on a large scale what we did in the spring of 1918 on a small scale, that is, send seed corn to Minnesota, Iowa and South Dakota. If we can do that, and our farmers can, it means a good dollar per bushel for our corn this fall instead of fifty cents for last year's crop.

Do you know what that will mean to us here? We will give you guesses.

That the Government crop reports

FABLES ON HEALTH
SWAT THE FLY

With the arrival of summer days, Anytown began to organize its annual fly swatting campaign—largely because flies became bothersome. But with little thought for the fundamental reason for such drives.

The part played by flies as disease carriers is emphasized each season. Flies carry germs from the streets, from sick rooms, from garbage and cellars and awamps, and almost everywhere. They can carry these germs directly to a baby's lips, to the food or milk, or water. Typhoid and other epidemics have been almost directly traced to flies.

Thus also mosquitoes have provided in their bodies a place for malaria germs to grow—that the mosquito does not mechanically carry malaria, but breeds the fever germs in its body.

Help your city in the campaigns to fight these pests and improve the civic hygiene!

A Day With the Candidates
Thompson Keeps "Boyhood Punch"

By NEA Service

Washington, June 11.—Back in the '90's Huston Thompson was the champion prizefighter in his class at Princeton.

Today, the same Huston Thompson, now chairman of the Federal Trade Commission, still has the old punch.

He's intensely interested in any outdoor recreation you name and is a peppy individual even when plugging away at his desk.

Thompson rises at 6 a. m. and eats a light breakfast.

Then he's off on a three-mile hike to his office. Walking, he says, has kept him in fine athletic trim—and he looks the part.

The morning hours are spent at his desk and at noon he walks to some eat shop a mile or so in town, or, if too busy, sends out to a nearby cafeteria for a sandwich.

The afternoon, until around 3, is given over to more business, and then there's a snappy walk home.

Then he and his 14-year-old daughter go out for a set or two of tennis.

Thompson is a golf enthusiast, but finds little time for it these days.

EVERETT TRUE BY CONDO

NOW, MR. TRUE, THIS IS NOT GOING TO HURT YOU. YOU HAVE ONLY A SUPERFICIAL CUTANEOUS ABRASION, BUT IT IS BEST IN THIS CASE TO HASTEN THE HEALING PROCESS BY IRRITATING THE AFFECTED AREA.

WILL POWER IS LOSING OUT

By Albert Apple

As soon as you started to school, you began to hear about the miraculous possibilities of will power. It is necessary propaganda to keep us from becoming discouraged too easily.

Will power is undoubtedly a mighty weapon. But isn't there too much Big Talk about it? Deep down in our hearts, every one of us has a sneaking suspicion that the power of the will is exaggerated.

If a new-born baby could see into the future, he'd discover that 95 per cent of his life is cut-and-dried—staged for him by forces and situations that are totally beyond his control, even though he had the will power of Niagara Falls.

We don't need to consult a clairvoyant to learn most of the things that will happen to us. Take the child. In school he pores over textbooks that were in the making thousands of years before he was born. It is inevitable that he will recite "Paul Revere," play hide-and-seek and have to take an occasional dose of castor oil.

The child matures into a social and economic system that changes only by the slow processes of evolution. He and his will power have no more to do with the preparation of this system than actors have in writing the plays for long-dead Shakespeare.

The system changes as time rolls on, yes. But the individual is the slave of the system, and it changes only by mass movements of humanity, without regard to the individual and his reputed will power.

Few of the really important things of life are the result of personal will power. Sickness certainly is not acquired by any exercise of the will. Love comes phantom-like, emotional, no will. Marriage occasionally is the result of will power, but usually it's following the line of least resistance toward comfort.

Comes, finally, death, and removes us from the stage to make room for another even though we have a will like steel.

In toiling for success, however, will power is mighty. This is its real domain—the acquisition of fame and wealth. Without will power and plenty of it, failure or near-failure is almost certain. But after all, are fame and wealth the really important things of life? They are dim shadows behind the brilliance of happiness, content and spiritual improvement—the real purpose of life.

LETTER FROM SALLY ATHERTON TO BEATRICE GRIMSHAW, CONTINUED

My employer's mother is staying with him while Leslie is away. She is one of those awfully good women who have utterly infallible rules of conduct, and she never by any possibility thinks that her son, who is a descendant of the John Alden you know, could really do anything wrong. She must be kind of a nuisance to poor Leslie.

Just at present her time is taken up with talking about and hunting for a 'secret drawer' in a lovely old desk that she herself gave Leslie for a wedding present. Wouldn't it be a scream if she should find that drawer before Leslie returns, and also find something in it that Leslie himself has put there?

If there is a secret drawer I'm sure that Leslie knows about it. You know how mad she is about old furniture.

However, Ruth Ellington is singularly keeping quite as much tabs on me as Sydney Carter is on Mr. Prescott. Just why, I do not know for up to date nothing could be more innocuous than my relations with my employer.

I expect you will be horrified when you know that although I had never been to Leslie's home when she was there to dine, I have been twice to dinner since she has been away. Do you know, Bee, I felt sorry for Mr. Prescott. He was tired and somewhat irritable, and I knew he just dreaded to go home to that old woman, even if she was his mother. So I took pity on him. I have taken pity on him many other evenings since Leslie has been gone, and dined with him. Perhaps it wasn't just right, but he is lonely, and so am I. He interests me and I think I amuse him.

There, I know, Bee, that just now is one of the times when you do not approve of me. But why shouldn't I have a little entertainment? Surely, Mr. Prescott is not just a baby, and I am so tired of being called upon not only to regulate my own morals but the morals of the men with whom I associate.

And now, just at the end of my letter I am going to tell you something that will perhaps surprise you. I think I am being a little malicious because I am a little jealous of Leslie—not particularly of her husband, but of her everyday life, her beautiful home, her lovely baby—yes, add that charming, if narrow-minded, old woman for a mother-in-law, and her friend, Ruth Ellington, who loves her devotedly.

Every you, Bee, the dearest friend I have ever had, have never cared for me as Ruth Ellington does for Leslie. I am afraid I shall never call out such love from anyone, man or woman. Perhaps it is because I do not deserve it; but, Bee, I am I am, and if you care for me at all, you must care for me as

SALLY ATHERTON.
(Copyright, 1924, NEA Service, Inc.)

MANDAN NEWS

A marriage license was issued yesterday by County Judge Shaw to Wm. Slavich of Adson and Louise M. Katske of Sweet Briar.

Construction work on the new dormitory, which is being erected at the State Training school, is progressing rapidly and brick masons are now rapidly raising the walls. The foundation concrete was poured last week. Supt. McWilliam is certain that the building will be ready for occupancy before next winter sets in. The building will cost about $60,000.

AT BRATTON
Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hainley and family and Miss Ethel Hight have returned from Fairbank, Minn., where they had been to attend the graduating exercises at Shattuck Military academy. James Hainley, Jr., being a member of the graduating class, Judge Hainley returned to the city by train, the rest of the family making the trip by automobile.

FORESTERS MEET
Nearly fifty delegates from as many lodges of the Catholic Order of Foresters arrived in the city for the annual meeting of the North Dakota state court. Sessions opened yesterday at St. Joseph's school auditorium following a high mass at St. Joseph's Church.

Due to the fact that it was incumbent upon him to accompany a special Great Northern train, which is carrying a large number of eastern newspaper men and writers, a "leave" was taken about the state grand ranger of the order and who is also district governor of the Rotary, was unable to be in attendance. He is an assistant to the president of the Great Northern railway, having recently moved to St. Paul from Devils Lake.

A Thought

He that corrects his sins shall not prosper; but whose confession and forsaking them shall have mercy.—Prov. 28:13.

A man should never be ashamed to own he has been in the wrong, which is by saying, in other words, that he is wiser today than he was yesterday.—Pope.

Piles Can Be Cured Without Surgery

An instructive book has been published by Dr. A. S. McCreary, the noted rectal specialist of Kansas City. This book tells how sufferers from Piles can be quickly and easily cured without the use of knife, scalpel, "hot" iron, electricity or any other cutting or burning method, without confinement to bed and no hospital bills to pay. The method has been a success for twenty-four years and in more than eight thousand cases. The book is sent postpaid free to persons afflicted with piles or other rectal troubles who clip this item and mail it with name and address to Dr. McCreary, 1248 Oakview Station, Kansas City, Mo.

Sports

SISLER GETS CERTIFICATE

Is Called Most Valuable Player in 1922

Chicago, June 11.—George Sisler, first baseman and manager of the St. Louis Browns, was presented with a handsomely mounted certificate, designating him as the most valuable player in the American League in 1922, but his team failed to win before a crowd of 20,000 in St. Louis yesterday. With Hoyt pitching fine ball, the Yanks blanked the Browns, 5 to 0.

Falk's home run in the thirteenth gave the Chicago White Sox a 3 to 2 victory over Boston yesterday. The venerable Larry Gardner, pinch hitting, aided Cleveland to beat Washington, 4 to 3, while Philadelphia made three runs in the ninth to win from Detroit, 4 to 3.

In the Nationals Pittsburgh beat New York, 10 to 6. Brooklyn beat Chicago, 4 to 2, with Dutch Reuther hurling. Jess Barnes pitched good ball against St. Louis, and Boston won, 6 to 2, while three home runs enabled Cincinnati to beat Philadelphia, 4 to 2.

BASEBALL

American Association	W.	L.	Pct.
St. Paul	34	17	.667
Indianapolis	26	20	.565
Louisville	23	19	.548
Kansas City	24	25	.490
Columbus	22	25	.468
Minneapolis	22	26	.458
Milwaukee	18	27	.400
Toledo	17	27	.386

National League	W.	L.	Pct.
New York	30	18	.625
Chicago	28	20	.583
Brooklyn	25	20	.556
Cincinnati	25	22	.523
Boston	21	22	.488
Pittsburgh	21	25	.457
St. Louis	19	29	.396
Philadelphia	15	28	.349

American League	W.	L.	Pct.
Boston	25	18	.581
New York	25	18	.581
Detroit	27	22	.551
St. Louis	23	23	.500
Washington	21	24	.467
Chicago	20	23	.465
Cleveland	19	24	.442
Philadelphia	18	26	.409

Games Today

Milwaukee at Columbus.
Kansas City at Toledo.
St. Paul at Indianapolis.
Minneapolis at Louisville.

National League

St. Louis at Boston.
Cincinnati at Philadelphia.
Chicago at Brooklyn.
Pittsburgh at New York.

American League

Washington at St. Louis.
Boston at Cleveland.
New York at Detroit.
Philadelphia at Chicago.

RAILROADERS WIN GAME

The Transportation team defeated the Hardwares in the City Commercial Baseball League last night, 15 to 4. The rain storm stopped the game after four and a half innings. Free hitting marked the contest.

Batteries for the Transportation team were Sorlien and Svendsgaard, and for the Hardwares, Critz and Riley. There was a noticeable increase in attendance last night.

Billy Evans Says

Jot down Mr. Weather Man as a pennant factor.

He will have considerable to say as to who will win the 1924 flags in the major leagues.

The double-header menace is already looming up big before the eyes of a half dozen major league leaders.

Perhaps no two managers fear it more than Miller Huggins of the Yankees and John McGraw of the Giants.

The leaders of the two pennant winning New York clubs must overcome it if they are to repeat.

Practically every major league leader is seeking pitching strength.

The staffs of many of the big league clubs are unbalanced. Several have capable first string men, but none for relief or emergency work. Some have only one or two first string men with many promising recruits.

Double headers are a great strain on a pitching staff. Proper selection of pitchers must be guided by the rest the men receive between starts.

A succession of double headers often so throws a staff out of routine that it is weeks before it is back in shape and running smoothly again.

It is doubtful if there ever has been a worse spring for baseball than the 1924 spring. During the first two months of play there were not more than a dozen really good days. Many games were played under unfavorable conditions. The result: many double headers for later on.

The Yankees are going to feel the handicap of the double header in this respect.

In the spring, with a first string pitching staff going great, it would have been to the Yankees' advantage to have played every game. The world champion has the edge.

Several opposing clubs will have

THIS TINY MITE DIRECTS HUSKY VARSITY OARSMEN

TAD SHEPPERD

The youngest coxswain in 15-year-old Tad Shepperd, who guides the husky eight-oar varsity crew of the Episcopal Academy of Philadelphia, which was entered in the Yale regatta at Derby, Conn. Shepperd weighs 65 pounds with his megaphone.

Old Catching Stars Begin To Pass Out in Both Leagues—Brooklyn Kid Best of Newcomers

By Billy Evans

The standard of major league catching is constantly fluctuating.

Good catchers seem to run in cycles. When a crop of veteran stars begin to fade for a few years the catching end of the game suffers.

With the quality of major league catchers starting to drop below par, the star of several famous receivers called to the rookies.

In the National League the Brooklyn Superbas the National League believes it has one of the coming stars, a catcher who will soon take his place with the leaders.

In the American League time and service is beginning to show on the brilliant Ray Schalk, the clever Steve O'Neill and the hard-working Wally Schang. Hank Severely is one veteran who seems as good as ever.

Veterans Slowing Up

A similar condition exists in the National League. Several of the stars of yesterday are beginning to slow up. Any number of major league leaders are crying for catchers.

Take the Giants of today. The catching staff is made up of three veterans, Hank Gowdy, Frank Snyder and Eddie Ahnsmith. All have passed the 30 mark.

A few years ago the National League picked up two great young catchers in "Butch" Heintze and Bob O'Farrell. Manager Bill Killefer benefited by the bad spring. The Chicago White Sox, for instance, have been without a manager and two of their best pitchers, Faber and Robertson.

The Cleveland club suffered a general slump, and the Detroit team suffered for a time because of injuries to a trio of regular pitchers.

Undoubtedly, the first string pitching staff of the Yankees, which will have to carry most of the burden, will be put to a hard test because of the many double headers.

A similar condition exists with the Giants. McGraw's reserve strength is probably stronger than the Yanks, but he lacks as many capable first string men.

Manager Miller Huggins of the Yankees isn't much concerned about the state of affairs. "It's just as hard for the other club to win double headers, if not a little harder," was his laconic observation.

Don't Blame Clubs

If You Can't Putt

BY JOE WILLIAMS

In the matter of putting one style seems to be about as good as another. Likewise one style of putter is about as good as another. That is about all there is to putting.

Walter Travis champion in the days gone by, used a freak putter—the Schenck-style—great success. He went abroad and won the British

Some rollers get the notion they are poor putters and never get over it. Needless experiments with new clubs and theories only serve to heighten their difficulties.

It was years before Chick Evans, the Chicago amateur, developed a dependable putting touch. A master of all other strokes, Evans was helpless on the greens and lost championship after championship.

In his first national championship, at Brookline, if memory serves, he used a midiron on the greens, largely as a youthful experiment. He imagined the left of the club helped him on long roll-up putts.

This was the beginning of a series of experiments which ended finally with a gift putter from an old friend, Snake Ames, of Princeton football fame, a curious looking instrument which had all the architectural aspects of a potato masher.

As a putter the Ames' creation was no better or worse than the simple straight-faced blade so generally used; but Evans had the happy break to put it like a fiend the first time he used it. Faith whispers: "That's the club you have been waiting for." It was. Evans has used it ever since and is now accounted one of the game's surest putters.

When Gates died in 1911 he left a fortune of nearly $200,000,000, which dispersed allegations of slush fund methods and the question that all plungers eventually are wiped out and become objects of charity.—New York Times.

Old but Good

A young lady sat next to a distinguished bishop at a church dinner. She was rather awed by the bishop's presence. For some time she hesitated to speak to him. Finally, seeing some bananas passed, she seized the opportunity to start conversation with him and said:

"I beg your pardon, but are you fond of bananas?"

The bishop was slightly deaf, and leaning toward her, replied:

"Pardon me, but what did you say?"

"I said," repeated the young lady, blushing furiously, "do you like bananas?"

The bishop pondered the question gravely for a moment, and then answered: "It is a curious question, but if you wish my honest opinion, I have always preferred the old-fashioned night shirt."—Harper's Weekly.

St. Paul's Cathedral, London, contains the Chapel of the Order of St. Michael and St. George, which is used only once a year.

Yep, the Duke Admits Teaching Is Royal Fun

Once the greatest swimmer in the world, The Duke, Mr. Kahanamoku to be formal, is now a swimming instructor in the Golden West, and a very competent one, if you must know. You see him here giving a none-too-hard-to-look-at pupil a few ins and outs about the science of aquatics.

Discovers Great Gold Mine North of Toronto

Gold prospecting is among the world's romantic adventures, and in its annals that of the discovery of the great Hollinger mine, some 500 miles north of Toronto, in Canada. Thirteen years ago a young man, Ben Hollinger by name, was tramping through the low bush country of his eyes happened to light upon an outcrop of rock in a desolate waste. He struggled over to it, and on examination found it contained gold. Today the Hollinger mine rivals the great mines of South Africa, and last year outstripped the greatest of the world's gold mines, which had previously held the world's record for gold output. It covers 400 acres, and below its rugged surface run nearly 45 miles of tunnels and an electric railway system. The great mills roar day and night, and every month 900,000 gold leaves the refinery. There are more than 2,000 men employed in the mine, mostly working underground, and they never see gold at all. They are surrounded by gold, yet all they see is the dirty gray rock being scooped up and taken to the refinery.

Gates Disproved Charge That He Was Careless

John W. Gates' first large scale speculative venture, a merger of what many would-be plungers find on their Wall street raids. Late in the last century Gates was the main backbone of two steel companies, Federal Steel and American Steel and Wire, with a total capitalization of nearly $200,000,000.

These organizations were merged with the United States Steel corporation, but Gates was refused a place with the new combination. He was told his business methods were careless, whereupon he founded the Republic Iron and Steel company, which became a thorn in the side of the United States Steel company.

When Gates died in 1911 he left a fortune of nearly $200,000,000, which dispersed allegations of slush fund methods and the question that all plungers eventually are wiped out and become objects of charity.—New York Times.

Old but Good

A young lady sat next to a distinguished bishop at a church dinner. She was rather awed by the bishop's presence. For some time she hesitated to speak to him. Finally, seeing some bananas passed, she seized the opportunity to start conversation with him and said:

"I beg your pardon, but are you fond of bananas?"

The bishop was slightly deaf, and leaning toward her, replied:

"Pardon me, but what did you say?"

"I said," repeated the young lady, blushing furiously, "do you like bananas?"

The bishop pondered the question gravely for a moment, and then answered: "It is a curious question, but if you wish my honest opinion, I have always preferred the old-fashioned night shirt."—Harper's Weekly.

St. Paul's Cathedral, London, contains the Chapel of the Order of St. Michael and St. George, which is used only once a year.

Discovers Great Gold Mine North of Toronto

Gold prospecting is among the world's romantic adventures, and in its annals that of the discovery of the great Hollinger mine, some 500 miles north of Toronto, in Canada. Thirteen years ago a young man, Ben Hollinger by name, was tramping through the low bush country of his eyes happened to light upon an outcrop of rock in a desolate waste. He struggled over to it, and on examination found it contained gold. Today the Hollinger mine rivals the great mines of South Africa, and last year outstripped the greatest of the world's gold mines, which had previously held the world's record for gold output. It covers 400 acres, and below its rugged surface run nearly 45 miles of tunnels and an electric railway system. The great mills roar day and night, and every month 900,000 gold leaves the refinery. There are more than 2,000 men employed in the mine, mostly working underground, and they never see gold at all. They are surrounded by gold, yet all they see is the dirty gray rock being scooped up and taken to the refinery.

Gates Disproved Charge That He Was Careless

John W. Gates' first large scale speculative venture, a merger of what many would-be plungers find on their Wall street raids. Late in the last century Gates was the main backbone of two steel companies, Federal Steel and American Steel and Wire, with a total capitalization of nearly $200,000,000.

These organizations were merged with the United States Steel corporation, but Gates was refused a place with the new combination. He was told his business methods were careless, whereupon he founded the Republic Iron and Steel company, which became a thorn in the side of the United States Steel company.

When Gates died in 1911 he left a fortune of nearly $200,000,000, which dispersed allegations of slush fund methods and the question that all plungers eventually are wiped out and become objects of charity.—New York Times.

Old but Good

A young lady sat next to a distinguished bishop at a church dinner. She was rather awed by the bishop's presence. For some time she hesitated to speak to him. Finally, seeing some bananas passed, she seized the opportunity to start conversation with him and said:

"I beg your pardon, but are you fond of bananas?"

The bishop was slightly deaf, and leaning toward her, replied:

"Pardon me, but what did you say?"

"I said," repeated the young lady, blushing furiously, "do you like bananas?"

The bishop pondered the question gravely for a moment, and then answered: "It is a curious question, but if you wish my honest opinion, I have always preferred the old-fashioned night shirt."—Harper's Weekly.

St. Paul's Cathedral, London, contains the Chapel of the Order of St. Michael and St. George, which is used only once a year.

Discovers Great Gold Mine North of Toronto

Gold prospecting is among the world's romantic adventures, and in its annals that of the discovery of the great Hollinger mine, some 500 miles north of Toronto, in Canada. Thirteen years ago a young man, Ben Hollinger by name, was tramping through the low bush country of his eyes happened to light upon an outcrop of rock in a desolate waste. He struggled over to it, and on examination found it contained gold. Today the Hollinger mine rivals the great mines of South Africa, and last year outstripped the greatest of the world's gold mines, which had previously held the world's record for gold output. It covers 400 acres, and below its rugged surface run nearly 45 miles of tunnels and an electric railway system. The great mills roar day and night, and every month 900,000 gold leaves the refinery. There are more than 2,000 men employed in the mine, mostly working underground, and they never see gold at all. They are surrounded by gold, yet all they see is the dirty gray rock being scooped up and taken to the refinery.

Gates Disproved Charge That He Was Careless

John W. Gates' first large scale speculative venture, a merger of what many would-be plungers find on their Wall street raids. Late in the last century Gates was the main backbone of two steel companies, Federal Steel and American Steel and Wire, with a total capitalization of nearly $200,000,000.

ROBBED BANK "JUST FOR FUN"

Norma Anderson, 17, robbed a bank at Farmington, Ill., of $1,145, while holding her 2-year-old baby in her arms. Then she forced a taxi driver, at the point of a gun, to drive her to a friend's home in a nearby town. Here officers arrested her and recovered the money. In the county jail at Leavenworth, Ill., she says she "did it for fun." Police are seeking two men believed to be involved.

The Nut Cracker

WHEN THE BABE MET PERSHING

"Well, John, (you don't mind me calling you John, do you?) I suppose you were happier than a Follies girl with a new scandal on her hands when you heard I had joined the National Guard."

"You are welcome, Mr. Ruth. We need men from all walks of life."

"Say don't mention walks to me. These American League pitchers walk me dizzy."

"I suppose you've done a lot of soldiering?"

"I hope you aren't trying to wise-crack me, Persh. I'm the hardest working guy in baseball."

"You have devoted some time, I presume, to your Infantry Drill regulations?"

"Well, one ain't hardly big enough for drilling, but you sure hit it right about her needing regulating. Why only last night—"

"What, in your opinion, Mr. Ruth, was the most important thing America got out of the World War?"

"That chain of Army and Navy stores."

"You know, it is not becoming of a soldier to indulge in levity, sir."

"Not even when you take a little ginger ale with it?"

"I don't think the good general sighed helplessly and opened a five-star sport extra which lay on his desk."

"By the way, what on earth has happened to the Athletics?"

Ruth (registering alarm). "You don't mean to tell me boys won a game?"

Pershing: "That reminds me, Gowdy was the first ball player to go to the front, wasn't he?"

Ruth: "Well, it certainly didn't take me time to quote them Braves, you know."

Pershing: "I really look for you to make a great record as an army man."

Ruth: "Well, if them cookies will get the ball over, I'll show you a record that is a record."

Discovers Great Gold Mine North of Toronto

Gold prospecting is among the world's romantic adventures, and in its annals that of the discovery of the great Hollinger mine, some 500 miles north of Toronto, in Canada. Thirteen years ago a young man, Ben Hollinger by name, was tramping through the low bush country of his eyes happened to light upon an outcrop of rock in a desolate waste. He struggled over to it, and on examination found it contained gold. Today the Hollinger mine rivals the great mines of South Africa, and last year outstripped the greatest of the world's gold mines, which had previously held the world's record for gold output. It covers 400 acres, and below its rugged surface run nearly 45 miles of tunnels and an electric railway system. The great mills roar day and night, and every month 900,000 gold leaves the refinery. There are more than 2,000 men employed in the mine, mostly working underground, and they never see gold at all. They are surrounded by gold, yet all they see is the dirty gray rock being scooped up and taken to the refinery.

Gates Disproved Charge That He Was Careless

John W. Gates' first large scale speculative venture, a merger of what many would-be plungers find on their Wall street raids. Late in the last century Gates was the main backbone of two steel companies, Federal Steel and American Steel and Wire, with a total capitalization of nearly $200,000,000.

These organizations were merged with the United States Steel corporation, but Gates was refused a place with the new combination. He was told his business methods were careless, whereupon he founded the Republic Iron and Steel company, which became a thorn in the side of the United States Steel company.

When Gates died in 1911 he left a fortune of nearly $200,000,000, which dispersed allegations of slush fund methods and the question that all plungers eventually are wiped out and become objects of charity.—New York Times.

Old but Good

A young lady sat next to a distinguished bishop at a church dinner. She was rather awed by the bishop's presence. For some time she hesitated to speak to him. Finally, seeing some bananas passed, she seized the opportunity to start conversation with him and said:

"I beg your pardon, but are you fond of bananas?"

The bishop was slightly deaf, and leaning toward her, replied:

"Pardon me, but what did you say?"

"I said," repeated the young lady, blushing furiously, "do you like bananas?"

The bishop pondered the question gravely for a moment, and then answered: "It is a curious question, but if you wish my honest opinion, I have always preferred the old-fashioned night shirt."—Harper's Weekly.

St. Paul's Cathedral, London, contains the Chapel of the Order of St. Michael and St. George, which is used only once a year.

Discovers Great Gold Mine North of Toronto

Gold prospecting is among the world's romantic adventures, and in its annals that of the discovery of the great Hollinger mine, some 500 miles north of Toronto, in Canada. Thirteen years ago a young man, Ben Hollinger by name, was tramping through the low bush country of his eyes happened to light upon an outcrop of rock in a desolate waste. He struggled over to it, and on examination found it contained gold. Today the Hollinger mine rivals the great mines of South Africa, and last year outstripped the greatest of the world's gold mines, which had previously held the world's record for gold output. It covers 400 acres, and below its rugged surface run nearly 45 miles of tunnels and an electric railway system. The great mills roar day and night, and every month 900,000 gold leaves the refinery. There are more than 2,000 men employed in the mine, mostly working underground, and they never see gold at all. They are surrounded by gold, yet all they see is the dirty gray rock being scooped up and taken to the refinery.

Gates Disproved Charge That He Was Careless

John W. Gates' first large scale speculative venture, a merger of what many would-be plungers find on their Wall street raids. Late in the last century Gates was the main backbone of two steel companies, Federal Steel and American Steel and Wire, with a total capitalization of nearly $200,000,000.

These organizations were merged with the United States Steel corporation, but Gates was refused a place with the new combination. He was told his business methods were careless, whereupon he founded the Republic Iron and Steel company, which became a thorn in the side of the United States Steel company.

When Gates died in 1911 he left a fortune of nearly $200,000,000, which dispersed allegations of slush fund methods and the question that all plungers eventually are wiped out and become objects of charity.—New York Times.

Old but Good

A young lady sat next to a distinguished bishop at a church dinner. She was rather awed by the bishop's presence. For some time she hesitated to speak to him. Finally, seeing some bananas passed, she seized the opportunity to start conversation with him and said:

"I beg your pardon, but are you fond of bananas?"

The bishop was slightly deaf, and leaning toward her, replied:

"Pardon me, but what did you say?"

"I said," repeated the young lady, blushing furiously, "do you like bananas?"

The bishop pondered the question gravely for a moment, and then answered: "It is a curious question, but if you wish my honest opinion, I have always preferred the old-fashioned night shirt."—Harper's Weekly.

St. Paul's Cathedral, London, contains the Chapel of the Order of St. Michael and St. George, which is used only once a year.

Discovers Great Gold Mine North of Toronto

Gold prospecting is among the world's romantic adventures, and in its annals that of the discovery of the great Hollinger mine, some 500 miles north of Toronto, in Canada. Thirteen years ago a young man, Ben Hollinger by name, was tramping through the low bush country of his eyes happened to light upon an outcrop of rock in a desolate waste. He struggled over to it, and on examination found it contained gold. Today the Hollinger mine rivals the great mines of South Africa, and last year outstripped the greatest of the world's gold mines, which had previously held the world's record for gold output. It covers 400 acres, and below its rugged surface run nearly 45 miles of tunnels and an electric railway system. The great mills roar day and night, and every month 900,000 gold leaves the refinery. There are more than 2,000 men employed in the mine, mostly working underground, and they never see gold at all. They are surrounded by gold, yet all they see is the dirty gray rock being scooped up and taken to the refinery.

Gates Disproved Charge That He Was Careless

Sports

SISLER GETS CERTIFICATE

Is Called Most Valuable Player in 1922

Chicago, June 11. George Sisler, first baseman and manager of the St. Louis Browns, was presented with a hand-somely mounted certificate, designating him as the most valuable player in the American League in 1922, but his team failed to win before a crowd of 26,000 in St. Louis yesterday. With Hoyt pitching fine ball, the Yankees blanked the Browns, 5 to 0.

Falk's home run in the thirteenth gave the Chicago White Sox a 3 to 2 victory over Boston yesterday. The venerable Larry Gardner, pinch hitting, added Cleveland to beat Washington, 4 to 3, while Philadelphia made three runs in the ninth to win from Detroit, 4 to 3.

In the Nationals Pittsburgh beat New York, 10 to 6. Brooklyn beat Chicago, 4 to 2, with Dutch Reuther hurling. Jess Barnes pitched good ball against St. Louis, and Boston won, 6 to 2, while three home runs enabled Cincinnati to beat Philadelphia, 4 to 2.

BASEBALL

American Association	W.	L.	Pct.
St. Paul	34	17	.667
Indianapolis	29	22	.569
Louisville	28	23	.548
Kansas City	24	25	.490
Columbus	22	25	.468
Minneapolis	22	26	.458
Milwaukee	18	27	.400
Toledo	17	27	.389

National League	W.	L.	Pct.
New York	30	18	.625
Chicago	28	20	.583
Brooklyn	25	20	.556
Cincinnati	25	22	.528
Boston	21	22	.488
Pittsburgh	21	25	.457
St. Louis	19	23	.450
Philadelphia	15	28	.349

American League	W.	L.	Pct.
Boston	25	18	.581
New York	25	18	.581
Detroit	27	22	.551
St. Louis	23	23	.500
Washington	21	24	.467
Chicago	20	23	.465
Cleveland	19	24	.442
Philadelphia	18	26	.409

Games Today	Time
American Association	2:00
Milwaukee at Columbus
Kansas City at Toledo
St. Paul at Indianapolis
Minneapolis at Louisville
National League	3:00
St. Louis at Boston
Cincinnati at Philadelphia
Chicago at Brooklyn
Pittsburgh at New York

American League	Time
Washington at St. Louis	3:00
Boston at Cleveland
New York at Detroit
Philadelphia at Chicago

RAILROADERS WIN GAME

The Transportation team defeated the Hardware in the City Commercial Baseball League last night, 15 to 4. The rain storm stopped the game after four and a half innings. Free hitting marked the contest. Perhaps no two managers fear it more than Miller Huggins of the Yankees and John McGraw of the Giants.

Billy Evans Says

Not down Mr. Weather Man as a pennant factor. He will have considerable to say as to who will win the 1924 flag in the major leagues. The double-header menace is already looming up big before the eyes of a half dozen major league leaders. Perhaps no two managers fear it more than Miller Huggins of the Yankees and John McGraw of the Giants.

The leaders of the two pennant winning New York clubs must overcome it if they are to repeat. Practically every major league leader is seeking pitching strength. The staffs of many of the big league clubs are unbalanced. Several have capable first string men, but none for relief or emergency work. Some have only one or two first string men with many promising recruits.

Double headers are a great strain on a pitching staff. Proper selection of pitchers must be guided by the best the next receive between starts. A succession of double headers often so throws a staff out of routine that it is weeks before it is back in shape and running smoothly again.

It is doubtful if there ever has been a worse spring for baseball than the 1924 brand. During the first two months of play there were not more than a dozen really good days. Many games were played under unfavorable conditions. The result: many double headers for later on.

THIS TINY MITE DIRECTS HUSKY VARSITY OARSMEN

TAD SHEPHERD

The youngest oxcart in 15-year-old Tad Shepherd, who guides the husky eight-oar varsity crew of the Episcopal Academy of Philadelphia which was entered in the Yale regatta at Derby, Conn. Shepherd weighs 55 pounds with his megaphone.

Old Catching Stars Begin To Pass Out in Both Leagues—Brooklyn Kid Best of Newcomers

By Billy Evans
The standard of major league catching is constantly fluctuating. Good catchers seem to run in cycles. When a crop of veteran stars begin to fade for a few years the catching end of the game suffers. With the quality of major league catchers starting to drop below par, the star of several famous receivers called to the rookies.

In James W. Taylor of the Brooklyn Superbas the National League believes it has one of the coming stars, a catcher who will soon take his place with the leaders.

In the American League time and service is beginning to show on the brilliant Ray Schalk, the clever Steve O'Neill and the hard-working Wally Schang. Hank Severid is one veteran who seems as good as ever.

Veterans Slowing Up
A similar condition exists in the National League. Several of the stars of yesterday are beginning to slow up. Any number of major league leaders are crying for catchers.

Take the Giants of today. The catching staff is made up of three veterans, Hank Gowdy, Frank Sayder and Eddie Ahlsmith. All have passed the 30 mark.

A few years ago the National League picked up two great young catchers in "Butch" Hentline and Bob O'Rearrell. Manager Bill Killefer benefited by the bad spring. The Chicago White Sox, for instance, have been without a manager and two of their best pitchers, Fisher and Robertson.

The Cleveland club suffered a general slump, and the Detroit team suffered for a time because of injuries to a trio of regular pitchers.

Undoubtedly, the first string pitching staff of the Yankees, which will have to carry most of the burden, will be put to a hard test because of the many double headers.

A similar condition exists with the Giants. McGraw's reserve strength is probably stronger than the Yankees, but he lacks as many capable first string men.

Manager Miller Huggins of the Yankees isn't much concerned about the state of affairs. "It's just as hard for the other club to win double headers, if not a little harder," was his laconic observation.

Don't Blame Clubs If You Can't Putt

BY JOE WILLIAMS
In the matter of putting one style seems to be about as good as another. Likewise one style of putter as efficacious as another. A true, steady swing and a feeling of confidence in the implement, that is about all there is to putting.

Yep, the Duke Admits Teaching Is Royal Fun

Once the greatest swimmer in the world, Duke Kahanamoku, is now a swimming instructor in the Golden West, and a very competent one, if you must know. You see him here giving a lesson to a group of young men in the science of aquatics.

amateur championship, the first and only American ever to win it. The English, having never seen a Schenectady putter, attributed the American's unexpected success to the queer looking club and took immediate action being it from future tournaments. It was probably just as well that Evans' monstrosity didn't exist in those times.

The Nut Cracker

WHEN THE BABE MET PERSHING
"Well, John, (you don't mind me calling you John, do you?) I suppose you were happier than a Follies girl with a new scandal on her hands when you heard I had joined the National Guard."

"You are welcome, Mr. Ruth. We need men from all walks of life."

"Say, don't mention me to those American League pitchers walk me dizzy."

"I suppose you've done a lot of schlinging?"

"I hope you aren't trying to wise-crack me, Persh. I'm the hardest working guy in baseball."

"You have devoted some time, I presume, to your Infantry Drill Regulations?"

"Well, ours ain't hardly big enough for drilling, but you sure hit it right about her needing regulating. Why only last night—"

"What, in your opinion, Mr. Ruth, was the most important thing America got out of the World War?"

"That chain of Army and Navy stores."

"You know, it is not becoming of a soldier to indulge in levity, sir."

"Not even when you take a little ginger ale with it?"

At this point the good general sighed hopelessly and opened a five-star sport extra which lay on his desk.

"By the way, what on earth has happened to the Athletics?"

Ruth (registering alarm). "You don't mean to tell me they boys won a game?"

Pershing: "That reminds me, Gentry, the first ball player to go to the front, wasn't he?"

Ruth: "Well, it certainly didn't take me nerve to quite them Braves, you know."

Pershing: "I really look for you to make a great record as an army man."

Ruth: "Well, if them cookies will let the ball, I'll show you a record that is a record."

Discovered Great Gold Mine North of Toronto

Gold prospecting is among the world's romantic adventures, and there is no more thrilling story in its annals than that of the discovery of a great Hollinger mine, some 500 miles north of Toronto, in Canada. Thirteen years ago, a young man, Ben Hollinger by name, was tramping through the low bush prospecting when his eyes happened to alight upon an outcrop of rock in a desolate waste. He struggled over to it, and on examination found it contained gold. Today the Hollinger mine, rich and last year outstripped the greatest of them, the New Modderfontein, which had previously held the world's record for gold output. It covers 400 acres, and below its rugged surface run nearly 45 miles of tunnels and an electric railway system. The great month $7,000,000 in gold leaves the refinery. There are more than 2,000 men employed in the mine, mostly working underground, and they never see gold at all. They are surrounded by gold, yet all they see is the dirty gray rock being scooped up and taken to the refinery.

Gates Disproved Charge That He Was Careless

John W. Gates' first large scale speculative venture, barbed wire, is what many would-be plungers find on their Wall Street raids. Late in the last century Gates was the main backer of two steel companies, Federal Steel and American Steel and Wire, with a total capitalization of nearly $200,000,000.

These organizations were merged with the United States Steel corporation. But Gates was refused a place with the new combination. He was told his business methods were careless whereupon he founded the Republic Iron and Steel company, which became a thorn in the side of the United States Steel company.

When Gates died in 1911 he left a fortune of nearly $20,000,000, which disproved allegations of slipshod methods and the assertion that all plungers eventually are wiped out and become objects of charity. —New York Times.

Old but Good

A young lady sat next to a distinguished bishop at a church dinner. She was rather awed by the bishop's presence. For some time she hesitated to speak to him. Finally, seeing some bananas passed, she seized the opportunity to start conversation with him and said:

"I beg your pardon, but are you fond of bananas?"

The bishop was slightly deaf, and leaning toward her, replied:

"Pardon me, but what did you say?"

"I said," repeated the young lady, blushing furiously, "do you like bananas?"

The bishop pondered the question gravely for a moment, and then answered: "It is a curious question, but if you wish my honest opinion, I have always preferred the old-fashioned night shirt." —Harper's Weekly.

St. Paul's Cathedral, London, contains the Chapel of the Order of St. Michael and St. George, which is used only once a year.

ROBBED BANK "JUST FOR FUN"

Norma Anderson, 17, robbed a bank at Farmington, Ill., of $1,140, while holding her 2-year-old baby in her arms. Then she forced a taxi driver, at the point of a gun, to drive her to a friend's home in a nearby town. Here officers arrested her and recovered the money. In the county jail at Lewistown, Ill., she says she "did it for fun." Police are seeking two men believed to be involved.

COMPETITION INSPIRES NEW FRENCH SHIPS

Paris, June 10.—The keel of the first of the two great liners which the Compagnie Generale Transatlantique has undertaken to build for the Havre-New York service, to meet American and British competition, will be laid at Saint Nazaire during the course of next month. Plans call for the vessel to be put in commission during the summer of 1927.

The ship yards must guarantee a minimum speed of 20 knots in summer and 18 in winter. The new liner will be a quadruple turbine oil burner of 38,000 tons, about 725 feet long and developing 50,000 horsepower.

The building of another ship is in accordance with the agreement entered upon by the French government and the company, whereby the former increased the subsidy for transportation of the mail. Another ship will be built before 1929.

One of the main considerations in the bill granting additional subsidies to the French line, and guaranteeing the capital an interest on the new stock to be issued to finance the construction of the new ships, was that the United States ships of the American Line, had no merchant marine. Today, with the United States Lines, they have not only the ships built during the war but the German ships confiscated after the war, creating a formidable competition.

Homes under construction are being wired for radio.

The standard of dancing in London is higher than that of any other town or city in the world, experts say.

History mentions talking machines as early as the Thirteenth century. In 1702 Rev. John Wesley states in his diary, he saw at Lurgan, Ireland, a clock with an automaton of an old man, which, every time the clock struck, opened the door with one hand, drew back the curtain with the other, turned his head and then said in a loud, articulate voice: "Past 1, 2, 3," and so on. The inventor, a man named Miller, told Wesley that he had made many successful experiments and could make a man who could talk and sing hymns, but he was too busy on other work. In 1783 Abbe Mical presented to the French Academy of Sciences an invention that talked, but he later broke it up, having religious scruples. In 1877 Edison brought out his first talking machine, which, by the way, was first displayed in Paris.

The standard of dancing in London is higher than that of any other town or city in the world, experts say.

Homes under construction are being wired for radio.

The standard of dancing in London is higher than that of any other town or city in the world, experts say.

Homes under construction are being wired for radio.

The standard of dancing in London is higher than that of any other town or city in the world, experts say.

Homes under construction are being wired for radio.

The standard of dancing in London is higher than that of any other town or city in the world, experts say.

Homes under construction are being wired for radio.

The standard of dancing in London is higher than that of any other town or city in the world, experts say.

Homes under construction are being wired for radio.

The standard of dancing in London is higher than that of any other town or city in the world, experts say.

Homes under construction are being wired for radio.

The standard of dancing in London is higher than that of any other town or city in the world, experts say.

Homes under construction are being wired for radio.

The standard of dancing in London is higher than that of any other town or city in the world, experts say.

Homes under construction are being wired for radio.

The standard of dancing in London is higher than that of any other town or city in the world, experts say.

A Queen and Her Castle

They were seated in the living-room—Fred Henderson and his guest from the office—waiting for the dinner gong.

"Nice little home you have here, Fred. Everything so neat and in good taste. What's the recipe?"

"Credit the little woman in there. She's the home manager—art director, purchasing agent and general counsel on what to buy and how to buy.

"She knows! Reads the advertisements! Reasons that advertised goods must be right goods—in style, taste, quality; that they must be truthfully represented, and that they must be worth every penny asked for them. If they were not, the manufacturer making them or the dealer selling them could not long continue in business. Logical, isn't it?"

"Yes, sir, Bill, if I were as well informed on things to eat, clothes to wear and furnishings for the home as Louise, I'd kick up this bally job of mine and become an 'Expert Adviser to People Who Don't Read Advertisements.'"

ADVERTISEMENTS ARE YOUR EXPERT ADVISER ON BUYING WISELY—READ THEM ALL

Get Your WEDDING Announcements

THE TRIBUNE

All Styles, Printed or Engraved.

BISMARCK TRIBUNE CO.

TRIBUNE WANT ADS BRING RESULTS

GETS CREDIT FOR SERVICE, NOT ENLISTED

Paul Crum of Fargo Has Unique Recognition Accorded to Him by U. S.

FURTHER RECOGNITION

Fargo, N. D., June 11.—Paul Crum, now an attorney at Schuyler, Mont., son of Taylor Crum of Fargo, reputed to be the first citizen of the United States who was ever given credit for service with the U. S. army without being enlisted, may receive further recognition if a bill to place his name on the master roll of Co. E, First Nebraska Infantry, regiment, U. S. volunteers which served in the Philippines during the Spanish American war, is passed by congress.

The house committee on military affairs acted favorably upon the bill Wednesday, May 13, and passed in the house May 28, according to a letter received in Fargo from Rep. O. B. Burdette, and now goes to the senate committee for consideration.

Joined Co. E

Young Crum attached himself to Co. E, First North Dakota Infantry upon his arrival in the Philippines. Under a special act passed by congress and approved May 22, 1902, Crum is considered to have served as a private of the company from Feb. 3, 1899, to March 28, 1899. But when Crum turned in his equipment to the organization with which he had served without enlistment, he promptly proceeded to join the First Nebraska Infantry, which was still actively engaged with the enemy on the north line. He served as a private in this organization as affidavits, letters, passes and other documents issued in 1899 show. He participated as a private in the engagements in which his company took part during the Philippine insurrection.

Returning with the Nebraska organization, Crum arrived at the Presidio, San Francisco, July 31, 1899, and left the company on Aug. 22, before the regiment was mustered out. The purpose of the present bill is to give him credit for service up to the date that the company embarked at Manila, June 20, 1899. If this period of service is recognized by congress he would become entitled to the so-called McKinley citation for service against the Philippine insurgents after the close of the war with Spain.

Department Opposed

Officials of the war department were opposed to recognition of the Crum services during the war with Spain, because they held that the irregularity of his service, which would make his officers liable to be court-martialed, would establish a dangerous precedent. President Roosevelt became interested in the case at the time that he signed his support for the bill which was approved in 1902, despite the opposition of the war department.

Taylor Crum, father of Paul, secured a mass of testimony and affidavits from officers and enlisted men showing that the youthful soldier had actually served during the war. Through the co-operation and efforts of Representative Burdette the present bill was finally placed on the house calendar for private bills this year. The measure was finally passed this week, and the next move is up to the senate committee.

From a mass of evidence the following is taken from the testimony of Paul Crum's immediate commanding officers from the two regiments in which he served.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS

In the Matter of the Estate of Elizabeth A. Morris, Deceased. Notice is hereby given by the undersigned Sarah Morris, Executrix of the Last Will of Elizabeth A. Morris late of the city of Missoula in the County of Missoula and State of Montana, deceased, to the creditors of, and all persons having claims against, said deceased, to exhibit them with the necessary vouchers, within 4 months after the first publication of this notice, to said Executrix at the office of F. E. McCurdy in the city of Bismarck in said Burleigh County, North Dakota.

Dated May 16, A. D. 1924.

SARAH MORRIS,

Executrix.

First publication on the 2nd day of June, A. D. 1924. 6-2-9-16-23

DR. R. S. ENGE

Chiropractor
Consultation Free
Lucas Bldg. Bismarck, N. D.

NR TO-NIGHT

TOMORROW ALRIGHT

A Vegetable Relief

For Constipation

Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) a vegetable laxative with a pleasant, natural action. Relieves and prevents biliousness, constipation and sick headaches. Tones and strengthens the digestion and assimilation.

Get 25¢ for 50¢

Used for over 30 years

Chips off the Old Block

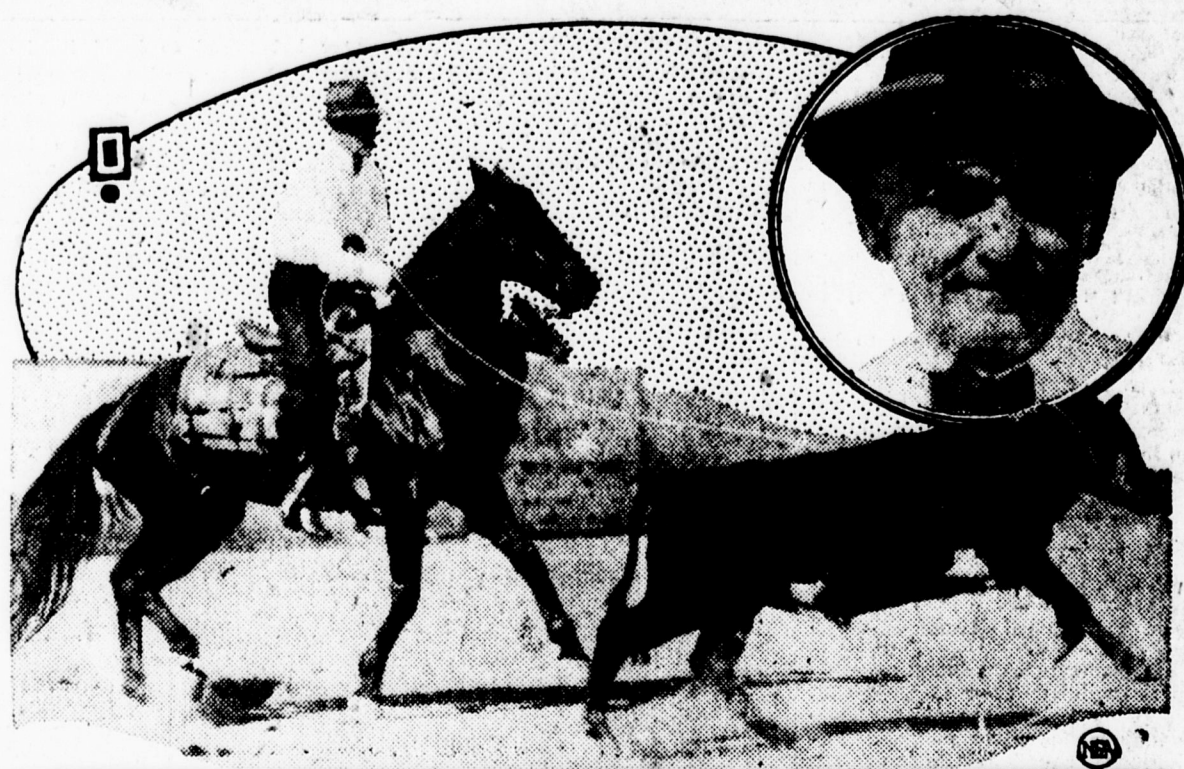

MR. JUMBERS—Little Mr.

The same old—in one-third does, candy-coated. For

SOLD BY YOUR DRUGGIST

AT 70, HE STILL THROWS THEM!

James Dahlman, mayor of Omaha for so long now he has become a tradition, has polled the pioneer vote in countless campaigns through the title "Cowboy Jim." And when his city held its first rodeo, the mayor proved his title meant something, after all. He challenged all ex-cowboys over 60 to a calf-roping contest. Though nearly 70 now, he easily won.

HE'S NOT HIDING

This man is not hiding from his wife. Nor playing a new kind of game. He is wearing the newest swimming cap, invented by A. G. Johnson of Washington, designed to keep water out of his eyes, ears and nose. He might as well stay home, eh?

URGE COULTER AS CANDIDATE

Agricultural College President's Name Is Considered

Fargo, June 11.—The name of Dr. John Lee Coulter, president of the North Dakota Agricultural college, may be presented to the Republican convention in Cleveland as a candidate for vice-president.

The fact was developed in several telegrams received in Fargo late yesterday, from Harrison Garnett, Republican national committeeman from North Dakota, as well as from William Stern, a member of the North Dakota delegation to the convention, and from other delegates. Proposals that the Fargo man's name go before the convention are based largely on the theory held by

STATE MILL AT GRAND FORKS NOW HAS LOSS OF $486,000, REPORT SHOWS

The North Dakota state-owned, state-operated mill and elevator at Grand Forks showed a loss account of $486,617.58 on March 31, 1924, according to a report made by deputy state examiners R. S. See and F. J. Seeba, under the provisions of law requiring the state examiner's department to examine the institution. The report has been submitted to the Industrial Commission which made it public. The last previous report was by O. B. Lund, employed by the state board of auditors to examine the bill, his audit being dated December 31, 1923.

"We have carefully checked the records covering receipts and disbursements for the period stated and checked same with the general accounts, all of which are in balance and entries properly made, so far as we are able to determine," says the report of the examiners.

The statement of assets and liabilities as of March 31, 1923, as given by the examiners follows:

Assets
Cash and due from banks	$ 67,001.38
Accounts receivable	67,021.23
Collections	417,658.10
Advances to employees	2,562.77
Options	39,555.13
Inventory	943,954.02
Prepaid expenses	20,089.39
Building	1,627,343.88
Machinery	1,179,111.84
Equipment	138,237.69
Cleveland customers acct.	12,852.93
Elevator Department	5,879.16
Railroad claims	3,749.00
Due on storage grain	710.67
Publicity account	2,400.90
Organization expense	4,640.17
Permanent improvements	121,341.99
Real Estate	5,985.00
Items to be re-rated (construction of buildings)	73,810.15
Suspense account	13.69
Profit and loss account	486,617.58
	$5,240,553.77
Liabilities
Capital—mill and elevator bonds	$4,000,000.00
Surplus—donated site	5,985.00
Reserve for depreciation	78,384.57
Reserve for bad debts	28,000.00
Accrued interest and expense	306,723.29
Accounts payable	47,617.52
Notes payable	447,176.52
Due shippers on stored grain	134,141.12
Liability on drafts discounted	178,753.45
Cleveland customers liability	12,852.93
Operating account	913.89
Suspense	5.43
	$5,240,553.77

Accrued interest and expense is shown to be $306,723.29.

so many Republicans that it would be wise to select, as the running mate of President Coolidge, a candidate for vice-president from the north central group of states—agricultural states—and a candidate who is versed in the problems of agriculture.

Dr. Coulter said last evening that he had received several telegrams from Cleveland, making inquiry as to his stand on certain important issues, such as the agricultural and soldier bonus issue. Dr. Coulter is himself a member of the American Legion.

Spiderweb coils are considered the best kind of inductances.

Fifty magazines have a department devoted to radio.

Eighty colleges and universities in this country operate broadcasting stations.

Rubber Paving Blocks

ROTARY HEARS FLAG MESSAGE

Judge Nuessle Delivers Eulogy to Stars and Stripes

"Flag Day" was observed by the Rotary club of Bismarck today.

Judge W. L. Nuessle delivered a eulogy on the flag, and told the Rotary club members of the origin of the Stars and Stripes and urged observance of Flag Day on June 14.

Dr. R. M. Towne told of a visit he and Dr. G. A. Rawlings made with the Grand Forks club when the two were attending the state dental convention. Dr. Towne also spoke of his visit to the University of North Dakota, and told the Rotarians that the state had an institution it could look upon with pride.

S. E. Bergeson, who came back from a trip to Brainerd, Minnesota, brought along some fish stories, but he also brought along evidence to back up his fish stories. He furnished the fish for the dinner, and the Rotarians voted it good.

The bachelors' club proposed the club send a resolution to the Toronto convention declaring wives of Rotarians should be eligible for club membership, but the married men, being in the majority, voted down the proposal.

Art Gussner talked on Barlow Skeels' birthday.

Sees Wheat Farmer Coming 'Into His Own'

Chicago, June 11.—The American wheat farmer "will come into his own" as a result of a wheat crop shortage in the northern hemisphere the world over,

George E. Marcy, president of the Armour Grain Company, declared today in a statement.

Wheat and rye should command high prices, he added.

"The United States wheat situation is different from almost anything which has ever existed," he said.

On the Steel Steamships of the Great Lakes Transit Corporation "TIONESTA" "JUNIATA" "OCTORARA"

PLAN your vacation this summer to include a cruise on the great inland seas. Luxuriously appointed ships—world renowned cuisine.

Passenger service exclusively every three days, stopping at Buffalo (for Niagara Falls), Cleveland, Detroit, Mackinac Island, Sault Ste. Marie, Houghton and Duluth.

Cruising Lake Erie-Detroit River-Lake St. Clair-Lake Huron-Straits of Mackinac-Lake Superior and numerous other bodies of water making the Great Lakes group.

ORCHESTRA DANCING

Tickets and Reservations at

All Tourist and R. R. Ticket Offices, or

G. C. Williams,
G. L. T. Corp.,
Duluth, Minn.

WILL PRESENT HOOVER'S NAME

Cleveland, O., June 11.—The California delegation met this afternoon and decided to present the name of Herbert Hoover to the convention for the vice-presidential nomination.

English almanac predicts the perfection of radio television by 1925.

Cook by Electricity. It is Cheaper.

Every Motorist Wants These No Matter What Car He Buys

Take any ten people, each preferring a different make of car, and you will find that every one of them wants:

Low operating cost
Constant serviceability
Trouble-free transportation

The degree to which any or all of the ten realize these advantages depends upon the measure of dealer co-operation obtainable locally, whatever the car choice may be. We recognize and live up to our local responsibility for every car we sell.

Lahr Motor Sales Company

When You Buy Red Crown

The High-Grade Gasoline

You Are Buying Service

GASOLINE as such means nothing to you—but the service you get from your car propelled by gasoline is what you pay for.

You buy Red Crown Gasoline because you believe in the Standard Oil Company (Indiana). You believe in its integrity. You have confidence in the ability of this Company to produce a gasoline of superior quality.

Every gallon of Red Crown Gasoline is a silent salesman for this Company. By its performance it must reflect the wholehearted, enthusiastic endeavor of this Company to merit your confidence.

Red Crown, the High-Grade Gasoline, is as good as the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) knows how to make it. You can depend on Red Crown Gasoline—and you can get it everywhere.

SOLITE

A Perfect Gasoline

is for the motorist who demands a little quicker action from his car and is willing to forego extreme economy.

At the following Standard Oil Service Stations:

8th and Main Sts.
1st and Main Sts.

And the following Filling Stations and Garages:

Bismarck Motor Co., 416 Broadway
Malms Service Station, 4th and Rossen St.
A. C. Dance, Menoken, N. D.
A. T. Welch, Menoken, N. D.
Baldwin Hdw. Co., Baldwin, N. D.
Rupp Bros. Hdw. Co., Baldwin, N. D.
Val Benz, Moffit, N. D.

Standard Oil Company, Bismarck, N. D. (Indiana)